COMMERCIAL RETROSPECT.

[From the London Mercantile Journal.—May 2, 1836.]

Our Manufacturing Districts continue prosperous, and have every prospect of remaining so. The demand for the United States continues very extensive.

Owing to the throwing out of the Great Northern Railway in the House of Commons last week, the demand for Railway Shares has declined considerably this week, and prices generally have drooped. A greater candidate for public favour than any Railway has made its appearannce this week, in "The Colonial Bank," which has been speculated in to a great extent, and the Shares were 10½ premium on Friday. To-day they have been 9½ premium.

WOOL.—For all descriptions of British Wools there has been a very brisk and general demand, the quantity left unsold is very small; low qualities of Foreign are selling very extensively. There is a revival in the demand for German, an extensive business having been done at stiffer prices: Spanish has been much inquired after, and the arrivals last week were eagerly bought up.

The public sales of 1200 bales of sundry descriptions, mostly of very ordinary quality, fetched high prices; Cape sold at 1s. 1½d. to 2s. 4½d. and 2s. 5d.—Dutch 1s. to 1s. 4d. Russian 6½d. to 9½d.—V. D. Land 1s. 7d. to 1s. 10½d.—N. S. Wales 2s. 6d.—Turkey, in the grease, 5½d.—German lambs and skins 2s. to 2s. 8½d.—Spanish 2s. 1d.—German sheep 2s. to 2s. 1d. Large arrivals of the new clip from our Colonies may be looked for at the end of next month.

MAURITIUS.

Advices have been received from the Mauritius, by the Kerswill, and Mary, in Algoa Bay, to the 25th ult.—Grain of all sorts was scarce and dear, Butter was plentiful.—The best Sales of Cape Produce were, Wheat at 5:31 per 100 lbs.; Oats 3:56; Barley 3:25; Bran 2:80; Beans 4:86 a 5; Butter 36 cents.—Fish is down to 6½ per 100 lbs.—As the Stocks of Grain were short, and much wanted, a rise was anticipated.—Mooghy Rice was fetching 4 piastres per bag, and fine Rice 5 piastres; 200 bags of Gram had been sold at the high rate of 6:01 per bag. No Rice was allowed to be exported, on account of its scarcity,—the importations from January to June being 65,000 bags less this year than last. Sugars were high and scarce, and it was expected that when the new Crops came in they would still maintain their prices;—6:41 had been paid for indifferently coloured Syrups.

Copy of a letter from the Civil Commissioner of Swellendam, to the Hon'ble the Secretary to Government.

Swellendam, 26th July 1836.

SIR,—I regret to acquaint you, that I have just received a report from the Field-cornet of Zoetendal's Valley, that on the 21st inst. several pieces of timber, being part of a Ship, some bags, which appear to have contained sugar, and several dead bodies, male and female, have been washed on shore on the beach near Ratter River, adjoining the Reef L'Agulhas, but that there were not any marks, or other means, by which the name of the vessel or further information could be acquired, and no wreck has yet been seen on the coast; I therefore fear some vessel must have foundered off L'Agulhas.

I have given directions for a look out to be kept, and any goods which may come on shore to be taken care of and a list forwarded to me, also for the bodies to be interred.

I have the honor, &c. &c.

(Signed) HARRY RIVERS, Civil Commissioner.

The Hon. the Secretary to Government.

Copy of a Letter from the Civil Commissioner of Swellendam to His Excellency the Governor.

Swellendam, 1st August 1836.

SIR,—I lament to acquaint you that since my letter of the 26th ultimo, I have ascertained that bodies have been continually washed on shore from the wreck of a Vessel which appears to have been the Barque Doncaster, Capt. Pritchard, that sailed from the Mauritius about the 20th June.

Thirty-five male and eighteen female bodies, with five children, have been properly interred, but no traces of individuals could be made. They were nearly all naked, from which it is inferred that the vessel struck on the reef of Agulhas in the night, and sunk immediately. Limbs and parts of bodies, which appear to have been fourteen or twenty days under water; wearing apparel of all descriptions, and clothing with the regimental buttons of the 29th, 87th and 99th Regiments, and Royal Artillery and Engineers, all much torn, and bags which have contained sugar, are continually coming on shore. A quantity of loose letters and one Post-office box have been collected, which shall be forwarded, when dried, to the Postmaster General; and there are a number of books, which I shall retain until applied for by the agents of the owners, or other persons who may be acquainted with the unfortunate passengers.

The only clue to the names of the passengers is, a small memorandum book or journal, a little defaced, which I have reason, from comparison of dates and circumstances, to believe belonged to Dr. Page, of the Royal Artillery or Engineers, and it is there stated that the passengers were Capt. and Mrs. Weir, of the 29th Regt., Lieut. and Mrs. Walker, of the 99th Regt., Madam Wiehe and her daughter, Mrs. Saunders and family, Sergt. John Reid, of Royal Sappers and Miners, and 17 invalids. There are not any letters for the Cape, so that it does not appear that the Doncaster was intended to touch here.

The agents of Lloyds, or of the owners of the vessel, if they are known, will no doubt proceed to the spot. There is not at present any thing of value on the beach except two masts and the bowsprit. The wood-work, (part of the stern, on which the name is, and part of the head and bows,) is in very small pieces.

I have the honor to be, &c. &c.

(Signed) HARRY RIVERS, Civil Commissioner.

To His Excellency the Governor.

Copy of a Letter from SAMUEL PARLBY, Esq. to the Hon'ble Colonel BELL.

Kleine River Valley, 30th July 1836.

DEAR SIR,—As much anxiety may be awakened in Cape Town, by the vague and contradictory accounts which may reach the capital, of the late fatal shipwreck which has occurred on this coast, about 40 miles from my residence, I beg to forward you the following particulars, which I have obtained from my son, who went to ascertain if there were any survivors, or if any assistance could be afforded in this distressing calamity, as soon as the circumstance was known here.

The vessel wrecked is the Doncaster, Bark, as ascertained from fragments of the wreck which have been washed ashore, and she appears to have been on her voyage from the Mauritius to London. The loss of human life has, I lament to say, been dreadful, every living being on board appears to have perished! Already the bodies of 19 women and childen, and of 32 men and boys have drifted ashore and been buried. The scene of the calamity is about half a mile to the east of the point on the coast on which the Jessie, Capt. Winter, was lost, in 1829, and nearly opposite the residence of the Widow Swarts, whose husband was mentioned in the account of that disaster. Of the hull of the Doncaster not a vestige remains entire, all must have been dashed to pieces, as those parts which came on shore are shattered beyond description.

A Hottentot of the name of Hans Aventure, who was fishing on the coast, was the first person it appears who discovered some of the dead bodies washed ashore from the wreck, and from him it was ascertained that the ship had been ten or twelve days standing in and off the shore before the disaster happened, which is supposed to have taken place on the night of Sunday the 17th or the morning of the 18th instant.

The vessel was sometimes so near the shore that the voices of the crew were heard, and the sailors were observed climbing up the rigging occassionally—but it appears from the statement of those who reside on this part of the coast, that this is a common occurrence, as vessels coming from the eastward, and passing Cape L'Aguihas bear up, and meeting westerly winds, are frequently wind bound on this part of the coast. I beg to mention that the Field-Cornet LAURENS, of Soetendals Valley, in whose district the wreck is happened, is on the spot, and appears to be taking every possible care of the property washed ashore, of which the value I fear will be very trifling.

The following names were observed on the covers of books, pieces of boxes, and which have been picked up:

The Hon'ble Lady Colville, Russel Farm Hertfordshire, favored by Mrs. U (name obliterated) on the lid of a box. Mary Jane Saunders, on a music book. Miss M. J. K. Saunders, ditto. George Woolly, jun., ditto. Capt. Walker, 99th Regt. in a book. Wm. Macready, Esq., Elstone, Hertfordshire, favored by (name obliterated,) lid of a box. Robt. Saunders Esq., South End, in a book Robt. Saunders, Esq., Eltham, Kent, present from Mauritius, lid of a box. Author Edwards, 1832, ditto.

William Williams, Surgeon, on a bottle.

P. Dollar, in a book.

Qr. Master Serjeant O'Learney, 99th Regt. on the lid of a chest.

Wm. Hughes, 29th Regt. on do.

A. Hooks, Royal Irish Fusleers, No. 155.

L. Michiel Fearney, Sergeant, 29th Regt.

Soldiers Coats and Buttons of the 87th, 29th, 99th, and Royal Sappers and Miners. A tin case containing Claims for Compensation on the part of two Mauritius Planters.—Perhaps you may deem it proper to make known this intelligence through the medium of the Government Gazette, should none more satisfactory have reached Cape Town.

I remain, dear Sir, yours faithfully,

(Signed) SAMUEL PARLBY.

Swellendam, 26 July 1836.

MYNHEER,—Het doet my leed u te moeten melden, dat ik zoo even een berigt ontvangen heeft van den Veldkornet van Zoetendals Valley, dat op den 21 dezer, verscheidene stukken hout, gedeelten zynde van een schip, eenige zakken die met suiker scheenen gevuld geweest te zyn, en verscheidene doode ligchamen van mannen en vrouwen aan land zyn gespoeld, langs de strand naby de Ratel Rivier, annex de 'Rif L'Agulhas,' maar dat er geene merkteekenen of andere middelen gevonden zyn, waardoor men de naam van het schip of eenige verdere informatie kon erlangen, noch ook is het wrak langs de kust ontwaard. Ik vrees derhalve, dat een schip op de hoogte van L'Agulhas moet zyn gezonken.

Ik heb last gegeven om de noodige oplettendheid te betoonen, en om alle goederen die aan land mogten spoelen, te bewaren, en eene lyst er van aan my toe te zenden, als ook om de ligchamen te begraven.

Ik heb de Eer. enz.

Copy van eenen Brief van den Civilen Commissaris van Swellendam, aan Zyne Excellentie den Gouverneur.

Swellendam, 1 Aug 1836.

MYNHEER.—Het doet my leed UE. te moeten melden, dat sedert mynen brief van den 26 ultimo, ik vernomen heb dat er gestadig Lyken aan wal spoelen, van het wrak van een Vaartuig, verondersteld te zyn geweest de Bark Doncaster, Kapt. PRITCHARD, omstreeks den 20 Juny.

Vyf en dertig lyken van mans, en ach tien van vrouwen benevens vyf kinderen zyn behoorlyk begraven, maar er was niets waaraan men de individuen herkennen kon. Zy waren byna allen naakt, waaruit men opmaakt dat het vaartuig in den nacht op een der riffen van de Agullas heeft gestoten, en dadelyk gezonken is. Ledematen van Lyken, welke schynen veertien of twintig dagen onder water te zyn geweest. Kleederen van alle soorten, en militaire kleeding met regiments knoopen van het 29, 87, en 99 Regt. en Koninklyke Artillerie en Engenieurs, allen zeer gescheurd, en zakken welke suiker hebben bevat, spoelen gestadig aan wal. Een aantal losse brieven, en een Post Kantoor doos zyn mede aan wal gespoeld, welke, zoodra dezelven gedroogd zyn aan den Postmeester Generaal zullen worden gezonden, en er is een aantal boeken, welke ik zal bewaren, tot dezelve worden gevraagd door de Agenten der Eigenaars of andere personen die bekend zyn met de ongelukkige passagiers.

De eenige draad tot de namen der passagiers is een klein memorandum boekje of journaal, een weinig beschadigd. dat ik uit eene vergelyking van datums en omstandigheden reden heb te veronderstellen dat heeft toebehoort aan Dr. Page, van de Kon. Art. of Engenieurs, en daarin is gemeld dat de Passagiers waren Kapt. en Mej. Weir, van het 29 Regt. Lt. en Mej. Walker, van het 99 Regt. Mej. Wicke en hare dochter, Mej. Saunders en familie, Serj. J. Read, Kon. Sappeurs en Mineurs, en 17 Invaliden. Er zyn geene brieven voor de Kaap, zoodat het niet blykt dat de Doncaster bestemd was hier aan te komen.

De Agenten van Lloyds of van de Reeders van het schip, bekend zynde, zullen ongetwyfeld herwaards komen. Er is tegenwoordig niets van waarde op het strand, behalven twee marten en de boegspriet. Het houtwerk, (een stuk van de spiegel, waarop de naam is, en een stuk van de boeg) is in kleine stukken.

Ik heb de eer te zyn, enz.

MYNHEER,—Daar er in de Kaapstad groote ongerustheid kan zyn opgewekt door losse en strydige berigten, welke in de hoofdstad kunnen ontvangen zyn van de ongelukkige schipbreuk welke aan deze kust, omstreeks 40 mylen van myn verblyf heeft plaats gehad, neem ik de vryheid UE. de volgende byzonderheden te doen toekomen, welke ik heb bekomen van mynen zoon, die derwaards is gegaan, om te zien of er eenige overblyvenden waren, en of er eenige hulp by deze ramp kan worden toegebragt.

Het gestrande schip is de Doncaster, bark, zoo als ontdekt is uit stukken van het wrak, welke aan wal zyn gespoeld, zynde op reis van Mauritius naar London. Het doet my leed te moeten zeggen, dat het verlies van leven ontzettend is geweest, daar het schynt dat alle die aan boord waren zyn omgekomen. De lyken van 19 vrouwen en kinderen, en van 32 mans en jongens, zyn alreeds opgespoeld. Het tooneel der ramp is omstreeks eene halve myl ten Oosten van de punt der kust, waar de Jessie, Kapt Winter in 1829 is gestrand, en byna tegenover de woning van de Weduwe Swarts, wier man in het berigt van dat ongeluk vermeld is. Er is niets overgebleven van het wrak van de Doncaster, alles moet in stukken zyn geslagen, daar die deelen welke opgespoeld zyn boven alle beschryving verbryzeld zyn.

Eon Hottentot genaamd Hans Avontuur, die aan het strand vischte was naar het schynt, de eerste persoon, die eenige lyken ontdekte, welke van het wrak waren aan strand gespoeld, en uit hem maakte men op, dat het schip tien of twaalf dagen op de kust had af ena angezeild, voor het ongeluk plaats had, dat men veronderstelt dat heeft plaats gehad in den nacht van Zondag, den 17den, of denmorg en van Maandag den 19 dezer.

Het vaartuig is dikwyls zoo naby de wal gezien dat men de stem van het scheepsvolk kon hooren en tusschen beiden de matroozen en het want te zien opgaan,—maar het schynt uit de opgave dergenen die aan dit deel der kust wonen, dat dit niet ongewoon is, daar schepen uit de Oost, Kaap Agullas passerende, en westelyke wind ontmoetende dikwyls aldaar op een lager wal raken. Ik moet verder melden dat de Veldkornet Laurens, van Zoetendaals Vallei, in wiens district de schipbreuk heeft plaats gevonden op de plek is, en alle zorg schynt te dragen voor het eigendom dat opspoelt, hetwelk ik vrees dat van weinig waarde zal zyn.

De volgende namen zyn gevonden op de omslagen van Boeken en stukken van kisten welke aan wal zyn gespoeld

De Ed Lady Colville, Russel, Farm, Hertfordshire, onder besorging van Mej. U (naam onleesbaar) op het deksel van een kistje. Mary Jane Saunders, op een Muzykboek. Miss M. J. K. Saunders, do. George Woolly, Jun. do. Kapt. Walker, 99 Regt., in een boek. Wm. Macready, esq., Elstone, Hertfordshire, onder bezorging van (naam onleesbaar) Op het deksel van eene kist, Robert Saunders, esq., Eltham, Kent, present van Mauritius, deksel van een kisje. Author Edwards, 1836, do.

William Williams, Chirurgyn, op een bottel.

P. Dollar, op een boek

Kw. Meester Sergeant O'Learny, 99 Regt., op het deksel van een kist.

Wm. Hughes, 29 Regt., do.

Soldaten rokken en knoopen van het 87, 29 en 99ste Regement, en Koninklyke Sappeurs en Mineurs. Een blikken doos met Vorderingen op Compensatie, voor twee planters op Mauritius.

Misschien kan UE het noodig oordeelen deze publiek te maken door middel van de Gouvernements Gazette, indien er geen beter berigt in de Kaapstad ontvangen is.

Ik heb de eer te zyn, Mynheer, enz.

DISPUTE BETWEEN TWO GIANTS.

THE following characteristic conversation was recently overheard by a gentleman in Regent-street, early in the morning. Being ill in Bed, he did not see the parties, so as to be able to describe their appearance. He informs us it was preceded by the noise of a heavy carriage, which made a dead halt under his windows, and which went rapidly on again after the conference ended.

Gas.—Hallo! Mr. Steam, where are you posting away in this new sort of vehicle, puffing and blowing at such a rate, that you can't stop to civilly say "good morning" to an old acquaintance? I thought you were usually at Tower Stairs about this time.

Steam.- I have much more important business on my hands just now than to waste my time in gossiping with a fellow who does nothing but stand about on the pavement all night

Gas.—Much obliged to you for the compliment, though I would have you remember it is possible that those who make the least noise may yet do the most work. Philosophers rank me greatly your superior in power and capacity.

Steam.—You my superior! blockhead. Look to your sooty origin and disagreeable smell; born in a coal pit, and carrying the tale of your extraction wherever you go. Your power, such as it is, is often mischievously employed. 'Tis you who have so endangered the coal mine, that a naked candle cannot be used there, and but for Sir H. Davy's Safety lamp, the poor miners must have either worked in the dark, or at the peril of their lives.

Gas.—Not quite so fast, Mr. Steam, with your abuse. If my origin is obscure. there is, as Dr. Rock says, the more merit in rising into eminence. When your daily work is done, you sink into your native well, while my character once raised is ever sustained, for I am, as Sir H. Davy says, a perfect being, a permanently elastic fluid, not the mixed animal you are, who, but for the heat with which these despised coals supply you, would have no power at all, or scarcely existence. In charging me with a disagreeable odour, you, who have so often exhibited yourself at the Mechanics' Lectures ought to know that, when pure, I have none, it being in my case, what logicians call an accident, not a property; to reproach me, therefore on this account, is as unreasonable as to find fault with a labourer because he has not always his Sunday clothes on.

Steam.—Not idle display, Mr. Gas, but utility is the test of value. How can you have the assurance to compare yourself with me who am the grand factotum of modern labour, and rapidly superseding, in my various character, all power beside. I perform almost every description of work for man, in the steadiest and cheapest manner, so that he prefers me to wind, water, and even animals. What indeed is there which I cannot, and am not doing for him? I weave his garment grind his corn, cook his victuals, wash his clothes, row and tow his vessels, and, as you see, have begun to draw his carriages. I am a blacksmith, sawyer, pumper, distiller, refiner, &c; and by the testimony of the shampooing Mahomed of Brighton, the best doctor for half the ailments man is subject to. Besides, I never tire, want no rest, and work equally well in all climates. Now, Mr. Perfection, what do you do, in the useful way, comparable to all this. You light up the streets and shops, yes, and at a great expense and not without the assistance of flame. Then such is your ungovernable spirit and dirty habits, that you risk by explosion, or tarnish by smoke, the persons and property of those who admit you into their houses. In my opinion, you are only fit to stand at the corners of the street as a link boy, to light the gentlemen across the road.

Gas.—You appear, Mr. Steam, ready to burst with vexation, at the bare idea of my superiority; but that reproachful tongue happily acts as a safety valve. You are a drudge, I grant, and this boasting but reminds me of the organblower who, because he worked the bellows, claimed the merit of the music. A fig for your steadiness, when Mr. Watt was obliged to make so many contrivances (as governor, throttlevalve, damper, and fly-wheel.) to secure your working with any regularity, and not flying off at the first opportunity. Don't tell me of your convenient applications for the quantity of coals you consume, while the room you take up is such an obstacle to your employment on board ship, for long voyages, that Mr. Perkins, the engineer, expects that I might perform all the work you do, at half the expence and inconvenience.

Steam.—And at tenfold the risk! Do you expect that any man in his senses would put to sea with such a scape-grace workman as you are, who would presently turn mutinous and be ready to break through all restraint? Mr. Perkins, Sir, is better employed in contriving a cannon, in which my powers are to be employed for discharging balls one hundred per minute.

Gas.—You do but compliment my extraordinary power, Mr Steam, (so much more expansive than yourself,) when you allude to my violence. The fact is, I am impatient of confinement, of working in the menial way you do, and therefore seek my liberty. I delight to serve man in a nobler manner; in my illuminating splendour, I make up for the absence of the sun. turn his darkness into day, and aid in detecting and preventing crime. Neither am I, as you allege, dependent on flame for utility, nor is man afraid to trust himself with me on a much more critical element than water. Carrying him aloft in the balloon, I add wings to his grovelling body, transport him with ease and celerity to distant spots, and aid his sublimest discoveries.

Steam.—Expeditions more remarkable for foolhardiness than utility; that is to say, you tempt men, at a considerable expense, to break their necks in an uncommon way. My boats defy wind and wave, but your Machine is at the mercy of whatever gale may blow.

Gas.—Though man cannot, and probably never will be able to guide the balloon so as to be of extensive use in travelling, he may yet avail himself of the wind's direction, as river craft do of the tide, in pursuing his course. Besides having taken extensive surveys, he has ascertained many important natural facts in regard to the constitution of the atmosphere: that its density and warmth diminish with elevation in the ratio of various attractions; that air, collected from the highest regions, no way differs in constitution from that inspired in the closest quarters of a crowded city; that——

The temperate Mr. Gas would doubtless have gone on philosophizing, but Mr. Steam, hot with impatience, and probably jealous of the pleasurable life his rival led, hastily interrupted him by saying he could stay no longer. He therefore jumped up into his tug carriage, being engaged with Mr. Gurney, in the Regent's Park, while Gas quietly took himself off to the Eagle Tea Gardens, being also wanted by Mr. Green, to inflate his balloon for an ascent that evening.—Mirror

ORDINANCE

Enacted by the Governor of the Cape of Good Hope, with the Advice and Consent of the Legislative Council thereof,

For the creation of Municipal Boards in the Towns and Villages of this Colony, on which the Local Regulations of each shall be founded.

WHEREAS it is expedient that due provision should be made for the better regulation of certain matters and things of a local nature within the several Districts, Towns, and Villages in this Colony, and that Municipal Boards should be constituted and established therein for that purpose: Be it therefore enacted by the Governor of the Colony of the Cape of Good Hope, by and with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council thereof, that from and after the First day of October next, it shall and may be lawful for any Resident Magistrate, or Justice of the Peace, within the limits of his jurisdiction, and he is hereby required, upon a requisition made to him in writing to that effect by any number of resident Householders, not less than twenty-five, and severally paying taxes to an amount exceeding six shillings sterling per annum, and resident respectively within one mile of any one central place which shall be specified in the said requisition, to call a meeting of Householders paying such amount of Taxes as aforesaid, and resident within the limits aforesaid, to determine whether Municipal Regulations shall be adopted for the Town, Village, or Place intended to be erected into a Municipality.

II. And be it further enacted, That three weeks' notice at the least of the time and place of holding such meeting shall be given by the Resident Magistrate or Justice of the Peace, calling the same, by a printed or written notice affixed to some conspicuous place or places of public resort within the limits aforesaid.

III. And be it further enacted, That the chairman who shall preside at any meeting assembled as hereinbefore directed, shall read, or cause to be read, the requisition whereupon the meeting shall have been summoned, and shall require such resident householders as aforesaid assembled thereat, to determine, by majority of votes, whether municipal regulations shall, or shall not, be adopted and acted upon within the said intended municipality.

IV. And be it further enacted, That if at any such meeting it shall be determined by a majority of votes, that municipal regulations shall be adopted, then and in such case any such resident magistrate or justice of the peace as aforesaid, to whom such determination shall be notified by the chairman of such meeting, shall forthwith call another meeting of such resident householders as aforesaid, to be holden within seven days thereafter, in order to elect and appoint a committee of so many of such resident householders as aforesaid, as the said meeting shall deem expedient, to frame and draw up municipal regulations.

V. And be it further enacted, That the committee so to be elected and appointed, shall be chosen by such resident householders assembled at such meeting by majority of votes.

VI. And be it further enacted, That the committee so chosen as aforesaid, shall forthwith proceed to frame and draw up such municipal regulations as they may deem expedient, and shall submit the same, when prepared, to a meeting of such resident householders as aforesaid, to be called by the said committee upon seven days' notice to be given in manner aforesaid: Provided always, that such committee shall submit such regulations to such meeting as aforesaid, within one month from the date of their appointment, otherwise the said committee shall be ipso facto dissolved, and a new committee shall then and in every such case be chosen in manner and for the purpose aforesaid, at a meeting to be called by any such resident magistrate or justice of the peace as aforesaid, to whom such dissolution of the committee shall have been notified.

VII. And be it further enacted, That in such regulations it shall be the duty of such committee to fix the limits of the municipality, and to divide the municipality into wards, if necessary, and to fix the number of commissioners and wardmasters for the municipality or the several wards thereof, and to make rules for the classification and valuation of the immoveable property therein, and to frame all other regulations which shall be necessary, to enable the said commissioners to carry into effect the provisions of this Ordinance, or such of them as the said committee shall think expedient and necessary for the municipality.

VIII. And be it further enacted, That at the meeting to which such regulations as aforesaid shall be submitted by such committee, any resident magistrate or justice of the peace residing at or near such proposed municipality, shall preside as chairman: provided however, that such magistrate or justice shall not be a member of the said committee; and when there shall not be any such resident magistrate or justice of the peace not being a member of such committee present, then and in every such case any such resident householder as aforesaid, not being a member of such committee, present at such meeting, may be elected to preside as chairman at such meeting.

IX. And be it further enacted, That at such meeting the question shall be put by the chairman on each and every clause contained in the regulations submitted by the committee, seriatim, and afterwards on the whole of the regulations jointly; and a majority of votes shall decide whether such clause, or the whole of the regulations jointly, as the case may be, shall or shall not be adopted.

X. And be it further enacted, That the regulations adopted at such meeting shall forthwith be transmitted to the Governor of the colony for the time being, for the approval, amendment, or disallowance thereof, of the said Governor, by and with the advice of the Executive Council; and in case such regulations shall be approved, notice of such approval shall be given by Proclamation to be made in that behalf; and the said regulations shall be published in the Government Gazette, and shall thereupon become as legal, valid, and effectual, as if the same had been inserted herein;—and in the event of the said regulations being amended by the said Governor, by and with the advice of the Executive Council, the regulations so amended, shall be forthwith transmitted to the chairman of such meeting as last aforesaid, and in his absence, to any resident magistrate or justice of the peace residing in or near the said intended municipality, who shall forthwith, upon a notice of not less than seven days, call a meeting of such resident householders as aforesaid, and who shall, by a majority of votes, decide whether the said regulations so amended, shall be adopted or not; and if the regulations be adopted, the chairman of such meeting shall forthwith communicate such adoption to the said Governor, who shall forthwith give notice thereof by Proclamation, and cause the same to be published in the Government Gazette, and upon such publication, the same shall become as legal, valid, and effectual, as if the same had been inserted herein.

XI. And be it further enacted, That at any time within one month after the expiration of each and every year from the publication of any such regulations as aforesaid, it shall be lawful for the commissioners of any municipality, and they are hereby required, upon a requisition made to them in writing to that effect by any number of such resident householders as aforesaid, not less than twenty-five, to call a meeting of such resident householders as aforesaid, upon seven days notice to be given in manner aforesaid, for the purpose of adding to, amending or repealing the existing regulations, or any of them, by a majority of persons present and entitled to vote at such meeting; and the said regulations, after being so reformed, shall be forthwith transmitted by the said commissioners to the Governor, for the approval or disallowance thereof, or of any part thereof, of the said Governor, by and with the advice of the Executive Council; and such of the said reformed regulations as shall be approved of, shall be published in the Government Gazette forthwith; and proclamation of such approval shall be made, and the said reformed regulations, so approved of as aforesaid, shall thereupon become as legal, valid, and effectual, as if the same had been inserted herein, and the former regulations shall become null and void: Provided always, that nothing in any municipal regulations contained, shall be repugnant to, or inconsistent with, the true intent and meaning of the provisions of this Ordinance.

XII. And be it further enacted, That so soon as such original regulations as aforesaid shall have appeared in the Government Gazette, the resident magistrate of the district shall, and he is hereby required by a notice, of not less than ten days in manner hereinbefore provided, to call a meeting of such resident householders as aforesaid, residing within the limits of such municipality, to be holden for the election and choice of so many commissioners as shall have been specified in the said regulations to carry the same into effect; and the said commissioners for the municipality or the wards thereof respectively, shall be elected by a majority of votes of such resident householders as aforesaid present at such meeting; and any such resident magistrate or justice of the peace shall preside as chairman at such meeting.

XIII. And be it further enacted, That any person residing within the municipality, and being the proprietor of a house situate within the same, and who shall pay annually a sum of not less than one pound sterling in taxes, shall be eligible to be elected a commissioner for the purposes of this Ordinance, and shall be proposed at the said meeting by some person duly qualified to vote thereat, and shall be seconded by some other person in like manner qualified.

XIV. And be it further enacted, That every person who shall be elected a commissioner in any municipality in manner aforesaid, shall go out of office at the end of the third year from the said first election; and in place of such commissioners so going out of office a like number of other commissioners, to be elected as hereinafter provided, shall come into office, and remain in office for three years; and at the expiration of such last mentioned term of three years, shall in like manner go out of office and be succeeded by other commissioners, who shall remain in office for a like term of three years, and so on for ever: provided always, that any of such out-going commissioners shall be re-eligible, and may be re-elected, and shall in such case continue to act and remain in office, any thing herein contained to the contrary notwithstanding.

XV. And be it further enacted, That on the Monday immediately preceding the day on which any such term of three years shall expire, a meeting shall be holden, at such hour and place as shall be duly notified by the said commissioners, for the election of commissioners for the three years next succeeding; and such election shall proceed in such manner as is hereinbefore provided for the election of the first commissioners under this Ordinance.

XVI. And be it further enacted, That any commissioner who shall cease to possess any of the qualifications in the 13th section required for the eligibility of commissioners, or shall absent himself from the municipality for any period exceeding three months, or shall become incapacitated from fulfilling the duties of his office by mental or bodily infirmity or disease, shall ipso facto vacate his office; and that in case any person so elected a commissioner shall die, or become disqualified in manner aforesaid, or shall resign or refuse to accept the office of commissioner, or in case of any casual vacancy happening in any manner whatever in such office, notice shall be forthwith given by the acting commissioners to any such resident magistrate or justice of the peace as aforesaid, who shall forthwith, in the manner hereinbefore directed by this Ordinance, call a meeting of such resident householders as aforesaid, for the purpose of filling up such vacancy or vacancies.

XVII. And be it further enacted, That the said commissioners shall meet at such times as are specified in the municipal regulations respectively, at some convenient place or office previously publicly notified; and at such meetings it shall be lawful for any person to appear there and prefer any matter of complaint which he may think proper to make concerning any matter or thing done by force or in pursuance of, or under pretence of the provisions of this Ordinance, or the municipal regulations.

XVIII. And be it further enacted, That such commissioners shall meet at all other times and so often as at any previous meeting shall be determined upon, and it shall be at all times competent for any one commissioner, when three commissioners only shall have been appointed, and in all other cases for any two commissioners, by writing under his or their hands, to summon, upon at least forty-eight hours' notice, the commissioners for any special purpose therein named: and that at all meetings of such commissioners, any number, not less than one third of the whole number, when more than three commissioners shall have been appointed, and when only three commissioners shall have been appointed, then not less than two commissioners, shall constitute a quorum for transacting business.

XIX. And be it further enacted, That it shall be lawful for the said commissioners, elected in any municipality for the time being, acting in pursuance of any municipal regulations to that effect, and they are hereby authorised and required, to appoint during pleasure such treasurer and other officers as shall be specified in any such regulations, and to remove and displace the same.

XX. And be it further enacted, That it shall be lawful for the said commissioners, or any two or more of them, and they are hereby required, to take security from the treasurer to be appointed by virtue of this Ordinance, before he enters on the duties of his office, for the due execution of his office of treasurer, which security shall be to the full amount of the sum likely to be in the hands of the said treasurer at any one time: And in case any such treasurer shall neglect or refuse, for the space of one week next after his appointment, to give such security to the satisfaction of the said commissioners, then the appointment of every such person so neglecting or refusing shall be null and void to all intents and purposes, and the said commissioners shall, within three weeks then next, assemble and appoint some other fit and proper person to the office of treasurer, instead of the person so refusing or neglecting as aforesaid, and shall so assemble and appoint from time to time until security shall be given to their satisfaction as aforesaid.

XXI. HIS MAJESTY'S CUTTER "QUAIL."

[See Gazette, No. 1495, July 15]

This Vessel, which recently encountered such sad disasters, was towed into the harbour to-day, from Jersey, under Jury masts, by the sloop Sons of Commerce, of Cowes. The officers of the cutter have expressed a very grateful sense of the excessive kindness and hospitality which was shown them during their stay at Jersey, where the wreck of the cutter awakened the most unbounded sympathy among all classes of society. We understand that the Lords of the Admiralty have expressed their approbation of the conduct of Lieutenant Bisson, the officers, and crew of the Quail, in refusing to leave the wreck of that cutter, although in an unmanageable state in the Bay of Biscay, when offered to be removed into a French merchant brig.—Bell's Weekly Messenger, April 25.

COMMERCIAL RETROSPECT.

The imports of Colonial Produce have been very considerable this week, still the stocks of most commoditi are lower. The export trade from the port of London h again been considerable.

At Mark Lane prices of Grain have been on the decline. To-day Wheat has improved a trifle.

The diversified trade of our manufacturing districts still continue to flourish.

Railway Shares have been very lanquid all the week, with many more buyers than sellers, and the holders of the shares of roads without Bills have been glad to take what money they could get, both in London, and at Manchester and Liverpool. Money has been scarce, and discounts difficult to obtain even at high rates, owing to the Bank of England restricting its circulation. This has necessarily introduced much heaviness into every department of business.

The arrivals of vessels at our ports from all parts of the world have been very considerable since the change of the wind.

Some misunderstanding has arisen between the Courts of Holland and Prussia, in consequence of the latter having endeavoured to induce Belgium to join the German Tariff and Commercial Union.

Accounts from St. Jago de Cuba of the 31st of March state that the crop of Coffee was scarce, and would not exceed 4,000,000 lbs. The finest qualities are 16 to 17 rastres.

The latest commercial accounts from Lisbon to the 1st instant state, that the market for manufactured goods continued in every depressed state, and not at all likely to improve until after the harvests, which then promise abundant crops. The old commercial treaty ended on the 13th of April.

The Paper Trade have had a public meeting, at which they have petitioned the Chancellor of the Exchequer, that if the proposed reduction of duty on paper be carried, a drawback be allowed upon the stocks on hand.

The receipts of Cotton at Apalachicola from March 1835 to March 1836, were 40,226 bags, and the exports in the same period were 24 500 bags. The stock on hand including that on ship-board was 15,726 bags.—London Mercantile Journal, May 23.

Remarks on the Culture of the Olive,

(From the South African Quarterly Journal, vol. 1,)

By JAMES BOWIE, Botanist.

OLEA Europæa.—There are several varieties of this species of olive differing less in their fruit than in the form of their leaves; two of these have been introduced into the Colony,—one of them from England, in the year 1821, and the other variety I believe from France, since that period.

As the accounts of Travellers have led to many errors respecting the growth of the olive in this country, and the soil and climate being peculiarly adapted for its culture and also producing several indigenous kinds, I shall enter more fully into the subject than I at first intended, and give the various methods of propagation and treatment of the plantations when firmly established. Much as there has been written to induce the Colonists to cultivate this, it still remains neglected; though there is scarcely a tree from which so much benefit may be expected to be derived with less care and attention than the one in question.

The European Olive may be propagated by seeds, cuttings, truncheons, blocks, layers, and by grafting on the indigenous species.

Cuttings of 9 inches in length, taken from one year old shoots, should be planted in a rich light soil, and kept moderately moist; the ground ought never to be allowed to become very dry; these will root freely in a few weeks, and be fit for transplanting in 12 months.

Truncheons or stakes of the olive, two inches thick and five feet long, may be driven into the ground where they are intended to remain, and root freely.

Shoots of one or two years growth may be laid down, giving them a twist to crack the bark, or slit them half way through, when they root very readily. These operations should be performed in the month of August.

Grafting on the Olea Capensis, and other indigenous species of the Cape Olive, should also be performed in the month of August, and there is little doubt of the beneficial result of such practice, in procuring an early return of the green fruit for pickling, and the ripe fruit for oil. The scions or grafts should be placed rather low on the stocks, and the buds from the latter be carefully rubbed off as they make their appearance.

The longevity of the European olive tree is remarkable, as some plantations exist which are supposed to be those mentioned by Pliny: and, therefore must have existed nearly two thousand years, if not more, and still produce an abundant crop.

In France and Italy, an uncertainty prevails in the crops of olives; sometimes one that yields a profit, does not occur for six or eight years together; and hence it is considered that the culture thereof is less beneficial to the peasants of those countries than that of corn; but those circumstances do not appear to apply to this country, especially as the olive may be cultivated on ground which is impenetrable to the plough or spade.

The different kinds of South African olive trees are well known to the peasantry of this country, by the general appellation of olyvenhout boom, some of which attains a considerable size, and are useful as furnishing a hard and compact wood for cabinet work, and some more essential purposes of domestic economy. The Iron-wood of the Colony is in reality a species of olive, viz. Olea undulata.

The Boschjesmen sometimes form their keries and the well-known implement the graafstok, of the Olea capensis, and for the latter purpose it is peculiarly adapted on account of its hardness. Among those tribes the nuts are preserved by the mothers, and given occasionally to the children, who appear to devour the kernels with much satisfaction.

The Olea capensis is widely disseminated over the whole Colony, and inhabits alike the highest mountains, (where they maintain themselves by insinuating their roots into the crevices of the rocks,) the strong soil of the Karoo's, and the purer sands of the downs and sea shores. It is also found in the recesses of the forests, and along the margins of rivers. In the plains neighbouring the Sneeuwberg, the olive sheltered by piles of loose green stones or occasional schisturs rocks, attains a larger size than any of the other trees which occur at a distance from rivers. It is common from thence to the Gariep or Orange river. In that country they occasionally shelter the flocks and herds; and it is the kind so often confounded by botanists with the European species; but which differs in every essential specific character. It is recommended as stocks for grafting upon, until a sufficiency of the European kinds are produced from layers or cuttings to form permament plantations, as in strong soils and on the dry declevities of the hills, the trees of the Cape species are observed to shrivel in dry seasons and remain in a quiescent state like some of the succulent tribes, until refreshed by copious showers of rain. This circumstance might sometimes injure a foreign scion on these stocks, but such remains to be proved.

The olives for eating are gathered in a green state, and merely pickled in salt and water.

Olive oil is expressed from the ripe fruit, which becomes black at maturity. It is crushed in a mill of a simple construction into a kind of paste, which is put in hair bags and subjected to a press, beneath which a vessel is placed with water somewhat warm, into which the oil drops, and is then skimmed from the surface. A second and third pressure is sometimes performed.

The fruit ought to be crushed in a fresh state, and not allowed to heat before the operation is performed. In Spain, which produces the finest olives, the worst oil is manufactured, the fruit being suffered to remain in heaps whereby it becomes heated and a rancid acrid oil is only obtained

FRIDAY, AUGUST 26, 1836.

AT the Court at St. James's, the 13th day of April 1836,

PRESENT,

The KING's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by a certain Act of Parliament, made in the fourth year of the reign of His present Majesty, intituled "An Act to regulate the trade of the British possessions abroad," it is, amongst other things, enacted, that it shall be lawful for His Majesty, by and with the advice of His Privy Council, by any Order or Orders in Council to be issued from time to time, to give such directions and make such regulations, touching the trade and commerce to and from any British possessions on or near the Continent of Europe, or within the Mediterranean Sea, or in Africa, or within the limits of the East India Company's charter (except the possessions of the said Company), as to His Majesty in Council shall appear most expedient and salutary:

And whereas by the same Act, after reciting that it was expedient to constitute and appoint some of the free ports, and other ports in America, to be free warehousing ports for all or any of the goods which may be legally imported into such ports respectively, it is enacted, that certain ports therein enumerated and described should be free warehousing ports for all the purposes of the said Act; and whereas by the same Act various enactments, with reference to the ports so made free warehousing ports as aforesaid, are contained in the words following, that is to say:

And that it shall be lawful for the several collectors and controllers of the said ports respectively, by notice in writing under their hands, to appoint from time to time such warehouses at such ports respectively, as shall be approved of by them, for the free warehousing and securing of goods therein for the purposes of this Act; and also in such notice to declare, what sort of goods may be so warehoused; and also, by like notice, to revoke or alter any such appointment or declaration; provided always, that every such notice shall be transmitted to the Governor of the place, and shall be published in such manner as he shall direct:

And be it further enacted, that it shall be lawful for the importer of any such goods into the said ports, to warehouse the same in the warehouses so appointed, without payment of any duty on the first entry thereof; subject, nevertheless, to the rules, regulations, restrictions, and conditions hereinafter contained:

And be it further enacted, that all goods so warehoused shall be stowed in such parts or divisions of the warehouse, and in such manner, as the collector and controller shall direct; and that the warehouse shall be locked and secured in such manner, and shall be opened and visited only at such times, and in the presence of such officers, and under such rules and regulations, as the collector and controller shall direct; and that all such goods shall, after being landed upon importation, be carried to the warehouse, or shall, after being taken out of the warehouse for exportation, be carried to be shipped, under such rules and regulations as the collector and controller shall direct:

And be it further enacted, that upon the entry of any goods to be warehoused, the importer of such goods, instead of paying down the duties due thereon, shall give bond, with two sufficient sureties, to be approved of by the collector or controller, in treble the duties payable on such goods, with condition for the safe depositing of such goods in the warehouse mentioned in such entry, and for the payment of all duties due upon such goods, or for the exportation thereof, according to the first account taken of such goods upon the landing of the same; and with further condition, that no part thereof shall be taken out of such warehouse until cleared from thence upon due entry and payment of duty, or upon due entry for exportation; and with further condition, that the whole of such goods shall be so cleared from such warehouse, and the duties upon any deficiency of the quantity, according to such first account, shall be paid within two years from the date of the first entry thereof; and if, after such bond shall have been given, the goods, or any part thereof, shall be sold or disposed of, so that the original bonder shall be no longer interested in, or have any controul over, the same, it shall be lawful for the collector or controller to admit fresh security to be given by the bond of the new proprietor or other person having controul over such goods, with his sufficient sureties, and to cancel the bond given by the original bonder of such goods, or to exonerate him to the extent of the fresh security so given:

And be it further enacted, that if any goods which have been entered to be warehoused shall not be duly carried and deposited in the warehouse, or shall afterwards be taken out of the warehouse without due entry and clearance, or, having been entered and cleared for exportation from the warehouse, shall not be duly carried and shipped, or shall afterwards be relanded, except with permission of the proper officer of the customs, such goods shall be forfeited:

And be it further enacted, that upon the entry and landing of any goods to be warehoused, the proper officer of the customs shall take a particular account of the same, and shall mark the contents on each package, and shall enter the same in a book to be kept for that purpose; and no goods which have been so warehoused shall be taken or delivered from the warehouse, except upon due entry, and under care of the proper officers for exportation, or upon due entry and payment of duty for home use; and whenever the whole of the goods warehoused under any entry shall be cleared from the warehouse, or whenever further time shall be granted for any such goods to remain warehoused, an account shall be made out of the quantity upon which the duties have been paid, and of the quantity exported, and of the quantity (to be then ascertained) of the goods still remaining in the warehouse, as the case may be, deducting from the whole the quantity contained in any whole packages (if any) which may have been abandoned for the duties; and if upon such account there shall in either case appear to be any deficiency of the original quantity, the duty payable upon the amount of such deficiency shall then be paid:

And be it further enacted, that it shall be lawful for the collector or controller, under such regulations as they shall see fit, to permit moderate samples to be taken of any goods so warehoused without entry, and without payment of duty, except as the same shall eventually become payable, as on a deficiency of the original quantity:

And be it further enacted, that it shall be lawful for the collector and controller, under such regulations as they shall see fit, to permit the proprietor, or other person having control over any goods so warehoused, to sort, separate, and pack and repack any such goods, and to make such lawful alterations therein, or arrangements and assortments thereof, as may be necessary for the preservation of such goods, or in order to the sale, shipment, or legal disposal of the same; and also to permit any parts of such goods so separated to be destroyed, but without prejudice to the claim for duty upon the whole original quantity of such goods; provided always, that it shall be lawful for any person to abandon any whole packages to the officers of the customs for the duties, without being liable to any duty upon the same:

And be it further enacted, that goods warehoused at any warehousing port in any of the British possessions in America, being first duly entered, may be delivered, under the authority of the proper officer of the customs, without payment of duty, except for any deficiency thereof, for the purpose of removal to another warehousing port in the same possession, under bond, to the satisfaction of such officer, for the due arrival and warehousing of such goods at such other port:

And be it further enacted, that all goods which have been so warehoused or rewarehoused shall be duly cleared, either for exportation or for home consumption, within two years from the day of the first entry for the warehousing thereof; and if any such goods be not so cleared, it shall be lawful for the collector and controller to cause the same to be sold, and the produce shall be applied, first, to the payment of the duties, next, of warehouse rent and other charges, and the overplus (if any) shall be paid to the proprietor; provided always, that it shall be lawful for the collector and controller to grant further time for any such goods to remain warehoused, if they shall see fit so to do:

And be it further enacted, that upon the entry outwards of any goods to be exported from the warehouse, the person entering the same shall give security, by bond, in treble the duties of importation on the quantity of such goods, with two sufficient sureties, to be approved by the collector or controller, that the same shall be landed at the place for which they be entered outwards, or be otherwise accounted for to the satisfaction of the collector and controller:

And be it further enacted, that all vessels, boats, carriages, and cattle made use of in the removal of any goods liable to forfeiture under this Act shall be forfeited; and every person who shall assist, or be otherwise concerned, in the unshipping, landing, or removal, or in the harbouring of such goods, or into whose hands or possession the same shall knowingly come, shall forfeit the treble value thereof, or the penalty of one hundred pounds, at the election of the officers of the customs; and the averment in any information or libel to be exhibited for the recovery of such penalty, that the officer proceeding has elected to sue for the sum mentioned in the information, shall be deemed sufficient proof of such election, without any other or further evidence of such fact:

And be it further enacted, that all goods, and all ships, vessels, and boats, and all carriages, and all cattle, liable to forfeiture under this Act, shall and may be seized and secured by any officer of the customs or navy, or by any person employed for that purpose, by or with the concurrence of the commissioners of His Majesty's customs; and every person who shall, in any way, hinder, oppose, molest, or obstruct any officer of the customs or navy, or any person so employed as aforesaid, in the exercise of his office, or any person acting in his aid or assistance, shall, for every such offence, forfeit the sum of two hundred pounds:

And be it further enacted, that, under authority of a writ of assistance granted by the superior or Supreme Court of Justice, or Court of Vice Admiralty having jurisdiction in the place, who are hereby authorised and required to grant such writ of assistance upon application made to them for that purpose by the principal officers of His Majesty's customs, it shall be lawful for any officer of the customs, taking with him a peace officer, to enter any building or other place in the daytime, and to search for and seize and secure any goods liable to forfeiture under this Act, and, in case of necessity, to break open any doors and any chests or other packages for that purpose; and such writ of assistance, when issued, shall be deemed to be in force during the whole of the reign in which the same shall have been granted, and for twelve months from the conclusion of such reign:

And be it further enacted, that if any person shall, by force or violence, assault, resist, oppose, molest, hinder, or obstruct any officer of the customs or navy, or other person employed as aforesaid, in the exercise of his office, or any person acting in his aid or assistance, such person, being thereof convicted, shall be adjudged a felon, and shall be proceeded against as such, and punished at the discretion of the court before whom such person shall be tried:

And be it further enacted, that all things which shall be seized as being liable to forfeiture under this Act, or under any Act made for the prevention of smuggling, or relating to the revenue of customs, or to trade or navigation, shall be taken forthwith and delivered into the custody of the collector and controller of the customs at the Custom-house next to the place where the same were seized, who shall secure the same by such means, and in such manner, as shall be provided and directed by the Commissioners of His Majesty's customs; and, after condemnation thereof, the collector and controller shall cause the same to be sold by public auction, to the best bidder; provided always, that it shall be lawful for the Commissioners of the Customs to direct in what manner the produce of such sale shall be applied, or, in lieu of such sale, to direct that any of such things shall be destroyed, or shall be reserved for the public service:

And be it further enacted, that all penalties and forfeitures which may have been heretofore, or may be hereafter, incurred under this or any other Act relating to the customs, or to trade, or navigation, shall and may be prosecuted, sued for, and recovered in any court of record, or of vice-admiralty, having jurisdiction in the colony or plantation where the cause of prosecution arises, and in cases where there shall happen to be no such courts, then in any court of record, or of vice-admiralty, having jurisdiction in some British colony or plantation near to that where the cause of prosecution arises; provided that in cases where a seizure is made in any other colony than that where the forfeiture accrues, such seizure may be prosecuted in any court of record, or of vice-admiralty, having jurisdiction either in the colony or plantation where the forfeiture accrues, or in the colony or plantation where the seizure is made, at the election of the seizor or prosecutor; and in cases where there shall happen to be no such courts in either of the last mentioned colonies or plantations, then in the court of record, or of vice-admiralty, having jurisdiction in some British colony or plantation near to that where the forfeiture accrues, or to that where the seizure is made, at the election of the seizor or prosecutor:

And be it further enacted, that if any goods, or any ship or vessel shall be seized as forfeited under this Act, or any Act hereafter to be made, and detained in any of the British possessions in America, it shall be lawful for the judge or judges of any court having jurisdiction to try and determine such seizures, with the consent of the collector and controller of the customs, to order the delivery thereof, on security by bond, with two sufficient sureties to be first approved by such collector and controller, to answer double the value of the same, in case of condemnation; and such bond shall be taken to the use of His Majesty, in the name of the collector of the customs in whose custody the goods, or the ship or vessel, may be lodged, and such bond shall be delivered and kept in the joint custody of such collector and his controller; and, in case the goods, or the ship or vessel, shall be condemned, the value thereof shall be paid into the hands of such collector, who shall thereupon, with the consent or privity of his controller, cancel such bond:

And be it further enacted, that no suit shall be commenced for the recovery of any penalty or forfeiture under this Act, except in the name of some superior officer of the customs or navy, or other person employed as hereinbefore mentioned, or of His Majesty's Advocate or Attorney-General for the place where such suit shall be commenced; and if a question shall arise, whether any person is an officer of the customs or navy, or such other person as aforesaid, vivâ voce evidence may be given of such a fact, and shall be deemed legal and sufficient evidence:

And be it further enacted, that if any goods shall be seized for nonpayment of duties, or any other cause of forfeiture, and any dispute shall arise whether the duties have been paid for the same, or the same have been lawfully imported, or lawfully laden or exported, the proof thereof shall lie on the owner or claimer of such goods, and not on the officer who shall seize and stop the same:

And be it further enacted, that no claim to any thing seized, under this Act, and returned into any of His Majesty's courts for adjudication, shall be admitted, unless such claims be entered in the name of the owner, with his residence, and occupation, nor unless oath to the property in such thing be made by the owner, or by his attorney or agent by whom such claim shall be entered, to the best of his knowledge and belief; and every person making a false oath thereto shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanour, and shall be liable to the pains and penalties to which persons are liable for a misdemeanour:

And be it further enacted, that no person shall be admitted to enter a claim to any thing seized in pursuance of this act, and prosecuted in any of the British possessions in America, until sufficient security shall have been given in the court where such seizure is prosecuted, in a penalty, not exceeding sixty pounds, to answer and pay the costs occasioned by such claim; and, in default of giving such security, such things shall be adjudged to be forfeited, and shall be condemned:

And be it further enacted, that no writ shall be sued out against, nor a copy of any process served upon, any officers of the customs or navy, or other person as aforesaid, for anything done in the exercise of his office, until one calendar month after notice, in writing, shall have been delivered to him, or left at his usual place of abode, by the attorney or agent of the party who intends to sue out such writ or process; in which notice shall be clearly and explicitly contained the cause of the action, the name and place of abode of the person who is to bring such action, and the name and place of abode of the attorney or agent; and no evidence of the cause of such action shall be produced except of such as shall be contained in such notice; and no verdict shall be given for the plaintiff unless he shall prove on the trial that such notice was given; and in default of such proof the defendant shall receive in such action a verdict and costs:

And be it further enacted, that every such action shall be brought within three calendar months after the cause thereof; and shall be laid and tried in the place or district where the facts were committed; and the defendant may plead the general issue, and give the special matter in evidence; and if the plaintiff shall become nonsuited, or shall discontinue the action, or if upon a verdict or demurrer judgment shall be given against the plaintiff, the defendant shall receive treble costs, and have such remedy for the same as any defendant can have in other cases where costs are given by law:

And be it further enacted, that in case any information or suit shall be brought to trial on account of any seizure made under this Act, and a verdict should be found for the claimant thereof, and the judge or court before whom the cause shall have been tried shall certify on the record that there was probable cause of seizure, the claimant shall not be entitled to any costs of suit, nor shall the person who made such seizure be liable to any action, indictment, or other suit, or prosecution on account of such seizure; and if any action, indictment, or other suit of prosecution, shall be brought to trial against any person, on account of such seizure, wherein a verdict shall be given against the defendant, the plaintiff, besides the things seized, or the value thereof, shall not be entitled to more than two pence damages, nor to any costs of suit, nor shall the defendant in such prosecution be fined more than one shilling:

And be it further enacted, that it shall be lawful for such officer, within one calendar month after such notice, to tender amends to the party complaining or his agent, and to plead such tender in bar, to any action, together with other pleas, and if the jury shall find the amends sufficient, they shall give a verdict for the defendant, and in such case or in case the plaintiff shall become nonsuited, or shall discontinue his action, or judgement shall be given for the defendant upon demurrer, then such defendant shall be entitled to the like costs as he would have been entitled to in case he had pleaded the general issue only; provided always, that it shall be lawful for such defendant, by leave of the court where such action shall be brought, at any time before issue joined, to pay money into court as in other actions:

And be it further enacted, that in any such action, if the judge or court before whom such action shall be tried, shall certify upon the record that the defendant or defendants in such action acted upon probable cause, then the plaintiff in such action shall not be entitled to more than two pence damages, nor to any costs of suits:

And be it further enacted, that all penalties and forfeitures recovered in any of the British possessions in America under this act, or under any act made for the prevention of smuggling, or relating to the revenue of customs, or to trade or navigation, shall be paid into the hands of the collector or controller of the port or place, in the British possession in America where the same shall have been recovered, and shall be divided, paid, and applied as follows: that is to say, after deducting the charges of prosecution from the produce thereof, one third part of the net produce shall be paid into the hands of the collector of His Majesty's customs at the port or place where such penalties or forfeitures shall be recovered for the use of His Majesty; one third part to the governor or commander in chief of the said colony or plantation; and the other third part to the person who shall seize, inform, and sue for the same; excepting such seizure as shall be made at sea by the commanders or officers of His Majesty's ships of war, duly authorised to make seizures, one moiety of which seizures, and of the penalties and forfeitures recovered thereon (first deducting the charges of prosecution from the gross produce thereof), shall be paid as aforesaid to the collector of His Majesty's customs, to and for the use of His Majesty, and the other moiety to him or them who shall seize, inform, and sue for the same, any law, custom, or usage to the contrary notwithstanding, subject, nevertheless, to such distribution of the produce of the seizures so made at sea, as well with regard to the moiety hereinbefore granted to His Majesty, as with regard to the other moiety given to the seizure or prosecutor, as His Majesty shall think fit to order and direct by any Order or Orders of Council, or by any Proclamation or Proclamations to be made for that purpose:

And be it further enacted, that all actions or suits for the recovery of any of the penalties or forfeitures imposed by this Act, may be commenced or prosecuted at any time within three years after the offence committed by reason whereof such penalty or forfeiture shall be incurred, any law, usage, or custom to the contrary notwithstanding:

Provided always, and be it further enacted, that in any case in which proceedings shall have been, or shall hereafter be, instituted in any court of vice-admiralty, or other competent court in any of His Majesty's possessions abroad, against any ship, vessel, boat, goods, or effects, for the recovery of any penalty or forfeiture under any Act for the prevention of smuggling, or relating to the revenue of customs, or to the trade or navigation of the United Kingdom, or of any of His Majesty's possessions abroad, the execution of any sentence or decree, restoring such ship, vessel, boat, goods, or effects, to the claimant thereof, which shall be pronounced by the said vice-admiralty court in which such proceedings shall have been had, shall not be suspended by reason of any appeal which shall be prayed and allowed from such sentence, provided that the party or parties appellate shall give sufficient security, to be approved of by the court, to render and deliver the ship, vessel, boat, goods, or effects, concerning which such sentence or decree shall be pronounced, or the full value thereof, to be ascertained either by agreement between the parties, or in case the said parties cannot agree, then by appraisement under the authority of the said court, to the appellant or appellants, in case the sentence or decree so appealed from shall be reversed, and such ship, vessel, boat, goods, or effects be ultimately condemned:

And whereas it is expedient that all those parts of the said Act, made in the fourth year of the reign of His present Majesty, which are hereinbefore particularly recited, should be extended and applied to Port Elizabeth, in the colony of the Cape of Good Hope, so that the said port may be made a free warehousing port, within the meaning, and for the purposes of, the said Act:

His Majesty doth, therefore, with the advice of His Privy Council, and in further pursuance and exercise of the powers vested in Him by the last recited Act, order, and it is hereby ordered, that all and every the said enactments and declarations in the said Act so passed in the fourth year of the reign of His present Majesty, so far as the same are hereinbefore recited, shall be, and the same are hereby, extended and applied to the said port of Port Elizabeth; and it is ordered, that the said port of Port Elizabeth shall be, and it is hereby declared to be, a free warehousing port, within the meaning, and for the purposes, of the above recited Act; and, from and after the day on which this present Order shall be promulgated within the said colony of the Cape of Good Hope, all the provisions, penalties, and forfeitures in the said Act contained, respecting the free warehousing ports therein mentioned, shall be deemed and construed to extend to the said Port Elizabeth as a free warehousing port, as fully and effectually as if such port were inserted among the free warehousing ports in the said Act contained:

Provided nevertheless, and it is further ordered, that any goods warehoused at any warehousing port in the Cape of Good Hope, being first duly entered, may be delivered, under the authority of the proper officer of the customs, without payment of duty, except for any deficiency thereof, for the purpose of removal to another warehousing port in the same colony, under bond, to the satisfaction of such officer, for the due arrival and rewarehousing of such goods at such other port:

And it is further ordered, that the governor, or the officer for the time being administering the government, of the said colony of the Cape of Good Hope, shall, and is hereby required to, promulgate this present Order within one calendar month next after the receipt thereof by him; and this Order shall take effect within the said colony, and have the force of law there upon, from, and after the date of such promulgation thereof as aforesaid, and not before:

And the Right Honourable the Lords Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury are to give the necessary directions herein accordingly.

NOTICE.

MR. MARTIN JOSEPH MULDER informs the Public, and especially the Wine Farmers and Wine Merchants, that he has memorialized His Excellency the Governor of this Colony to obtain a Patent for the Invention of a new improved Distilling Apparatus, worked by means of Steam, constructed upon a principle to distil Wines, Winelees, Grape-husks, fermented Fruit and Grain, to pure Brandy, without communicating to it the fiery, burnt, or copper taste, with which Cape Brandy is so much adulterated and generally characterised; and as it is out of His Excellency's power to grant a Patent, and having received no encouragement for his new Invention from Government, Mr. MULDER therefore now begs leave to inform the Wine Farmers and private Brandy Distillers of this Colony, for the purpose of ensuring the successful distilling of good pure Brandy, that he will publish the Plan of his new-invented principle of distilling, as soon as a sufficient number of applications shall have been made to him, to cause an Apparatus to be prepared on their account, when he will with pleasure give such general publicity to this advantageous and for the Cape Wine Growers so indispensable an Invention, as can possibly be expected.

Mr. MULDER would consider it superfluous to enter into details, were it in the power of His Excellency the Governor to grant Patents, as he would then, by publicly making known the principles of his Distilling Apparatus, not have to fear imitators, for which reason he trusts that the Public will not take this proposal amiss, but on the contrary consider it as the only guarantee and security of the Inventor.

Mr. MULDER farther takes the liberty to state, that he has, been enabled to compose a Press-pump in such a manner as to pump over wines from one cask to another, without the use of a bucket, whether the casks lie high, low, or at distance from each other. By means of that Pump a single Laborer can in one hour pump over 6 or 8 leaguers of wine without spilling 1 gallon.—The ease and sparing of hands that can be effected by this economical Pump is of great importance to the Wine Merchant and Wine Farmers, and is highly recommendable, especially if the speedy total Emancipation be taken into consideration.

As soon as some Enterprisers for the Distilling Apparatus and Economical Wine Pump shall have applied to Mr. MULDER, and bound themselves under the undermentioned Price and Conditions, either for one or the other, he will be happy to make a beginning, in order to see this advantageous Apparatus speedily spread throughout the Colony; confident that when the Enterprisers shall have found these inventions profitable he will be favored by the other Wine Farmers and Wine Merchants with orders. For that purpose he has made the Prices and Conditions as moderate and acceptable, that the same will be within the reach of the poorer Wine Farmers; and the amount of those costs will speedily be recovered by the saving of hands and the improvement of Cape Spirits and Wine.

MULDER'S DISTILLING APPARATUS.

An Apparatus, of which the Steam-Boiler is 30 inches wide, including Machinery and Fustage complete, will cost £100, payable, the half Cash when brought in readiness, and the other half with a Security Bond with interest One Year subsequent. With such Apparatus can be distilled per Day 3 Leaguers of Wine, new Lees, 2 Leaguers Grape-husks, fermented Fruit or Grain, and can be, by being once rectified through the Machinery of the Apparatus, brought to the strongest spirit. Boilers of a larger size than as above stated will proportionably bear a higher price, while boilers smaller than 30 inches wide cannot be made for a less price. As no Worms but an improved Cooler is used in this Apparatus, Mr. MULDER will take in payment from such Persons as will favor him with their Orders, Worms and Stills which cannot be used, paying for the same per weight of old Copper, the highest price given for that Article in Cape Town.

MULDER'S ECONOMICAL WINE PUMP.

A Pump of copper, 12 feet tinned copper Pipes, 2 inches round, receiving tub with copper-plate tinned inside, 4 feet long, 2 feet broad, and 10 inches high, with wood and iron-work complete, independent of lengthening pipes, will cost £60, delivered in Cape Town free of expense; but for the Country Districts it must be sent for, on previous notice being given, at Mr. MULDER's.

BEKENDMAKING

DE Heer MARTIN. JOSEPH MULLER, maakt aan het geeerd Publiek, en byzonder aan Wynbouwers en Wynkopers bekend, dat hy zich door Memorie an Zyne Excellentie den Gouverneur dezer Kolonie heeft gewend, ter verkryging van een Patent, voor de uitvinding van een nieuw verbeterden nieuwen Distilleer toestel, door middel van waterdamp bewerkstelligd. Zamengesteld om Wyn en nieuwe Moswyn, Wyndroef, Druivendoppen alle soorten van gegiste Vruchten en Granen, zonder onderscheid, tot zuivere Spiritus te kunnen verstoken, zonder de Spiritus vrand of koppersmaak mede te deelen, waarmede de Kaapsche Brandewyn zoo zeer bezwangerd en algemeen gekenmerkt wordt. Zyne Excellentie de Gouverneur aan hem zoodanig Patent niet kunnende verleenen, en geene andere verzekering, voor zyne verbeterende uitvinding van distilleren, van Gouvernements wegen hebbende verkregen, Zoo meent de Heer MULLER de vryheid, de Wynbouwers en private Brandewynstokers dezer Kolonie voortedragen opdat het fabriceren van goede zuivere Spiritus, door een ieder met succes kan worden opgevolgd, het plan van zyne nieuw uitgevondene manier van distilleren, publiek te maken, wanneer alvorens eene voldoende getal onderteekenaars by hem aanzoek zull en hebben gedaan, om voor hunne rekening een Toestel te doen vervaardigen als wanneer hy met genoegen deze zoo voordeelige en onontbeerlyke verbeteren uitvinding vóór den Kaapschen Wynbouw zoo algemeen bekend zal maken, als met mogelykheid door hem zal kunnen worden gedaan.

Ware het dat Zyne Excellentie de Gouverneur de ample magt had, Patenten te verleenen zoude de Heer MULLER dezen voordragt ontrent oordeelen dewyl hy alsdan door het algemeen bekend maken van zynen Distilleer toestel, geene noodzaking te vreezen zoude hebben; om die reden hoopt hy, dat het geeerd Publiek deze zyne voordragt niet ten kwade zal opvatten, maar integendeel als de eenigste waarborg en zekerheid voor een uitvinder, beschouwen zal.

De Hr. MULDER geeft verder te kennen, dat hy een Fresponp zoodanig heeft weten zamen te stellen, dat deze vergeschikt is om Wynen, ter ontvangst aanbragt van het eene tot het andere vat, zonder eenige enkele emmer te gebruiken, over te pompen, en, hetzy de tusten hoog, laag, dan wel op welken afstand ook, in pakhuizen of kelders gelegen, kan worden aangewend. Door middel dezer Pomp kan door een enkelde werkjongen, in den tyd van een uur, 6 a 8 leggers Wyn worden opgepompt, zonder een gallon zal verspilt of verloren gaan. Het gemak en het besparen van handen arbeid dat door deze economische Pomp kan worden te weeg gebragt, is voor den Wyk oper en Wynbouwer van groot belang, en ten hoogsten aanbevelen, byzonder wanneer een oog word geslagen op de Emancipatie, die de Lolmisten binnen kort schuur moet vallen.

Wanneer er eenige ondernemers voor den Distilleer toestel en de Economische Wynpomp, by den Hr MULDER zullen aanzoek gedaan hebben, en hun onder de navolgende pryzen en voorwaarden, hetzy voor een of ander, verbonden zullen hebben, zal het hem aangenaam zyn, een begin te maken, deze zoo voordeelige werktuigkundige Toestellen, spoedig door de Kolonie verspreid te zien. Vertrouwende, dat wanneer de ondernemers bloeyend zullen hebben, deze Toestellen voordeelig te worden bevonden, hy weldra met de orders van de overige Wynplanters en Wynkopers zal worden begunstigd. Ten dien einde heeft hy de pryzen en voorwaarden zoo billyk en aanneemlyk gemaakt dat dezelve voor den minstvermogenden Wynbouwer verkrygbaar zyn; en het bedragen der kosten zal spoedig, door het sparen in handen arbeid, en het verbeteren van de Kaapsche Spiritus en Wyn, worden ingewonnen.

PRYS EN VOORWAARDE VAN

MULDER'S DISTILLEER-TOESTEL.

Een Toestel, waarvan de Waterdamp ketel 30 duim overkruis heeft, met Machinery en Vatwerk daaronder begrepen, kompleet, zal kosten £ 100 Sterling, of Ryksds. 1,333 2 4 b taalbaar de helft kontant wanneer in gereedheid gebragt, en de andere helft in eene Obligatie, en gesecureerd een jaar daarna, met interest; zoodanige Toestel zal de bekwaamheid hebben, circa 3 leggers Wyn, nieuwe Moswyn, Wyndroef, 2 leggers Druivendoppen, gegiste Vruchten of Graan, per dag te verstoken, en kan, door eene enkelde overhaling door de Machinery van den Toestel, tot de sterkste Spiritus worden verkregen. Ketels van eene grootere hoedanigheid dan hier boven vermeld, zullen na rato hooger in prys komen te kosten, dewyl Ketels kleinder dan 30 duim overkruis, voor geen verminderde prys kan en wo den gemaakt.

Daar tot dezen nieuwen Toestel geene gebogene Slangen, maar een verbeterde Verkoeler des Brandewyns wordt aangewend, zoo zal de Heer MULDER van diegenen, die hem met eene order voor eenen Toestel zullen begunstigen, Slangen en Ketels, die tot dezelve niet kunnen worden aangewend, in betaling aannemen, betalende voor het gewigt van oud koper, de hoogste prys voor dat artikel in de Kaapstad gegeven.

PRYS EN VOORWAARDE VAN

MULDER'S ECONOMISCHE WYNPOMP.

Een Pomp van koper, 12 voet vertinde koperen Pypen, 2 duim rond, Ontvangbak, met van binnen vertinde koperen platen, 4 voet lang, 2 voet breed, en 10 duim hoog, met Hout en Yzerwerk kompleet, behalve de Verlengpypen, zal kosten £ 60 Sterling, of Rds. 800; alles vry van kosten, in de Kaapstad geleverd, maar voor de Buiten Districten moet by voorafgaande kennisgeving van den Heer MULDER, alles by hem worden afgehaald.

WRECK OF THE DONCASTER.

The following Letter has been received, addressed to the House of Messrs. BORRADAILES, THOMPSON, & PILLANS, Agent to the Owners of the Doncaster, containing some additional Information respecting the loss of that vessel off Cape L'Agulhas :—

[Copy.]

Widow Zwartz, Rattle River, about 2½ hours from Etam, Tuesday, 9th August 1836. 1 P. M.

DEAR SIRS,—We arrived here yesterday evening about 9 and early this morning proceeded to the scene of the wreck, about 1 hour's ride. Here we were presented with a most melancholy sight: fragments of the vessel, wearing apparel, in every direction as far as the eye could see. It is truly painful to witness the effects of this most distressing occurrence, associated as it is, with such an immense loss of life. Thirty-eight men and boys have been washed ashore, and eighteen women and female children, and one colored woman. About twenty-five bodies were entire, and three had their clothes partially on, but so torn and disfigured, that they could not be distinguished. They have all been decently buried on an eminence, a short distance from the sea, wrapped in clothes or blankets, which have been washed up, and head boards have been placed at the head of the different graves. Our inquiries do not enable us to record much in addition to the reports already received from Major Parlby and Mr. Rivers. I do not recollect all the names therein mentioned. We found John Dobbie written in a Wesleyan Hymn Book; German, R. A.; John Reed, Lance Sergt. Royal Sappers and Miners. On various wearing apparel we found the names of Miss M. S. K. Saunders, Doncaster, 17; Richard Collins; Rob. Saunders; Mary Jane Saunders: Henry P. Saunders; S. A Saunders: J. D. Saunders; Thos McConnell, No. 1, Company, 99 Regt.; J. G. C. P. W. J. M. A. Wiche; P. A. Wiche, L. D. R.—M. S.—J. L. Saunders, M. N. J.—J. R. Wier; J. W. Wier: W. B. Hooks; M. J. K. S. G P. J. Gordon, J. T.; S. Walker.

The wearing apparel consists chiefly of night clothes and children's frocks. Of the wreck, the masts and spars, part of the topsides and stern, pieces of the boats, several shattered sails, and in the rocks in a small bay, the main mast, and yards with sails apparently set as in full sail. The whole (nearly) of one of the sides and part of the stern are washed up, also a number of water casks, trunks, and cases (empty). One or two of the females are buried with their rings on, the fingers being to much swollen to take them off. I have offered a reward for any ring, or other trinkets that may have or may be found. It is reported that the vessel, when seen standing on and off, hoisted a flag, as though she wished some communication with the shore but I think little credence is to be given as they do not all concur. I am about hiring some Hottentots to collect the fragments together. Fieldcornet Laurens, with four or five persons, has been constantly on the beach to protect the wreck from plunder. They have nothing to eat, and the place where I am, is very badly off. I have therefore sent to Elam for some sheep and flour. The situation of the wreck strikes me to be to the Eastward of L'Agulhas Quour, it is said to be about 2 miles to the Eastward of the wreck of the 'Jessie.' The circumstance of the bodies coming ashore, in a state of perfect nudity, will not occasion surprise in any one who has seen this part of the coast. A great part of the wearing apparel is in shreds among the rocks.

Nothing, excepting the bodies, has washed up since the report of Mr. Rivers. If I find any little thing entire, I will reserve them for their relatives. It is said the 'Nicobar' was some years ago wrecked on the same place as the 'Doncaster.' We searched through the papers and books, to find the ship's log, but were not successful: it may still be washed up and will be a very satisfactory document. I never went over worse roads in all my life than those leading to this place; I certainly think the last ten miles were completely under water, and it was night when we came over the worst part. It is a good three days' ride. If Mr. Thompson comes down, I should advise, that he should remain at Elam if he gets there late.

I am almost afraid this express will be too late for the post of Caledon, but we have done every thing in our power to arrive here as early as possible, but have been detained by continued bad weather.

I am, dear Sirs, yours very faithfully,

HORTICULTURAL AND AGRICULTURAL CALENDAR,

By JAMES BOWIE, Botanist.

For SEPTEMBER.

Fine warm weather, with frequent showers of rain, may be expected during this month. The West, South-West, and North-West winds usually prevail, and the weather very variable throughout the month.

Kitchen Garden.—In the beginning of this month, large broods of caterpillars appear, these should be destroyed by beating them down with a whisk, made of the pliant twigs of the quince.

About the full moon, plant out onions, cabbage, lettuce, knolcole, leeks, celery, and potatoes; and at the same time, full crops of the following may be sown, viz: beans, peas, melons, water melons, pumkins, calabash, cucumbers, celery, early dwarf and York cabbage, lettuce, spinage, parsley, beet, carrot, and parsnip. At the middle and latter part of the month, sow french beans.

Sow the seeds of sea-cale, in circles of five or six seeds at three inches apart, forming the circles at three feet from each other; when the plants have arrived at a sufficient size, they must be thinned out, leaving only three or four plants in each circle. This vegetable requires a good sandy loam, and decayed sea-weed, mixed with sand in proportion to the nature of the soil growing the crop, is the best manure that can be applied; during the progress of the growth, the plants must be kept free from weeds and all decayed leaves, to prevent grubs from sheltering around and destroying the crown of the plant. At twelve months old, the plants will be fit for blanching, for which purpose, place boxes, fourteen inches wide, and sixteen inches high, over each circle, covering the boxes with decayed leaves, or long stable litter; when the shoots have attained the height of six inches they will be sufficiently blanched, and fit for table. According to the demand, so must the number of boxes employed be regulated, and to keep up a regular supply, the boxes should be placed at intervals of fourteen days; two crops crop has been finally cut, the plants must be cleaned from dead leaves, and the ground spit over, adding manure if necessary, may be cut from the same plants in one season. After the The sea-cale generally produces well for four years, but it is better to make fresh plantings every year, which is easily accomplished by seed, dividing the plants, or by cuttings of the roots, from two to four inches long.

Prepare ground for Asparagus, by deep trenching and an extra dressing of dung; the beds being formed, draw drills at ten or twelve inches apart, sow the seeds in the drills, and when the plants are a few inches high thin them out to the proper distance, observing to leave those of strongest growth. Where beds are to be formed by transplanting, good plants of two years old are to be preferred, but it is economical of time and labor to sow the seeds where they are to remain. Whichever of the above methods are followed, blank spaces of ground (after preparation) of four feet wide are to be left between every three drills. This is afterwards, and, at the proper season, to allow an alley two feet wide to be formed between the beds, throwing the soil, with manure on to the beds; in the meantime they may be appropriated to any suitable crops. The beds, also, will bear light crops of radish, lettuce, &c. for two seasons from the time of sowing. Attention should be paid to the above as the asparagus sent to market does no credit to the growers of it.

Wild African asparagus may be planted on sandy ground, with a dressing of decayed leaves and rotten or spit dung.

In very rich ground sow capsicum, chili-pepper, egg-plant, (Brinjal) sweet bazil, tomato, okro, &c. the capsicum, egg-plant and bazil, being liable to be eaten off by several species of beetle, are best raised in pots or boxes, planting them out afterwards in light and rich soil, supplying them plentifully with water, and giving them liquid manure occasionally.

In dry weather the hoe must be constantly employed to destroy weeds, stirring up and loosening the surface of the ground, and earthing up such crops as require or thrive best with such treatment.

Slips and cuttings of sage, rue, thyme, and small pots herbs may be planted during this month, on rich and moist soil.

Orchard or Nursery.—Almonds sown in July, and other stone fruit trees, begin to come up, these must be constantly freed from weeds, and the surface of the ground about them be loosened. Care must be taken not to allow water to stagnate about the roots of stone-bearing fruit trees, which are now setting their fruit; indeed, water is hurtful to those trees until the stone is somewhat hardened in the fruit. Continue disbudding such trees as require it.

Flower Garden.—Balsams, cocks-comb, globe amaranthus, and all other known Indian seeds, may be sown, form the middle to the end of the month, they require rich soil and plenty of manure and water. Camellia, and any other favorite garden shrubs may be layered.

Vineyard.—Stop the fruit bearing shoots of the vines, when the clusters are about to open their flowers; keep down all rank growing weeds with the hoe. Vine cuttings must be planted this month, if not done sooner.

Farm.—Peas and beans may be sown in the field, and on dry grounds require water while coming to perfection, but must be allowed to ripen without artificial watering. The principle field crop of kidney beans is to be sown during this month, and if done at the beginning of the month, will produce a good crop without irrigation. Destroy the weeds from among the maize, pumkin, &c.

The beginning of this month is the proper season for sowing cotton-seed in drills drawn at three feet apart, thinning out the plants as soon as they perfect a few leaves, or while they are three or four inches high, the plants left in the rows at two feet distant from each other. As there are several distinct species of cotton, cultivated in various countries, it is necessary to ascertain the real description of imported seeds, as the shrubby cotton plant will require nearly double the space mentioned above, and intended for the herbaceous kind, and the species best adapted to this colony. This crop will require to be kept free from weeds, during its growth, and when it is observed to stop blossoming, or to show this circumstance by forming its flowers slowly and but few, the ends of the shoots should be nipped off, to divert the nourishment to the forming pods. The cotton requires a deep soil, and where particularly sandy, a proportionate dressing of manure; it might follow in rotation other crops, the detail of which cannot be inserted in the limits of this treatise.

Attend to the crops of tobacco, depriving the plants of the side shoots; it is proper for the grower to leave a few plants for seed, without depriving them of the tops or side shoots, and although the tobacco is a plant which does not degenerate, it is advisable to select and mark the plants of strong growth and producing the best leaves, or otherwise marked by particular habit which may be desirable to obtain in future crops. It is to be observed, that the tobacco so long cultivated here, is the true Virginian, than which there is none better; a variety is known in British gardens by the name of Oronooka or James's river tobacco, and is distinguished by its less pointed leaves, and is the only variety which can compete with the Virginian.

Pull up, and consign to the cattle crib, all the plants which are running prematurely to seed among the standing crops of carrots, mangel-wurzel and similar crops; this precocity being the first step to degeneration.

The Farmer might also this time begin to mark any plants amongst his crops of grain which seem to possess any excellencies above those of the crop in general; and save such as he approves of to sow in the proper season, and he may thereby procure an improved variety.

Moist and good land should be well ploughed and dragged in June and July, and then let lie till the middle of September, when it must be properly manured and ploughed in order to be sown towards the end of this month. The lands, especially light and sandy soils, may be cropped with wheat for two years, but, the third year, barley, or oats for hay should be sown,—those early crops permitting the farmer to clear his grounds of couch-grass, and other weeds.

Having recommended the application of Liquid Manure to particular crops, its composition is given here; and it is hoped that the cultivator, viewing the rapid and improving condition of his crops, will extend his experiments to every description of vegetable requiring rich nourishment, and which is so easily applied at all requisite periods in a liquid form.

To prepare Liquid Manure:—Take two barrows-full of fresh cowdung, one barrow-full of fresh horse-droppings, and one barrow-full of fresh sheep-droppings, to which must be added, one skepel of quicklime for each hogshead (fifty-one gallons); bring it to the thickness of cream by adding a sufficiency of water, and it will be fit for use.

Bones broken small with the hammer, or crushed in a mill, are a useful and powerful manure, and deserve the attention of the cultivator, as by reducing the bones to power, and various sized fragments, all to be applied at one time, the gradual and successional decay of the fragments, and the solution of nutritive matter contained therein, enables the cultivator to manure his land at one dressing for several succeeding crops.

Horn Shavings and the Parings of Horses' Hoofs &c. are a still more powerful manure than bones, and may be used with advantage, taking care not to apply the horny substances to excess.

Shambles, No. 3.

NOTICE TO CAPTAINS OF SHIPS.

THE Undersigned offers to supply Captains of Ships anchoring in Table Bay, with fat Beef and Mutton, at One Skilling or 2½*d. per* 2 lbs.; also, good Salt Beef, and Live Sheep, on the most reasonable terms, Sheep at 4 Rds. each; provided payment of the Bills, on the departure of the Vessels, be made direct to him; which Captains will find greatly to their advantage, as the enormous percentage demanded by some Agents, Agents' Clerks, and Shippers, occasions the price to be much higher, without any advantage to either the Seller or Purchaser.

I also wish that the Captains would attend themselves at either of the Shambles, from Nos. 1 to 12, where they would find, by dealing personally, an advantage of more than 100 per cent.; likewise of being served with Meat of the best quality.

FREDERICK van REENEN, Jacob's son.

THEATRICALS AND RACES.

THE demoralizing effects of the Stage are fully exposed in the "Christian Observer," 1834, in the form of a Review of a volume of Sermons on the Stage, by the Rev. T. Best, A.M. of Sheffield. The above, with a Sermon on the evil consequences of the Race Course, by the Rev. F. Close, A.M. perpetual Curate of Cheltenham, are now published in Cape Town, for gratuitous circulation.—Query. Can it be necessary to direct the public mind to the unfeigned Tragedy of the Hon'ble Berkeley Craven's Suicide, after the losses which he could not sustain at Epsom Races?

DEATH,

RELATIVES and Friends are informed that it has pleased the Almighty, under his unsearchable dispensation, to remove from this world, at the age of 68 years, 5 months, and 6 days, Mrs. Louisa Jacoba Krige, Widow of Mr. A. de Waal. All those that know the worthy character of the departed, will certainly regret her loss.

In the name of the joint Children.

WRECK OF THE DONCASTER.

Farther Particulars.

Newlands, 23rd August 1836.

Messrs. BORRADAILES, THOMPSON, & PILLANS,
Cape Town.

GENTLEMEN,—Having arrived from the scene of the wrecked bark Doncaster, Captain G. PRITCHARD, whither I had gone at your request for the purpose of acting for the interest of the owners and others, I herewith hand you a statement of my proceedings:—

The place where the whole of the wreck is washed up, is, in a small Bay, about half a mile in extent, situate twelve or fifteen miles to the Westward of Cape L'Agulhas:—and the spot where this unfortunate accident occurred is supposed to be the ermination of a reef of rocks running out from a point of the Bay about two miles:—the sea breaks very heavy and at some distance, say one or two miles:—the Bay is studded with rocks and filled with sea weed: from its length and thickness called bamboos. I arrived there on the 9th instant. A more melancholy sight is scarcely to be witnessed. Field cornet Laurens and the neighbouring farmers had buried thirty-eight men and boys, eighteen women and children and one colored woman The bodies were wrapped up in clothes and blankets which had been washed ashore;—they were too much disfigured to be identified some two or three had rings on, but their fingers were too much swollen to take them off. A rising hill sloping into the sea is covered with white painted boards, marking the position of the graves, of which there are about forty—some of the children and women having been put into one grave Before leaving, I wrote on one of the head-boards all the names I could collect from the apparel and books, which are hereunto annexed, with the supposed date (17th July 1836) of the vessel being wrecked, and the supposition (from nearly all the bodies being destitute of clothing in any shape) that it had occurred during the night—when all perished.

The whole of the rocks (you cannot call it beach) were covered with fragments of the wreck:—planks in two or three pieces, beams and side timbers, masts, spars, and broken pieces of what appeared to have been the jolly-boat And gig, broken empty trunks and casks, torn sails and sugar bags, and a quantity of wearing apparel—soldiers coats of the 99th, 29th, and 87th, shirts, frocks, trowsers, &c. all torn and scattered in every direction as far as the eye could see. At one part of the Bay, on some projecting rocks, were found the larboard side, with part of the quarter gallery, broken near the stem, and having about two feet of copper,—the main mast and topmast with their yards. (main-mast broken off in a jagged splinter about 6 or 7 feet below the paint), two studding-sail booms,—a gaff and driver-boom, with several sails and a quantity of running rigging, shrouds and stays, all entangled and intwined together but having the appearance as though the vessel had been in full sail. At two or three other places, some distance apart, were found bowsprit and shrouds, several parts of the side, (8 or 10 timbers together.) In another small Bay, with a sandy beach but heavy surf, about 10 minutes' walk, the long-boat was found, high and dry, side stove, upper piece of the stern out, and the upper part of the larboard side jagged; fitted up to contain sheep, pigs, &c. with no appearance of having been used. No part of the stern post, rudder, keel or stem has yet been found From inquiry it appears that for several days a vessel had been seen standing in and off that part of the Coast, and from some of the bodies being discovered by a Hottentot about the 20th ult. it would lead to the supposition that the time must have been the week previous, when westerly winds prevailed, and which about the 17th ult. rose into a most severe gale on that part of the Coast, at which period it is concluded the accident took place.

The eight days previous to the sale I was busily engaged in drying books and papers,—separating the masts, sails, and rope, collecting timber and wearing apparel, and arranging all for the sale. I found no papers of importance, and nothing to elucidate this untoward event or give any information of who and what was on board, with the exception of a paper, being a list of Invalids from the Hospital at Mauritius, and ordered to embark for England under the charge of Assistant Surgeon Dr Page. The private property, consisting of a few broken shells, music-books, and wearing apparel, was in such a state as to be of little value, and did not realise sufficient to re-imburse the proportion of expenses. What could be identified and was worth preserving has been forwarded to you, comprising some music books for Mr. Saunders, a prayer book for Mr. Weed's family, a hymn book of Mr. Dobbie, and a small box containing part of the stomach of a soldier, which, from some Medical reports found, appears to be for the Chief Medical Officer in England. Nothing of any value has been washed up, and the whole of the sale consisted of timber, parts of the ship, as specified in the Vendue Roll. About 1000 persons were present, consequently every thing went exorbitantly high. The amount of the sale is Rds 8,309. out of which has to be paid about Rds. 700. for the Field-cornet and farmers watching day and night for 25 days, and about Rds. 700 for labor and other expenses attending the sale.

I am, Gentlemen,
Yours very faithfully,
EDW. J. JERRAM.

COMMERCIAL RETROSPECT.

[From the London Mercantile Journal, June 21.]

TEA.—The business of the Tea market is at present at a stand, and appears likely to be so until the question as to the time of payment of the Bohea duties is settled; this will doubtless be arranged before our next publication, when we hope to be able to have more definite information on that subject and the general prospects of the market.

SILK.—The Company's sale to-day has proceeded much in the same manner as yesterday: the Silk was taken off with spirit, establishing the advance of yesterday. The total quantity which has passed the hammer up to this afternoon is 1000 bales: the sale will finish on Thursday.

WOOL at public sale has fetched full prices, and gone off with great spirit.

The same prosperity continues to attend the Manufacturing Districts which we have been in the habit for some time of quoting.

In the Tea Trade the Bohea duty clearance matter engages attention, and how it will terminate remains to be seen. Government will not yield to an extension of time, and the East India Company have announced, under date of the 15th instant, that they will be prepared to advance on account of the buyers of Bohea at their late sale, the duties which may be payable on those Teas that may be required to be entered for home consumption previously to the 1st of July.

For the months ending May 24, 1835, and May 24, 1836, the tonnage of the latter in the port of Liverpool shows an increase over that of the former of 854 tons and 115 vessels.

The duties on English and Jersey vessels arriving at Guernsey are now equalized; English vessels formerly paid double the duties of Jersey vessels, although Jersey vessels are admitted into English ports on the same footing as English vessels.

Jamaica papers to the 9th of May have arrived. They state that gentle rains were then falling, and that the crops were in a favorable condition. The island was quiet. The Governor had called the House of Assembly together—they were to meet on the 24th May.

Calcutta papers to the 13th have arrived. The imports of Indigo are stated to have been 105,725 factory maunds: and the exports 70,454 maunds. There were reports of a short Cotton Crop, and prices had risen in consequence. In Cotton piece goods considerable business was doing.

The Sugar export from Manilla this season is estimated at 200,000 picals. Coffee scarce and the price 13 dollars per picul. The market was well supplied with Cotton Goods and Woollens and the prices were very low.

The Refined Sugar Trade and the abolition of the standard.—A Deputation of the trade have waited on the government, and we learn that it is the intention of government to abolish the standard, and to allow on all Refined Sugars the average rate of drawback, which is under 40s. The drawback on single refined is 36s. 9½d. and on double 43s. 2½d. We think the abolition of the standard, a good measure, since its existence holds out a temptation to chemical operations in refining Sugar to pass the standard, and we have heard that ingredients of no very palatable or pleasing description are employed for this purpose. When the standard is abolished, it might be supposed that Sugars of indifferent quality will pass with impunity; but the buyers are quite competent to look after these matters and to act against imposition.

HIS Honor Sir JOHN WYLDE, Knight, L. L. D. Chief Justice, and other the Judges of the Supreme Court of the Colony of the Cape of Good Hope, do hereby make known:—

That William Munro, now or lately a Lieutenant-Colonel in His Majesty's Service, or his legal Representatives, having been summoned by Edict by William Ferdinand Bergh, in his capacity as Trustee of the Insolvent Estates of the late Joachim Wilhelm Stoll, and of Catharina Charlotte Louisa Liesching, his surviving Widow, to appear before the said Supreme Court, on this Thirty first day of August, at Ten o'clock in the Forenoon to acknowledge or deny the signature of the said Joachim Wilhelm Stoll, to a certain Bond bearing date the Fourteenth day of November, in the year One Thousand Eight Hundred and Twenty-three, for the Sum of Six Thousand Guilders, or One Hundred and Fifty Pounds Sterling, executed by the said Joachim Wilhelm Stoll, as the Agent of the said William Munro, duly qualified thereto by Power of Attorney granted by the said William Munro, in favor of the Reverend George Hough, his Order, Heirs Administrators, or Assigns, and which Bond has been made payable by the said George Hough, to, and in the life time of the said Joachim Wilhelm Stoll, and to admit or deny that he, the said William Munro, or his Representatives, is or are indebted to the said William Ferdinand Bergh in his said capacity, in the said Sum of One Hundred and Fifty Pounds Sterling, with Interest thereon from the First day of November One Thousand Eight Hundred and Twenty-three upon and by virtue of the said Bond:—and to show cause why a certain piece of Perpetual Quit-rent Land, situate in the Cape District, to the North-Eastward of the Hout Bay, called Orange Kloof, which is specially Mortgaged by the said Bond should not be declared executable for the Sum above demanded, and to join issue thereon, without the said William Munro, or his Representatives, or any one on his or their behalf having appeared, in consequence whereof, the said William Ferdinand Bergh, in his said capacity, by his Advocate, requested the second default with the profit thereof, and a third Summons.

Wherefore, we have granted to the said William Ferdinand Bergh, in his aforesaid capacity, and it is hereby granted accordingly the second default with the profit thereof, and have further thought proper to Summon, and do hereby Summon the said William Munro, the defaulter, for the Third time, by Public Edict, to appear in our said Court on Wednesday, the Thirtieth day of November next, at Ten o'clock in the Forenoon, to purge his second default, and further to hear such claim and conclusion as the said William Ferdinand Bergh, in his aforesaid capacity, shall think fit and proper to make.

Thus done and decreed in the Supreme Court at the Cape of Good Hope, this Thirty first day of August in the Year of our Lord One Thousand Eight Hundred and Thirty six.

¼ Aandeel in de Leeningsplaats "Uitvlugt," gelegen aan de Kuiltjeskraal, te zamen met zoodanig regt of aanspraak als de Eigenaar mogt hebben op het Gouvernements land annex. Dit Eigendom is slechts op een afstand van een uur van het Dorp Swellendam gelegen, en is byzonder wel geschikt voor Schapen.

De Weide is ryk en overvloedig gedurende het geheel jaar, en de Breederivier loopt door deszelfs middelpunt.

BERIGT AAN SCHEEPS KAPITEINS.

DE Ondergeteekende offereert om de Scheeps Kapiteins in de Tafelbaai te voorzien, met Vet Ossen en Schapenvleesch, 2 ponden voor 1 Schelling, (of 2½d. per 2 ponden,) alsmede goed Gezouten Beestenvleesch en levend Vee tegen de billykste pryzen, Schapen tegen 4 Rds. per stuk, mits dat de betaling der Rekeningen by het vertrek der Schepen direct aan hem gedaan worde, en hetwelk de Scheeps Kapiteins vinden zullen, dat het tot hun voordeel strekt, daar de enorme Percenten, die aan eenige Agenten, Agents Klerken en Schuitenvoerders afgaan, veroorzaken dat de pryzen zich daardoor verhoogen, zonder voordeel voor den Kooper of Verkooper.

Ook wensch ik dat de Heeren Kapiteins zich zelve wilden begeven naar alle de Hallen van No. 1 tot No. 12,—alwaar zy alsdan zullen ondervinden indien zy zelfs komen om te handelen, dat het hun Eds. meer dan 100 pCt. tot hun voordeel zyn zal, en zich dus ook kunnen bedienen van de beste kwaliteiten.

DESTRUCTION OF THE "PREMIER," by Fire, at Ascension.

The following account of the loss by Fire of the Bark "Premier," is extracted from a letter written by the 2nd Master of H.M.S. Thalia, received by H.M.S. Lynx, which came into Simon's Bay on the 4th instant:—

"The Evening before we sailed from Ascension, a Merchant Bark, the Premier, Capt. BYRON, in the act of getting under weigh for England, suddenly caught fire in the hold, by the spontaneous ignition of the damp Cotton. Capt. B. was remarkably cool and collected on this occasion. He sent Mrs. B. with the mate on board us, and made it known to Mr. Warden, 1st Lieut. Quickly we, with that alacrity so general in our service, had all the boats with the engines, &c. in a trice along side of her, but we soon found it was no use, so proceeded and battened down the hatches, and warped her in to the beach, and scuttled her, and then saved what Cargo we could, which was trifling, for immediately the hatches were opened, the devouring element soon spread to a scene of destruction. The Papers, Chronometer, and Mrs. B.'s things were all saved. Mrs. B. bore her situation with great fortitude. They were particular friends of Capt. Bate, and we had seen them all on board that Evening, and wished them a pleasant voyage; and it so proved they were fortunate in what had occurred, for if the vessel had been two hours on her voyage, she evidently must have perished with all on board. What has since become of your friends I know not, but you will hear by some of the crew who have come here in the Lynx.

G. F. BALSTON.

On the Culture of the Chesnut, Walnut, and Guava.

(From the South African Quarterly Journal, vol. 1,)

By JAMES BOWIE, Botanist.

CASTANEA VESCA, Chesnut. Castanie.—Both for timber and fruit, the chesnut may be cultivated more extensively than has hitherto been done in the colony; and, it is to be hoped, with better success than appears to be generally the case in this country, where the tree, being planted in moist situations, can neither attain a large size, or a very great age. A sandy loam, with a dry bottom, is most congenial to its welfare; but it will grow in any soil on a dry sub-soil. Planted singly, this tree spreads very much, but when planted together in clumps, the main stems rises to a considerable height. The timber is valuable in house carpentry, and when aged, can scarcely be distinguished from oak.

To raise trees, and with a view to improvement, the largest and roundest formed nuts should be selected, and sown in beds of light earth, either in rows or broad-cast; at twelve months old they may be removed to nursery rows, where they may remain to gather strength for the reception of grafts or buds, or be reserved for future plantations, without paying respect to the above operations; where it is desirable to obtain as early a crop as possible, a few plants may be reared in pots or boxes, and when large enough to receive grafts, the boxes, may be fixed or raised to fruit bearing branches of an old tree, and the young ones grafted by approach, or arching, which, if well performed in the spring, may be separated from the parent stock in autumn, and the young trees will produce fruit the following season.

If the chesnut tree is planted in groups, they must be placed from thirty to fifty feet apart; and at a distance from the dwelling house, the strong spermatic odour of the flowers rendering them disagreeable to most persons.

This tree was introduced to this colony previous to 1695; and has been stated, erroneously, to be a native of South Africa; it is supposed to have been brought from Sardis to Italy, by Tiberius Cæsar.

The chesnut tree ranks amongst those which attain the greatest age in Europe, and in the southern part of that continent affords a great portion of the food of the peasantry.

The kernels are nutritive and pectoral, and usually eaten raw, roasted, or boiled; they are also made into bread, stewed, and used as sauces to various dishes.

Bark astringent.

JUGLANS REGIA. Walnut. Okkernoot.—A similar treatment as practised in propagating the chesnut, is adapted to rearing the walnut, and on the final planting out of this tree due attention must be paid to their being planted in a loamy soil, with a mixture of sand or gravel, rather than clay.

Where the walnut is planted to any extent, they may be made to form a shelter to the orchard, by planting them in rows at twenty-five feet distance from the outward rows of the orchard trees, and from thirty-five to fifty feet distance from each other.

It is generally ten or twelve years before this tree comes into bearing, when raised from seeds; but in order to obtain as early a return of fruit as possible, grafting the young trees, and ringing must be resorted to, which last method is the mere taking away a ring of the bark from around the branches of the trees, the wounds being afterwards plastered with a mixture of cow-dung and clay. The trees by this treatment will become more prolific, and ripen the fruit sooner.

As the walnut is apt to produce varieties from seed, and of varying qualities, seeds only of the better kinds should be sown. The walnut may be increased by layers.

The thin or tender shelled varieties usually produce the best flavoured kernels; of the green fruit a favorite pickle is made, and for this purpose the entire fruit must be gathered before the nut becomes hard. The outer covering of the nut is useful to the dyer, and the juice of both it and the macerated leaves, diluted with water, and applied to the ground, will either kill or expel earth-worms. The sap of the tree yields sugar.

The kernels are cooling, but difficult of digestion; when old, acrid; yields half its weight of oil by expression, and will also yield a small quantity of sugar. Leaves detersive, and diaphoretic, anti-athritic, anti-syphilitic; inner bark emetic, and also cathartic, when given in pills.

The wood of this tree is a favorite with the cabinet-maker; and from its proportionate lightness to its strength and elasticity, is mostly used for gun-stocks.

The walnut is a native of Persia, and the southern side of Caucasus; and was introduced to this colony, from Europe, previous to 1695.

PSIDIUM PYRIFERUM. Guava.—This fruit, so well known throughout the colony, is a variety of the worst description, of an otherwise wholesome and agreeable fruit; attempts should be made to improve, by culture, that which we already possess, or to endeavour to procure seeds or plants (from elsewhere) of a better kind.

The fruit of the guava should be left on the trees till they fall dead ripe. The seeds may be then separated from the pulp, slightly dried, sown, and treated in a similar method as directed for the mangoe. Rotten dung should, however, be added to decayed leaves in manure.

In the Brazils, where there is an abundance of this fruit, they are particularly fine, and, in size and flavor, are as much superior to those of this colony, as the apricot exceeds the Hottentot plum. A very fine marmalade is made of the fruit, and, in such quantities, as to form a source of great profit to the peasantry of that country.

Seeds of the guava may be procured from Rio de Janeiro, as well as several other species of the same family, particularly the Arasá, the Arasá do Pedras, and the Arasá do Chiné: which last was introduced from Rio to England in 1816, and is known in botanical collections there, by the name of Psidium cattleyanum. It is, as the Portuguese name imports, a native of China. The plant, with its glossy dark-green leaves, and crimson-coloured fruit, is highly ornamental.

The young leaves, buds, and fruit of the guava, in decoction, are astringent, and the marmalade the same. The seeds, cleaned from the pulp, keep good for some time, requiring only to be packed in paper, and kept dry. The loamy soils of Uitenhage, Graaff Reinet, and Albany, appear particularly adapted to the growth of this tribe. In the latter district are two indigenous kinds of fruits, belonging to the same natural family as the Psidium. The common guava also thrives in moist sandy soils.

TRADE LIST.

[ADVERTISEMENT.]

ADDRESS

OF the Inhabitants of ALBANY, CAPE OF GOOD HOPE, SOUTH AFRICA, rejected by His Honor, ANDRIES STOCKENSTROM, Esq., on his arrival at Graham's Town, 3d Sept., 1836, to assume the Government of the Eastern Province.

To His Honor ANDRIES STOCKENSTROM, Esq., Lieutenant-Governor of the Eastern Province of His Majesty's Colony of the Cape of Good Hope.

The Undersigned Inhabitants of the District of ALBANY, feel it their bounden duty, as Loyal British subjects, to convey to your Honor, on this your arrival among them, their becoming sense of the great and numerous advantages which must eventually accrue to the Eastern Province of this Colony by the appointment of a Lieutenant-Governor to watch over its interests; by guarding it against foreign aggression,—by developing its internal resources,—and by promoting its general prosperity.

But whilst they make this public expression of gratitude for this His Majesty's most gracious acquiescence in their prayer, they deem it, likewise, their duty to state explicitly their deep apprehension lest His Majesty's Government should be labouring under such fatal and erroneous impressions respecting the real character of the colonists in general,—their treatment of the colored classes within the colony,—and their conduct towards the native tribes, as cannot fail ultimately to lead to the disappointment of their just hopes of future support and of adequate protection.

Nor can they forget that the unflinching defence of their character as a community, and the maintenance of their unalienable rights, are duties which, as fathers of families, and as members of civil society, they cannot neglect or compromise, without betraying a sacred trust or exhibiting a dereliction of principle that would render them unworthy of the people and country to which they belong. They are sensible also of the imperative necessity of a faithful discharge of these duties at a crisis like the present, when they have before them the indubitable fact that the scenes of suffering which have recently been witnessed around them, the severe privations which many have been called to endure, and the sweeping ruin that has overtaken a large proportion of this once smiling and prosperous settlement, have been caused mainly by misrepresentations, widely circulated in the parent country to their prejudice by unnformed or partial writers.

They would also be wanting in candour—and might, in some respect, be considered as having forfeited their claims to consideration as independent men and subjects of a free country—did they affect to conceal from your Honor their conviction that the evidence lately given by yourself before a Committee of the Representatives of the British people, has made an impression on the public mind exceedingly derogatory to their character for humanity and justice; injurious to their future prospects as a young and rising community; and fatal to their claims to that Compensation for their losses by the late barbarian inroad, to which in equity they conceive they are entitled from a paternal government.

Under such circumstances, and with these views and feelings, they address Your Honor on assuming the duties of Lieutenant-Governor of this Province; and they now, at the earliest moment after your arrival among them, request respectfully but firmly, and as an act of unquestionable justice, that Your Honor will be pleased to state—

1. Whether, in your opinion, the conduct of the British Settlers of Albany has ever been, in any one instance, such as to justify the Native Tribes adjacent in making incursions upon them, and in laying waste the country in which they have been placed by the British Government?

2. Whether Your Honor has any knowledge of their ever having, as a community, acted inconsistent with the British name and character?

3. Whether it is your opinion that the Frontier Farmers in general derive any advantage by hostile collision with the Natives? or whether, on the contrary, it is not within the knowledge of Your Honor that the inhabitants along the whole of the inland Frontier of this Colony have been continually suffering from the daring and unprovoked inroads of the Native Tribes upon them; and which have often resulted in the murder of their families, the destruction of their dwellings, and generally in the loss of property, which constitutes, to a colonial farmer, the means of subsistence?

4. Whether, in short, the evidence given by Your Honor before a Committee of the House of Commons was intended to make on the public mind such impressions as are calculated to lead to a conclusion that the inhabitants of this Colony, or of this Frontier, deserve, as a people, by their ill-treatment of the Native Tribes, or any other course of misconduct, to be reproached by their country with having brought disgrace upon the British name, or acted inconsistent with the requirements of humanity and justice?

It now only remains for them distinctly to state, that whilst they claim for themselves the indefeasible right of questioning the merits of public men who may be called to exercise authority over them, or the expediency of measures which affect their most vital interests; and whilst they present themselves to your Honor on this occasion in the exercise of this sacred birthright; they at the same time, deprecate any imputation of being actuated by factious views, or by partial or local feelings and prejudices. On the contrary, they take credit for an anxious desire to uphold the institutions of the country,—for a firm determination to respect and support lawful authority,—and for unshaken and ardent attachment and loyalty to their KING and Country.

[Signed by four hundred and twelve persons.]

PUBLIC MEETING,

Convened in consequence of the rejection of the above Address.

At a Public Meeting of the Inhabitants of Albany, held by permission of His Honor the Lieutenant Governor, in the Commercial Hall, at Graham's Town, on Tuesday, the 6th of September 1836,

PETER CAMPBELL, Esq. in the Chair,

The following Resolutions were unanimously passed:—

1. That this meeting having had communicated to them the refusal of His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor to receive the Address which it was intended to present to him on his assuming the Government of this province—and which has been subscribed by upwards of 400 inhabitants of this Town and District—are of opinion that the rejection of that Address is at variance with the spirit of the British constitution, and degrading to a community of free and loyal British subjects.

2. That this meeting most unequivocally denies the fact stated by Capt. STOCKENSTROM in his evidence before the Committee of the House of Commons, that the British settlers of Albany have "very often" served on commandoes, or that they have in any way participated in those atrocities which he has described as being of frequent occurrence on such expeditions — atrocities which are utterly disclaimed and abhorred by them, and with reference to which they now challenge, in the face of the world, the production of a single case in proof of any such allegation.

3. That this Meeting is of opinion that, as upwards of 700 of the inhabitants of this frontier have already addressed His Majesty's Secretary of State for the colonies, praying for enquiry on the spot into those injurious statements which have been made respecting them, it is not requisite on this occasion either to address the Imperial Government or the British Legislature until the result of their former application shall have been made known. But in the mean time, having been refused that satisfaction which they had a right to demand, and to which in strict equity they conceive themselves entitled; they hold it due to themselves to proclaim their anxious desire for full and impartial enquiry into every allegation which has been made to their prejudice. And they now declare, that whilst they are resolved on the one hand to support to the utmost the Government of the country, they will with equal jealousy take care that the British name and character be not in their persons unjustly aspersed without immediately challenging proof, and subjecting the accusation, from whomsoever it may originate, to the test of public examination.

4. That the Resolutions of this Meeting, and the Address of the Inhabitants to His Honour the Lieutenan-Governor, be sent home and published in the "Times," "Morning Chronicle," "Atlas," "Watchman," and other influential London Newspapers; that the same be further forwarded to Cape Town for insertion in the "South African Commercial Advertiser," "Zuid Afrikaan," and Government Gazette," and that a Subscription be entered into to defray the necessary Expenses.

P. CAMPBELL, Chairman.

ADRES

Van de Ingezetenen van ALBANIE, KAAP DE GOEDE HOOP, afgewezen door zyne Edelheid, den Wel-Edelen Heer ANDRIES STOCKENSTROM, by deszelfs aankomst te Grahamstad, op den 3den September 1836, tot het aanvaarden van het bewind van de Oostelyke Provincie.

Aan Zyne Edelheid, den Wel-Ed. Hr. ANDRIES STOCKENSTROM, Luitenant Gouverneur van de Oostelyke Provincie, van Zyner Majesteits Kolonie, de Kaap de Goede Hoop.

DE Ondergeteekenden, Ingezetenen van het District ALBANIE, rekenen het hunnen pligt, als getrouwe Britsche Onderdanen, aan uwe Edelheid, by deszelfs aankomst alhier, hunne gepaste dankbaarheid te betuigen, voor de groote en menigvuldige voordeelen welke zullen kunnen voortspruiten voor de Oostelyke Provincie der Kolonie, uit de aanstelling van eenen Luitenant Gouverneur, om te waken voor hunne belangen, te zorgen tegen buitenlandschen aanval—door het ontwikkelen van deszelfs inwendige hulpbronnen, en het bevorderen van deszelfs algemeene voorspoed.

Maar by deze publieke uitdrukking van dankbaarheid voor zyner Majesteits genadige toestemming tot hun verzoek, oordeelen zy het mede hunne pligt, ten duidelykste hunne vrees te verklaren, dat zyner Majesteits Gouvernement ligt onder zulke noodlottige en verkeerde indruksels, ten aanzien van het ware karakter der Kolonisten in het algemeen,—hunne behandeling van de gekleurde klassen binnen de Kolonie, en hun gedrag jegens de Inlandsche Volkstammen, welke uiteindelyk moet leiden tot de teleurstelling van hunne welgevestigde hoop van toekomstige ondersteuning en genoegzame bescherming.

Ook kunnen zy niet vergeten, dat de onbeschroomde verdediging van hun karakter als eene Maatschappy, en het handhaven van hunne onvervreemdbare regten, pligten zyn, welke zy, als vaders van huisgezinnen, en als leden van de Burgerlyke Maatschappy, niet kunnen of mogen veronachtzamen, zonder het verraden van eene geheiligde pligt, of het vertoonen van eene verlating van principe, dat hen het volk, en het land waartoe zy behooren zou onwaardig maken. Zy zyn mede overtuigd van de dringende noodzakelykheid van eene getrouwe volbrenging dezer pligten, by eene crisis als de tegenwoordige, waar zy de onbetwistbare daadzaak voor zich hebben, dat de tooneelen van lyden, welke zy onlangs rondom zich aanschouwd hebben, de groote ontbeeringen, welke vele hunner hebben moeten doorstaan, en de algemeene rampspoed, welke een groot deel van de bewoners van deze eens bloeyende en voorspoedige volkplanting heeft getroffen, zyn teweeg gebragt, voornamelyk door de valsche voorstellingen tot hun nadeel, zoo wydelyk verspreid door slecht onderrigtte of partydige schryvers.

Zy zouden mede te kort schieten in opregtheid, en zouden, in zekere opzigten kunnen beschouwd worden als hebbende hunne aanspraak op aanzien als onafhankelyke lieden en als onderdanen van een vry land verbeurd—indien zy voor uwe Edelheid hunne overtuiging trachtten te verbergen, dat het getuigenis onlangs door UEd. gegeven voor het Committee van de vertegenwoordigers van het Britsche volk, op den geest des publieks eenen indruk heeft gemaakt, ten hoogsten nadeelig voor hun karakter van regtvaardigheid en menschlievendheid,—schadelyk voor hunne vooruitzigten als eene jonge en toenemende maatschappy; en vernielend voor hunne vorderingen op die Compensatie voor hunne verliezen door den laatsten aanval der Barbaren, welke zy gelooven dat zy naar regten van een Vaderlyk Gouvernement kunnen vorderen.

Onder zulke omstandigheden, en met deze inzigten en gevoelens, wenden zy zich nu tot uwe Edelheid, by het aanvaarden van het ambt van Luitenant Gouverneur van deze Provincie, en nu, by het vroegste tydstip na uwe aankomst in hun midden, nemen zy de vryheid eerbiedigly, maar fermelyk, en krachtelyk, en als eene daad van onbetwistbare regtvaardigheid te verzoeken dat uwe Edelheid wil verklaren:—

1. Of, naar wy gevoelen het gedrag van de Britsche Settlers in Albanie, ooit in eenig geval, zoodanig is geweest dat het de Inlandsche Volkstammen aan hen grenzende, regtvaardigde, en het maken van strooptogten tegen hen, en het verwoesten van het land waarin zy geplaatst zyn door het Britsche Gouvernement?

2. Of het uwe Edelheid bekend is, dat zy ooit als eene maatschappy hebben gehandeld op eene wyze welke onbestaanbaar was met den Britschen naam en het Britsche karakter?

3. Of het uw gevoelen is dat de Frontier Boeren in het algemeen, eenig voordeel trekken uit vyandelyke botsing met de Inlanders? Dan wel of het in het tegendeel niet aan uwe Edelheid bekend is, dat de Ingezetenen langs de geheele binnenlandsche Frontier der Kolonie gestadig hebben geleden door de stoutmoedige en ongetergde strooptogten van de Inlanders; welke dikwyls zyn geeindigd in het vermoorden van hunne huisgezinnen, het vernielen van hunne woningen, en in het algemeen in het verlies van eigendom, hetwelk voor een Koloniaal Landman het middel van bestaan is?

4. Of, in het kort, het getuigenis gegeven door uwe Edelheid, voor het Huis der Gemeenten bestemd is, om op den geest des publieks zulken indruk te maken, als geschikt is te leiden tot een besluit, dat de Ingezetenen van deze Kolonie, of van deze Frontier, als een volk, door hunne mishandeling van de Inlandsche Volkstammen, eenige andere gang van wangedrag, het verwyt van hun Vaderland verdienen, dat zy eenen blaam hebben gebragt op den Britschen naam, of hebben gehandeld onbestaanbaar met de vereischten van menschlievendheid en regtvaardigheid?

Er is hen nu niets meer overig dan duidelyk te verklaren, dat terwyl zy voor zichzelf aanspraak maken op hunne onbetwistbare regten van het onderzoeken van het gedrag van publieke lieden, die geroepen zyn gezag over hen uit te oefenen, of de gepastheid van maatregelen, welke invloed hebben op hunne dierbaarste belangen; en terwyl zy by deze gelegenheid voor uwe Edelheid komen, in de uitoefening van dit heilig geboorteregt, zy alle aantyging van beheersucht te zyn door factieuse inzigten of partydige, of plaatselyke gevoelens ontkennen. In het tegendeel beroemen zy zich op een ernstig verlangen om de Instellingen des lands in stand te houden, een vast besluit om de regtmatige overheid te handhaven, en onveranderlyke gehechtheid en trouw aan hun Koning en hun Vaderland.

(Geteekend door Vier Honderd en Twaalf Personen.)

PUBLIEKE BYEENKOMST,

Beroepen ingevolge van de Afwyzing van bovenstaand Adres.

By eene Publieke Byeenkomst van de Ingezetenen van Albanie, gehouden onder toestemming van zyne Edelheid den Luitenant Gouverneur, in de Beurs te Grahamstad, op Dingsdag den 6den September 1836.

De Heer PETER CAMPBELL, Voorzitter.

De volgende Resolutien werden eenstemmig gepasseerd.

1. Dat deze Byeenkomst, onderrigt zynde dat zyne Edelheid de Luitenant Gouverneur, had geweigerd het adres aan te nemen, hetwelk men hem wilde presenteeren by het aanvaarden van het Gouvernement van de Oostelyke Provincie, en dat geteekend is door meer dan 400 Ingezetenen van deze stad en van het District, van gevoelen is, dat de verwerping van dat adres strydig is met den geest van de Britsche Constitutie en beleedigend voor eene Maatschappy van vrye en Britsche Onderdanen.

2. Dat deze Byeenkomst op de stelligste wyze de daadzaak ontkend, welke beweerd is door Kapt. Stockenstrom, in deszelfs getuigenis voor het Committee van het Huis der Gemeente, dat de Britsche Settlers van Albanie "zeer dikwyls hebben gediend op kommandoes, of dat zy eenige mate hebben deel genomen in de wreedheden welke hy heeft verklaard dat dikwyls by zulke togten zyn gebruikelyk geweest—wreedheden, welke door hen ten sterksten worden ontkend en verfoeid, en waarvan zy nu in het aanschyn der wereld vorderen, dat eene enkele daadzaak zal worden bewezen tot staving van zulk eene beweering.

3. Dat deze Byeenkomst van gevoelen is, dat daar alreeds meer dan 700 Ingezetenen van deze Frontier, zich hebben gewend tot zyner Majesteits Secretaris van Staat voor de Kolonien, verzoekende om een onderzoek op de plaats, naar die nadeelige berigten welke van hen gegeven zyn, het niet noodig is by deze gelegenheid zich te adresseren aan het Gouvernement des Ryks, of de Britsche Wetgeving tot het besluit van hunne vorige aanzoeken zal bekend zyn. Maar daar hen inmiddels die voldoening is geweigerd, welke zy het regt hadden te vorderen, en waartoe zy zich in billykheid geregtigd oordeelen, rekenen zy het hunnen pligt, hun ernstig verlangen, naar vol en onpartydig onderzoek naar iedere beweering tot hun nadeel te verklaren. En zy verklaren nu dat, terwyl zy besloten hebben met al hun vermogen het Gouvernement des lands te ondersteunen, zy even yverig zullen waken, dat in hunne persoon, de Britsche naam en het Britsche karakter niet onregtvaardig zullen belasterd worden, zonder dadelyk bewys te vorderen, en de beschuldiging, van wien dezelve ook komen moge, op den toets van publiek onderzoek te stellen.

4. Dat de Resolutien van deze Byeenkomst, en het Adres van de Ingezetenen aan zyne Edelheid den Luit. Gouverneur naar Europa zullen worden gezonden en gepubliceerd in de Times, de Morning Chronicle, Atlas, Watchman en andere influentieele Bladen, en dat dezelven verder naar de Kaapstad zullen worden gezonden ter plaatsing in de South African Commercial Advertiser, Zuid-Afrikaan, en Gouvernements Courant, en dat eene Inteekening worde geopend tot het goedmaken der kosten.

ROYAL OBSERVATORY, NOTICE.

THE Commanders of Ships and others connected with the Shipping Interest, are informed, that a Ball has been erected before the South-front of the Observatory, for the purpose of daily communicating to the Ships in the Harbour, the instant of one o'clock Cape mean time, which corresponds to eleven hours, forty-six minutes, five seconds, Greenwich mean time.

As the rate of a Chronometer obtained on shore rarely agrees with the true rate at sea,—(the motion of the Ship and other causes producing the alteration),—it becomes necessary to ascertain the sea rate, after the Chronometer has been placed on board in the berth it is to occupy during the voyage, and from which on no account should it be removed throughout that period.

The present contrivance furnishes a convenient method for obtaining this important object, without any calculation or difficulty. All that the Observer has to do, is, to point the common ship Spy-glass to the Signal Ball a minute or two before 1 o'clock, and to note the instant of the fall of the Ball from the top of the staff, by Chronometer. Then 11h. 46m. 5s. subtracted from the time by Chronometer gives the error of the Chronometer, or Greenwich mean time, which, compared with the error obtained at departure, will give the rate during the interval.

When the vessel continues a week or ten days in the harbour, it will be satisfactory to know the existing rate. If the rate should be trifling, perhaps less than the probable errors of observation, it will be right to diminish the latter by dividing the observations into two or more groups, and to take the mean of each group for one observation, the differences of these means, divided by the intervals in days, will give a determination very close to the truth.

KONINKLYK OBSERVATORIUM.

BEKENDMAKING.

DE Bevelhebbers van Schepen en anderen in verband staande met de Scheepsbelangen, worden by deze onderrigt, dat er eene Bol is opgerigt voor het Zuidelyk Front van het Koninklyk Observatorium, ten einde de Vaartuigen in de Tafel Baai dadelyk te verwittigen van het oogenblik van Een ure, Kaapsche ware tyd, gelyk staande met 11 ure, zes en veertig minuten, en vyf seconden ware tyd te Greenwich.

Daar de gang van eenen Chronometer, aan wal bekomen, zelden overeenstemd met de ware gang op zee (waar de beweging van het Schip en andere oorzaken eene verandering te weeg brengen) wordt het noodig den zeegang te observeren, na dat de Chronometer aan boord op deszelfs plaats is gesteld, van waar dezelve, gedurende den Reis, nooit moet worden weggenomen.

Het tegenwoordig middel geeft eene uitmuntende manier om dat belangryk doel te bereiken, zonder eenige berekening of moeite. Al wat de Observateur te doen heeft, is de gewone Scheeps kyker een paar minuten voor Een ure te rigten naar de Seinbol, en te letten op het oogenblik dat de Bol van de Stok valt, by Chronometer. Dan is 11u. 46m. 5s. afgetrokken van den tyd by Chronometer, de afwyking van de Chronometer, of de ware tyd te Greenwich, welke vergeleken met de afwyking tydens het vertrek, den gang geeft gedurende den tusschen tyd.

Wanneer het Vaartuig eene week of tien dagen op de Reede blyft, zal het goed zyn den jnisten gang te bepalen. Indien de gang dan gering is, misschien minder dan de gewone dwalingen van Observatie, zal men wel doen de laatsten te verminderen, door het verdeelen der waarnemingen in twee of meer groepen, en nemende het gemiddelde van iedere groep voor eene Observatie. De verschillen dezer middengetallen, gedeeld door het middel getal in dagen, zal een besluit geven dat zeer na aan de waarheid komt.

HORTICULTURAL AND AGRICULTURAL CALENDAR,

By JAMES BOWIE, Botanist.

FOR OCTOBER.

In this month rain falls now and then, the winds are rather variable, generally from the north-west. In some years the south-east wind does much injury to tender crops during this month,

Kitchen Garden.—Sow in drills and pretty thick, seeds of the silver skinned, or of the white onion, for pickling; this crop being expressly intended to produce small bulbs, are not to be thinned out nor supplied with water, and when they have attained the required size, they are to be pulled up and dried by a few hours' exposure to the sun, but not to remain long enough to be scorched.

Sow Cape cabbage, cauliflower, cos and cabbage lettuce, radish, early Dutch turnip, and red beet; pumkins, melons, and water-melons, as succession crops, and the young cucumber and melon plants must be sheltered from the south-east wind, by placing small bushes to the windward of the plants, drawing the earth to the stems, and continue to observe the instructions for the cucumbers, given in January, the melons do not require pruning, but the leading stems must be secured from injury by strong winds, by pegging them to the ground.

Continue to plant out successional crops of cabbage, celery, lettuce, onions and leeks, into moist and well manured soil.

Plant out capsicum, chili-pepper, and egg-plant, spread a mixture of fresh horse dung and dead leaves two inches thick about the plants and over the beds they are in, to shade the roots and save watering, when it can be done, Tomatos and okro to be planted out; a successional crop of the okro may be sown in rows, leaving the plants eighteen inches apart. India or Guinea sorrel, (hibiscus sabdariffa) cultivated for its leaves, may be sown and treated in the same manner.

Thin out the young crops of carrot, parsnip, and turnip, giving the two former plenty of room to swell their roots, and to promote this, loosen the ground about them, and in dry weather, water must be given as frequently as possible.

Potatoes intended to be kept, may be placed in a cool dry shed, and covered with straw, or other long and dry litter, or pits may be dug, of a convenient size, and about three feet deep, placing some good dry straw in the bottom, heaping the potatoes in a pyramidal form, and packing straw round the heap as it is raised in height, and, on the top when completed, banking earth firmly over the whole to the thickness of eighteen inches, and let them remain till wanted.

Orchard or Vineyard.—The trees in those grounds should be carefully examined, for the eggs, pupæ, and larvæ of insects, which, if destroyed in these states, prevents future injury to the trees, and is the best method of keeping them under. Shoots springing immediately from the roots, or from the stems as far as the bark is hardened, should be removed, particularly on young stocks, as it is desirable to have trees with a clean stem to a convenient height; several of the fruit trees which throw up suckers from the root, generally denotes disease in the stocks, that sooner or later spreads over the whole tree; it frequently originates in some bad quality of the ground, perhaps, want of sufficient and proper nutriment, or an excess of food injurious to the particular species; whichever it may be, the cause must be ascertained, and the remedy applied in time. In dry weather, water must be led to the trees.

Flower Garden.—Constant waterings in dry weather are requisite for all plants in this department, and the young plants of exotics be planted out: the best time for this is immediately after the cotyledons or seed leaves are fully expanded, and the future stem or leaves pushing up, care must be taken not to injure their roots on removing, and they must be shaded from the noon and mid-day sun, keeping the soil moist about them, but neither giving too much, nor very cold water. Such tulips, ranunculus, and anemonies, as are reserved for seed should be marked, and the seed vessels of the others cut off. Towards the end of this month, or the begining of November, these bulbs must be taken up, the best time is when the leaves are decayed.

Vineyard.—The ground must be kept free from weeds, and the shoots of the vines topped, those producing clusters must be cut off the third joint beyond the truss; a good stirring of the surface of the ground is favorable to the vines at this season. The vines on trellis work must be trained in the direction required, and tied, to secure them from the force of the wind, this work should be done in dry warm weather; in dark and moist weather the shoots are brittle and require more care.

Farm.—Now commences the most busy time for the farmer: barley and oats must be harvested, and the general instructions of last month attended to in this, if required.

Fruits.—Oranges: this fruit being now perfectly ripe, seeds of the best flavored kinds should be preserved for planting. Lemons, limes and loquat.

In choosing seeds for planting, for the citrus (orange-tree) the finest flavored, and deepest coloured, well shaped fruit, and such of these as produce the fewest seeds, should be selected. In regard to the seville, or bitter orange, a thick rind is to be preferred. The fruit may be allowed to remain till nearly rotten, before the seeds are cleaned from the pulp, and dried for a day or two before they are sown.

Beds of a sandy loam, well manured with old cow-dung, should be prepared for their reception. The seeds are to be sown in drills drawn about three feet apart from each other; and, if the weather should prove dry, they must be occasionally watered. The young plants will appear in about three weeks; soon after which they must be thinned out to about nine inches from each other in the rows. The leaving them thus close, is to cause them, if possible, to form but one clean and upright stem, from 18 inches to 5 or 6 feet in height, which will give a variety of stocks for grafting upon (should their fruit not render them worth keeping), suitable to every purpose of useful or ornamental planting. While in a growing state, they must be supplied with liquid manure to strengthen and continue their growth; and, when this is applied, simple water will not be required.

The citrus may be propagated by cuttings, which may be put in the ground at all seasons of the year, while the trees are not forming young wood. The cuttings must be formed of the ripened and round-shaped stems; cutting off the angular and less matured wood, and leaving a few leaves on the upper part of the cutting. The cuttings being planted in a light rich soil, may remain without water for some time, unless the season should be very dry. Shade them from the glare of the sun: and when they begin to shoot, treat them as directed for the seedlings. They should be made from 9 to 18 inches long, allowing from 2 to 6 inches being left above ground. The citrus cuttings do not require glasses.

The insects which infest those trees may be destroyed by making a lye of soft or black soap, nearly of the consistence of cream, adding thereto four ounces of tobacco-dust, and one ounce of sulphur vivum to each gallon. On the stems this mixture may be applied with a brush, and the leaves sprinkled therewith by a garden engine or watering-pot.

LONDON COMMERCIAL RETROSPECT,—Aug. 1.

There was considerable business done last week in the Colonial Markets. There have been many buyers of Coffee, and prices have advanced for all descriptions except Foreign. Tea has sold at firm prices, but not with spirit. Sugar of the growth of British Plantation has sold to the extent of 1700 hhds. at rather lower prices than last week. Every kind of Raw Sugar has declined in value, and Refined Goods have gone down also. Spices have undergone no variation. We shall have no more matters of duty reduced this Session than what appear in the Custom Duties Bill. Dyewoods are in steady demand, and prices are unaltered. Saltpetre has sold at full prices. Wool has advanced considerably every where both at home and abroad, and the market is in a state of considerable briskness universally. Rum has also been in lively demand, and prices have advanced. Spanish Indigo has sold at prices considerably above those realized at the last sale of this commodity. Rice continues firm and so does Cocoa. Fish Oils are dull and lower. Tallow has advanced, and is in rather better demand.

Money has been very scarce, and discounts high, say 4½ to 5 per cent. A large quantity of Money has been wanted for the Wool, Indigo, and Tea prompts. The quotations of the Funds have been lower. Consols have been 91⅛ ¼ Account; to-day they have been 90⅞ 91. Spanish Bonds have been as low as 37⅝ ⅞ since our last, but a purchase of 40,000 gave them a lift, and the quotation has since touched 39, and has from that price receded to 38¼ ½; to-day they have been 36½ ¾. Portuguese 5 per cent. Bonds have been 78½; to-day the quotation has been 77. No other Foreign Securities present any matter for comment.

The great scarcity of cash just now has a great tendency to curtail operations of all kinds. It is to be hoped that the markets will soon be relieved from this pressure.

Accounts from Messina to the 3d instant, state that the Olive crop looked well, and a fall in the price was anticipated if appearances continued favourable. Bourbon advices to the 5th April states, that owing to a storm there would be a deficiency of one-third of the Sugar crop. Rice had advanced 20 per cent. Accounts from Havannah, received since our last, state that the produce of the island was in a dull state, and that a decline was looked for. Coffee was 8 to 12¼. The crop of Sugar at Rio Janeiro will prove large; the crop of new Coffee was coming forward. The stock of Flour was estimated at 35,000 barrels. Sugar is advancing at Pernambuco, white was held at 2,800 per arrobe, and browns at 2,000. Hides were rather neglected.

August 2.

SUGAR.—MAURITIUS.—There were two small public sales this afternoon, amounting together to 1023 bags, which sold fully up to former rates; dry brown 64s 6d to 65s, middling 67s to 68s 6d per cwt.

The stock of Mauritius is 55,088 bags, against 84,013 at the same time last year, thus showing a decrease of 28,925 bags; the weekly deliveries are 3,844 bags, against 2,536 last year.—These returns include the East India Dock Company.

EAST INDIA.—This afternoon 625 bags Bengal at auction sold at a reduction on previous rates of 1s to 2s per cwt. fine white went at 40s. good middling 36s to 38s 6d, damps sold at 37s 6d to 38s 6d.

COFFEE.—The demand for all the clean qualities of British Plantation throughout the week has again been extremely animated; the grocers have purchased largely, and have paid an advance on previous rates on the middling and colory descriptions of 3s to 4s, and 2s to 3s per cwt. for the ordinary qualities.

This afternoon 99 bags St. Domingo, of fine ordinary quality, found ready buyers at full prices, 55s per cwt. The B. P. descriptions this afternoon were again in good demand by the grocers, and prices still improving. 134 casks Jamaica at public sale, sold with great briskness at an advance on the prices of Friday of 1s to 2s per cwt; good ordinary sold at 78s to 85s. fine ordinary 86s to 90s. fine fine ordinary to middling 94s to 100; 280 bags Sumatra were also offered at public auction, but taken in at 42s to 46s for fair to good quality. 63 bales Mocha at public sale found ready buyers at 72s for good common quality, with few blacks, being an advance of fully 2s per cwt. 138 bags Ceylon, at the 9d duty, were all taken in at 54s for very ordinary.

TEA.—Last week there were public sales amounting to about 16,500 packages, which have gone off with considerable animation, above two-thirds of the total quantity has found ready buyers; the remainder, consisting chiefly of Twankay, was withdrawn for higher prices. Fine Congous have sold at 1s 8d to 2s 5½d, which is fully the previous value, common sold rather easier 1s 2d to 1s 3½d Common Hysons have sold a little cheaper than at the previous sales, from 2s 9d to 2s 11d; but the finer sorts have been withdrawn for an advance of 2d per lb. on previous quotations. The market was firm, although the large payments for Bohea Duty occupied much of the attention of the trade; the total amount paid exceeds one million sterling.

WOOL.—The large public sales of Colonial Wool, amounting in all to about 6000 bales, as well as some parcels of German, Spanish, &c. which commenced on the 20th July, finished on Saturday evening with much spirit; they have attracted considerable interest, and the attendance of buyers from the manufacturing districts has been unusually large. The biddings have been very animated throughout for the Wools imported from our colonies, and the prices as compared with the last public sales, may be stated 2d to 3d per lb. higher, which has been paid by the manufacturers as well as some Foreign dealers. Australian 1s 10d to 3s 3d for good combing and superior flocks, second quality 2s 5d, middling 1s 10d to 2s 4d, inferior and in grease 1s 4d to 1s 6d. Van Dieman's Land, choice flocks 2s 7½d to 3s 4d, good 2s 3d to 2s 7d, middling 1s 9d to 2s 3d, ordinary and in the grease 1s to 1s 4d. Lambs' 1s to 2s 2d for good fleeces. German has met with ready buyers at fully the previous rates 2s 2d to 2s 10. Spanish has likewise gone off with considerable activity at 1s 11d to 2s 8d which is rather stiffer. All the Wool fairs throughout the manufacturing districts have been largely attended, and the Wools have generally sold with considerable briskness at higher prices than those obtained last year.

OILS.—All kinds of Fish Oils have a very languid appearance, and prices are drooping. Southern Oil at public sale, about 250 tuns sold at a further reduction on previous rates of 20s per tun. The sales commenced heavily at the decline; fine quality, in good ships casks, selling from £30 to £30 10s, but the latter part of the sales was withdrawn at £31, the holder refusing to take less. There has been rather more doing in Rape Oil, both on the spot and for forward delivery, and prices have advanced to 47s for pale quality, and 46s 6d for brown. The demand for Linseed Oil has been steady, and the market firmer, 39s having been paid. The holders of Sperm Oil are very firm, and will not sell except at £80 for first quality. Olive Oil is heavy sale, and £1 per tun lower. 150 tuns Southern, at public sale on Friday, sold at £30 5s to £32, which is higher.

The accounts from the Newfoundland Fishery are very unfavorable, they state, several of the vessels had been lost, and that the remaining ships had met with little success.

The funds to-day have been lower. Spanish 35½, Portuguese 76½, and securing very little business.

Consols have been 90⅞ 91. India Bonds par to 2 discount, and Exchequer Bills 9. 11—Money is 4½ per cent. interest: and Railway Shares are again on the decline.

Proposed further Reduction of Customs Duties.

In addition to the list of reductions already enumerated in the Customs Duties Bill, last night Mr. Poulett Thompson proposed several others. Pepper is to be reduced to 6d per lb. duty—Pimento to 3d per lb duty—Cloves to 6d per lb. duty—Mace to 2s 6d per lb duty. Maps and Charts are to be placed on the same footing as Prints, and to pay 1d per piece. Castor Oil, the produce of our own possessions, is to be reduced to 1s 3d per cwt. duty. Silver Plate is to be admitted at a duty of 2s 6d per oz. and Gold at £1. Woollen Rags are to be admitted at the nominal duty of 1s per ton The duty on Verdigris is to be reduced to 6d per lb. Rice, rough and in the husk, imported from the West Coast of Africa, 1d per quarter duty—Rosewood £6 per ton duty—Teakwood 10d the load duty—Ditto, imported from any British Possession within the East India Company's Charter, 1d the load duty—Bees Wax, unbleached, the produce of the West Coast of Africa, and imported from thence, 10s the cwt. duty. There is to be no alteration in the duties on French Plums and Prunes, nor on Books printed since 1801, as proposed by Dr. Bowring.

The Alteration in the Duties on Sugar, and its Effects on the Production of that Article.

There can be but little doubt, that partial as is the equalization of the duties on East India Sugars, still an impulse will be given to an increased and improved production of this commodity in the East. A market being increasingly opened by the reduction of the duty, will necessarily cause the Sugar growers there to turn their attention to its cultivation; and every effort will doubtless be made to secure the greatest quantity and the best quality that circumstances will allow. There is no knowing how far the quality of East India Sugar may be improved, and be made to approach towards that of the West Indies. Superior machinery will do much with cultivation to improve the quality. Mr. Stevens, of the Sugar Refinery, corner of Rupert-street, Great Alie-street, Goodman's Fields, has made public an Apparatus by which a much larger quantity of Sugar of improved quality and a less quantity of Molasses is obtained; and that at less expense than is ordinarily undergone in this process. Mr. Stevens states that he has been a Refiner of Sugar for many years, both in this country and in most of our Colonies in the West Indies: and is also intimate with the cultivation as well as the manufacture of Sugar.

He states that he can boil Sugar at a temperature of 100 degrees below that made use of in the common method: and all the work in the Boiling House is done with one fire only. He lays great stress on the management of Sugar at the point of granulation; and proposes, by using one fire only, to save two thirds of the Cane trash or Magos, which he proposes to make serviceable for manure instead of fuel. He states that his apparatus is so constructed, that it will last for many years though in constant operation: and he has also a party who accompanies his apparatus to the place of its destination, and superintends its erection and operation.

At this period of the Sugar trade, when an impulse is given by altered duties to the cultivation and manufacture of sugar, these statements are deserving of attention.—London, Aug. 1.

State of Trade in the Manufacturing Districts.

ROCHDALE FLANNEL MARKET, July 25.—The market has been somewhat better attended, but there was not much business done. The principal sale was in low flannels: fine and middle qualities were scarcely inquired after. Last week's prices were generally maintained. The Wool market was unusually dull at prices the same as last week.

LANCASHIRE.—This week a little alteration has taken place; figured silks, which have been stopped for two months, have begun to stir again. Several of the manufacturers have been giving out fancy reeds this week. The cotton trade is in a flourishing state. Fancy nankeen weavers are very scarce, and cannot meet the demand. The gingham trade continues good.

YORKSHIRE.—More business has been done both in the Cloth Halls and Warehouses of Leeds than for some weeks past, and prices remain steady. At Bradford, business continues brisk, and prices have advanced from 6d to 1s per piece during the last month or six weeks. The Yarn trade was never in a brisker state, and several new mills are in the course of erection. There has been no alteration in the wool market. At Halifax there has been no alteration, either in the amount of business or prices, excepting in low and middle qualities, in which no sales can be effected excepting at a sacrifice. No alteration in the wool markets, but staplers are said to complain of the prices asked by the farmers in the country, which are such as to leave dealers little remuneration. There was a good attendance at the York and Wakefield wool markets, and former prices were fully maintained.

LEICESTER.—The state of the hosiery and glove trade in this town and country was never more promising. The extent of the shipping demand has prevented the accumulation of goods for home consumption in the manufacturers' hands, and will, in all probability, insure a fair, regular, and steady demand, for all useful goods, down to Christmas.

The late advance to the Woolcombers of Leicester, will only average 1s 3d per week, instead of 2s as stated last week.

ANTWERP, 29th July 1836.—Our market is miserably dull for Sugar and Coffee, the latter article principally, in consequence of the advertised large sale of the Dutch Trading Company of 303,000 bags. Cotton has been a little more enquired after, principally United States. East India still dull.

Evil of Railroads.

The NEW YORK GAZETTE gives the following argumen against railroads by a Conservative Yanker, who had a dread of the march of improvement that would do credit to an English ultra Tory:—"He saw what would be the effect of it; that it would set the whole world a gading. Twenty miles an hour, Sir! Why you will not be able to keep an apprentice boy at his work; every Saturday evening he must take a trip to Ohio, to spend the Sabbath with his sweetheart. Grave, plodding citizens will be flying about like comets. All local attachments must be at an end. It will encourage flig tiness of intellect. Veracious people will turn into the most immeasurable liars; all their conceptions will be exaggerated by their magnificent notions of distance. 'Only a hundred miles off. Tut, nonsense, I'll step across, madam, and bring your tea!' 'Pray, Sir, will you dine with me at my little box at Alleghany?' 'Why, indeed, I don't know—I shall be in town until twelve. Well, I shall be there, but you must let me off in time for the theatre.' And then, Sir, there will be barrels of pork, and cargoes of flour, and chaldrons of coals, and even lead and whiskey, and such like other things, that have been used to sober travelling, whisking away like a set of sky-rockets. It will upset all the gravity of the nation. If two gentlemen have an affair of honour, they have only to steal off to the Rocky Mountains, and there no jurisdiction can touch them. And then, Sir, think of flying for debt. A set of bailiffs mounted on bomb-shells would not overtake an absconded debtor, only give him a fair start. Upon the whole, Sir, it is a pestilential, topsy-turvy, harumskarum whirligig. Give me the old, solemn, straight-forward regular Dutch canal, three miles an hour for expresses, and two for jog and trot journeys, with a yoke of oxen for a heavy load. I go for beasts of burden—it is more primitive and scriptural, and suits a moral and religious people better. None of your hop-skip-and-jump whimsies now for me.—London Paper.

Medical evidence has been published, as taken before the House of Lords, relative to Stephenson's Brighton line of Road, with a tunnel. Several very eminent medical men have expressed themselves strongly against tunnels, as being injurious to the health of those who may travel through them—colds will be taken from the change of temperature; and the tunnel being lighted with gas, will, it is said, be very unwholesome and injurious.

LONDON COMMERCIAL RETROSPECT.—Aug. 8.

There was a fair business done last week in Colonial Produce; 3000 hhds. of British Plantation Sugar have been sold at prices somewhat better than the previous week. Neither Mauritius Sugar nor any other kind of Raw Sugar has altered in value. Refined Goods remain much as they were. There has been considerable business done in Coffee, and higher prices paid for British Plantation—Mocha is also dearer. Tea has secured more business at firm prices. Rice remains firm. Cocoa keeps up to the full prices quoted last week. It might have been supposed that the proposed reductions of duties on Spices would have affected prices, but it has had no effect, prices remain without any variation worthy of notice from those quoted last week. Indigo continues animated and firm. In Dyewoods nothing is doing by public sale, and prices remain the same as before quoted. Cotton has been languid, and we are not authorised to make any variation in prices. In the market for Fish and Seed Oils there is nothing new. Tallow secured better prices at the beginning of the week, but the market has become flat and lower.

The imports of Colonial Produce have been considerable, and the exports have been to a fair extent.

The Money Market has been devoid of all excitement, and has not been the scene of any extensive operations. The death of Mr. Rothschild being what was for some time expected, did not produce any effect on the quotations of securities English or Foreign; still a very considerable sensation has been produced by the event, not only amongst the men on the Stock Exchange, but amongst capitalists every where, who feel that they have lost the first man of their order. The extensive connection of the deceased with almost all the governments of the civilised world will cause his death to be very extensively known and felt. Consols have varied very little from 91¼ ⅜ Money and Account; to-day the quotation has been 91¼ ⅜. Spanish Bonds on Friday were 36¼ ½; on Saturday they were 36¼, and 36 to-day. These prices are not much varied from those of last week, as indeed there has been nothing arrived from the peninsula to produce any alteration in the quotations. Public matters in Spain appear to be in a very uncertain state, and the continued inactivity of the Spanish troops furnishes just cause for much suspicion and distrust. The impression, and a correct one it seems is, that the Carlists are gaining ground, as they must of necessity during this long continued inactivity of the Queen's forces. Portuguese Bonds were 77½ 78 on Friday; on Saturday the quotation was 77½, and 78 to-day. These securities necessarily sympathise very much with Spanish Bonds. These Stocks continue to be the only ones which awaken much enquiry or excite much interest in the Money market. Money continues scarce, and discounts have been 4½ per cent. on good paper.

The agricultural labourers at St. Christophers have been induced to leave and go to Demerara from the inducement of higher wages, and fears were entertained that St. Christophers would be deserted by this valuable class of men.

Advices from Jamaica to the 26th of June state that the crop of Sugar would fall below an average. The greatest tranquility prevailed in the island.

Commercial accounts from Calcutta state that the import of Indigo up to the 16th of March last was 109,704 maunds, being an excess over the amount in the corresponding period of last year of 7245 maunds. The exports of 1835, 1836, were 95,781, and those of the corresponding period of the preceding year 71,098. Sugar had advanced in price.

New York papers to the 16th of July have arrived. The crops in the United States are represented as having improved, the wet weather having been succeeded by warmth. The formation of Railroads is progressing in the United States quicker than in any other country.

August 9.

SUGAR.—The market for West India Raw Sugars to-day was again very brisk, he demand was good both from the grocers and refiners, particularly from the former. The transactions generally were at stiffer prices than could be obtained on Friday last. At auction 100 hhds new Barbadoes found ready buyers at an improvement of 6d per cwt. on the price of the last public sale; good to fine grocery 70s to 73s. The estimated purchases this day are 1800 hhds. and trcs, in some cases at an advance of 6d per cwt.; low brown Demerara selling at 65s 6d, good brown 66s 6d to 67s 6d.

MAURITIUS.—For this description there is also a good demand this afternoon, and some parcels in second hands of the late public sale, have realised a profit of 1s per cwt.

The stock of Mauritius is 51,243 bags, against 78,428 at the same time last year, thus showing a decrease of 27,185 bags; the weekly deliveries are 3,845 bags, against 5,229 last year.—These returns include the East India Dock Company.

COFFEE.—The British Plantation descriptions continued in good request this afternoon by the grocers, and 148 casks at public sale fully supported the advanced rates of last week—low middling sold at 97s 6d to 102s; fine fine ordinary 93s 6d to 96s; good ordinary 83s 6d to 84s 6d; very ordinary 70s per cwt.

SAGO.—At public sale to-day 4960 bags and 7 chests common brown coarse grain, about half of which were sold at 7s to 9s, being a reduction of 1s per cwt.; the remainder was taken in at those prices.

COTTON.—The prices have not given way during the week, although the market has again been very quiet, the transactions not exceeding 750 bales, comprising 470 bales ordinary to good Bengal at 4¾d to 6d. 130 Surat middling to good fair 5½d to 8d, and 150 Madras middling to good fair 5¾ a 7½d.

Public sales to the amount of about 2700 bales of East India are announced for the 12th instant.

The stock of East India Cotton in London on the 1st inst. was 44,250 bales against 22,671 bales at the same period of 1835.

PEPPER.—At fully the rates of last week there continues a brisk demand for the better qualities of Malabar, and parcels have been sold privately at 4¾d to 4¾d for half heavy unsifted to good sifted. At auction 128 bags stalky Sumatra, were taken in at 4¼d for inferior quality, dusty.

FRUIT.—For Currants there has been more enquiry, and nearly all the inferior parcels have been taken out of the market, and there are none offering now under 62s; a small parcel of Patras and a parcel of barrels Chesme Raisins were offered by public sale, and there were scarcely any bids, the greater part appeared to be bought in, the former at 64s to 66s for butts and caroteels, and the latter 30s to 36s, part being of inferior quality.

WOOL.—The market for Colonial descriptions since the late public sales, has been rather quiet, but the advance is supported. English Wools are in brisk demand and rather stiffer prices have been obtained; choice qualities are selling at 2s 1d per lb. The business in Foreign kinds is almost confined to German, at full prices. The quantity of Spanish at market being small, and a good demand existing at present for the better qualities.

CASHMERE ANGORA GOAT.

As the Government Gazette has a very wide circulation in the Country Districts, I hope that any communication connected like the following with our colonial rural economy may prove acceptable.

In introducing a new breed of animals into a country, there are three things principally to be considered, namely, the adaptation of the climate and soil and the price of labor; let us see how far a knowledge of the effect of climate and soil on quadrupeds generally, and upon the goat in particular, as well as a comparison of the price of labor between this and other countries, will enable us to form a conjecture as to the success we are likely to meet with in rearing the Cashmere Angora Goat.

1st. We know that in its natural state the fine woolled goat has been found only in the colder regions of Persia and Hindostan. Martin mentions some of the finest shawl goats, met with on the Himalaya mountains, 14,700 feet above the level of the sea, and what was remarkable, at this spot the suns rays were oppressive, with the thermometer at 178. The effect of a very cold or rare atmosphere upon the down of sheep appears the same. Ritchie in his "Barbarians of the North," published in the New Monthly Magazine for Dec. 1835, describes an exhibition of Russian manufactures at St. Petersburgh, and goes on to say "we then arrived at some superb cashmere shawls, which looked at a little distance, like paintings on a rich velvet ground, the price of one was 300 rubles, and of the other 1200, which I thought cheap for the article, till I discoverd that they were only imitations of cashmere; they are manufactured from a material obtained not from the goat, but from the Kirgis sheep in winter, a sort of down which grows between the coarse long hair of the animal. Last year the Emperor bought one of these shawls for 4,500 rubles (10½d each.)"

But striking as these instances are, particularly when we add examples from the races of animals, such as the Syrian Hare; the Peruvian Llama &c.—Still the appearances exhibited by the wool of sheep generally, leads one to most contradictory conclusions as to the effect of climate. We do not find the finest wool in the coldest climate—at Bordeaux, they have for centuries bred the coarsest woolled animals I ever saw, whilst not many hundred miles off in the north of Spain the original merino is reared; and even in regard to the down, it is well known that some of our Cape breeds of wiry haired animals, produce a small quantity of it underneath the coarser hair.

2d. As to soil, the goat seems to feel more at home and to be healthier in a mountainous country; varieties of the Ibex are found wild in Syria and Switzerland; but sheep also are naturally fond of hilly districts, yet they have been brought to bear more wool, and larger carcases in low lands; thus notwithstanding the diseases entailed upon them by the unnatural state in which they are kept, they have become infinitely more useful to man, than the Argoli or wild breed. The experiment of transporting the Angora Goat has not been sufficiently tried to enable us to come to any certain conclusion; in France Baron Pernaux has been indefatigable, and when I saw his flock some years ago, they appeared thriving. From the following notice in the London Courier of 27th June last, it would appear, however, that the French are still in want of information. "A writer in the Journal des debats, announces the departure of Gen. Allard in the Aube, not for Indus, but for Calcutta; that route he takes on his way to Lahore, with a brevet of French Charge d'affaires to the court of that Prince. Gen. Allard has two means (says the writer) of serving French Commerce in India—one is the transmission of exact information respecting the fabrication of Cashmere shawls, (the sending home of weavers, machines &c. has been found too expensive to be thought of,) the other is to facilitate the introduction into France of the wool of the Puniaub." In this Colony we know that there are farms not suited for goats. That goats are liable to more fatal disorders than sheep, and that in many parts we cannot allow them to breed every year, as the result would be poverty and a destructive disorder called the scurf, which carries away whole flocks in a very short time.† How far the Angora breed can live on a poorer pasture, or in how far softer state of the skin would protect it from disease, we cannot tell.

3d. As to the expence attending the management of this goat and wool, this is a point on which information is much wanted; and it would be very desirable, if the importers or others acquainted with the introducion of this valuable animal into Australia or other countries, could favour us with an account of the quantity of wool produced annually, the expence of combing or collecting it, the value of the raw material by which I mean the wool, cleaned and sorted in a fit state for being wrought up, and lastly what probability there is for a future and increased demand.

Having now briefly gone over the three points proposed, it will be seen that the success of the experiment of introducing this breed is far from certain, and although the odds would appear against us still we cannot say, until the experience of some years have taught us, whether this animal may roam "o'er meadows of Cashmere," or whether we can with profit "upon the barren mountains let him starve"

Agriculturists in all countries are generally blamed as enemies to innovation, but there is a sound and simple reason for this apparent dislike to noveity; the manufacturer has a new piece of machinery placed before him to day, an opportunity of trying its superiority to-morrow, and he may commence drawing advantage from it the day after, or, should the machine prove useless, he throws it aside, has lost only a little money and no time; but the farmer has many years to wait before the adaptation of plants and animals to particular climates and soils can be ascertained.

The Colony, therefore, owes a debt of gratitude to Mr. KORSTEN and others who have been the first to commence an experiment at a considerable outlay of Capital; which, if successful may prove highly beneficiall to all,

F. W. R.

* Baron P. is a large manufacturer, and has written a pamphlet on the Shawl Goat.

† Mr. D. G. van Renen, some years ago, imported the Syrian long-eared Goat, to improve our Cape Goats as milkers, but they have since been neglected and have degenerated.

HORTICULTURAL AND AGRICULTURAL CALENDAR,

For NOVEMBER.

The south-east wind now begins to prevail, and there falls but little rain. Locusts and Grasshoppers do much damage, particularly in the Eastern division of the colony.

Kitchen Garden.—Sow lettuce, cabbage, early Dutch turnip, knolcole and carrot in moist ground, and if possible, in shaded situations. Plant French beans and peas, about the full moon, plant out early cabbage and knolcole, and celery in ridges. To produce small cucumbers for pickling, the seeds should be sown at the full moon, in the months of October, November, and December, giving them water in the evenings, and where it can be done, allow the water to soak freely through the beds during the night. The best variety of cucumbers for "Gherkins" are the short prickly sort, of a dark green color, and require less attention in leading and pruning than the longer varieties. Cauliflower is to be sown now in rich soil, some early melons and water melons may be sown for succession crops; and, the melons which have arrived at their full growth must be deprived of water, as a continuance of moisture, while ripening destroys the high flavor of this fruit.

If possible, all young and tender crops should be sheltered by mats, or by temporary fences of reeds or bushes; where this is done to the seedbeds, the trouble is amply repaid by securing the crops until they have gained sufficient strength to resist the drying effects of the south-east winds.

Sow long-pod beans at the end of the month, and red beet may be sown as a succession crop on deep and rich soil, also white beet, when it can be occasionally supplied with water.

Nursery or Orchard.—The fruits, now advancing to maturity, should have the water led to their roots in dry weather. Stocks for budding upon in the next month should be duly watered, and all unnecessary buds rubbed off. The operation of budding may be commenced during this month, if the buds for insertion are in proper condition.

Flower Garden.—Several flower seeds are now ripening, but only those worth preserving should be allowed to arrive at maturity; all others, beginning to fail in blossoms, should be cleared from the ground (unless of the shrubby description) to make room for other plants, that a constant display of flowers may be kept up. The tube-rose may be planted and kept well supplied with water. Seeds of tropical plants may be sown now, keeping them moist, and sheltering them from the mid-day sun, until they appear above ground, when they are to be gradually exposed to the sun.

Vineyard.—Where there is a supply of water at command, it should be constantly led to the vines in dry weather, but the moment the grapes have arrived at their full growth, the supply must be cut off. The same constant attention is necessary to stopping and removing all superfluous shoots, but every precaution must be taken against exposing the fruit while advancing the growth, to the powerful effects of the sun. The young vines will be better for a constant supply of water, during this and the two next ensuing months.

Farm.—The harvest work employs the attention of the farmer principally at this season, he must however, attend to the burning of the fields.

Fruits in the Market.—Early figs, strawberries, loquats, guavas, limes, lemons, oranges, green almonds, &c.

CASCHEMIR ANGORA GEITEN.

Daar de Gouvernements Gazette, wyd en zyd in de Buitendistricten gelezen wordt, zoo vertrouw ik, dat eene mededeeling gelyk de volgende, in verband staande met onze Koloniale Buiten Economie, niet ongewenscht zal zyn.

By de invoering in een land, van een nieuw ras van dieren, moeten er drie dingen voornamelyk in acht worden genomen, te weten, de geschiktheid van het klimaat en het aardryk, en de prys van den arbeidsloon; laat ons dus zien in hoeverre eene kennis van de uitwerking van klimaat en aardryk op viervoetige dieren over het algemeen, en op de Geit in het byzonder, als ook eene vergelyking van den arbeidsloon tusschen dit en andere landen, ons in staat stellen zullen, een denkbeeld te vormen nopens den uitslag waarmede onze pogingen waarschynlyk bekroond zouden worden, in het aanfokken van de Caschemir Angora Geiten:—

1. Wy weten dat in haren natuurlyken staat, de fyne Wolgevende Geit, alleen gevonden wordt in de koudere luchtstreken van Persie en Indostan.

Martin gewaagt van sommige der fynste Tjaal-Geiten, als ontmoet op het Himaleh gebergte, 14,700 voeten boven de oppervlakte der zee, en hetgeen aanmerkelyk was in dit gewest, de stralen der zon waren drukkend, ter wyl de termometer op 17° wees.

De uitwerking van eene zeer koude of gerarifieerde luchtstreek, op het dons der Schapen, vertoont zich even zeer Ritchie in zyn werk "Barbarians of the North," in de "New Monthly Magazine," voor December 1835 gepubliceerd, beschryft eene tentoonstelling van Russische Manufacturen, te St. Petersburg, en gaat voort met te zeggen: "Wy kwamen vervolgens tot eenige uitmuntend fraave cashemir tjaals, die op een geringen afstand, het uitzien hadden van schilderyen op een ryken fluwelen grond. De prys van een was 300 Rubles, en van de andere 1200, hetgeen ik goedkoop dacht te zyn, tot dat ik uitvond dat de doeken slechts nabootzingen van cashemir waren; deze worden namelyk uit eene stof gemaakt, niet van de geit, maar van het Kirgische Schaap gedurende den winter gewonnen, een soort van dons, dat tusschen het lange grove haar van het dier groeit. Verleden jaar kocht de Keizer een dezer tjaals voor 4500 Rubles (10½d. elk.)

Maar treffend gelyk deze voorbeelden zyn, vooral wanneer wy de exempels uit de rassen van dieren, gelyk de Syriesche haas, of de Peruviaansche lamas, enz. er byvoegen, zoo voeren ons de vertooningen, in verband staande met de Wol van Schapen,—over het algemeen, tot geheel tegenstrydige gevolgtrekkingen nopens de uitwerking van het klimaat. Wy vinden niet het fynste Wol in de koudste luchtstreken. Te Bordeaux heeft men eeuwen lang de grofste wolgevende dieren aangefokt, terwyl niet vele honderd mylen afstands, in het Noorden van Spanje, de oorspronkelyke Merino gewonnen wordt, en zelfs met betrekking tot het dons, is het welbekend, dat sommige onzer Kaapsche Rassen van draatgehaarde dieren, een klein gedeelte dons onder het grover haar voortbrengen.

2. Wat het aardryk betreft, zoo schynt de Geit, zich meer te huis te gevoelen en gezonder te zyn, in een bergachtig land; varieteiten van de Ibex worden wild gevonden, in Syrie en Zwitzerland; maar ook Schapen zyn van natuur, verkleefd aan heuvelachtige gewesten, nogtans heeft men hen in lage landstreken, tot meerderen uitgroei en tot het geven van eene grootere hoeveelheid Wol gebragt, en zoodoende zyn zy niettegenstaande de ziekten, waaraan zy, door dezen onnatuurlyken staat onderworpen zyn van oneindig meer nut voor den mensch geworden, dan het Argali of wilde ras. De proefneming van de Angora Geit te verplaatsen, is nog niet voldoende door ondervinding geschraagd, om tot eenige vaste gevolgtrekking desnaangaande te geraken. In Frankryk is de *Baron Pernause onvermoeid bezig geweest, en toen ik zyne kudde eenige jaren zag, geleden scheen zy wel te aarden. Uit de volgende mededeeling in de London Courier, van den 27 Juny ll., zou men nogtans moeten opmaken, dat de Franschen nog gebrek aan informatie hebben:—"Een schryver in de Journal des Debats, annonceert het vertrekt van Generaal Allard, in de 'Aube,' niet naar Indien, maar naar Calcutta; dien weg neemt hy op zyne reis naar Lahore, met een diploma van Fransche Charge d' Affaires aan het Hof van dien vorst. Generaal Allard heeft twee middelen, (zegt den schryver) om den Franschen Handel in Indie nuttig te zyn, het eene is de overzending van een naauwkeurig berigt betrekkelyk de fabricatie van de Caschemir tjaals (het naar huis zenden van wevers, machines, enz. is te kostbaar bevonden om aan gedacht te kunnen worden) het andere is, om de introductie in Frankryk te faciliteren van de Wol van de Puniaub."

In deze Kolonie, weten wy, dat er plaatsen zyn, niet geschikt voor Geiten; dat Geiten aan gevaarlyker ziekten onderhevig zyn dan Schapen en dat in menige gedeelten, wy hen niet durven veroorloven om elk jaar jongen te teelen, daar de uitwerkingen hiervan, armoede en eene vernielende ziekte, de "schurf' genaamd zyn zouden, die geheele kudden in zeer korten tyd verslinden.* In hoe verre het Angora ras op eene armoedige weide leven kan, of in hoe verre eene zachtere gesteldheid van het vel, het tegen ziekte bewaren zoude, kunnen wy niet zeggen.

Digitized by Google

3. Rakende de onkosten waarmede de aankweking van deze Geit en Wol vergezeld gaan, dit is een punt, waaromtrent onderrigt ten hoogste noodig is, en het zou zeer wenschelyk zyn, wanneer de Invoerders of anderen, die met de introductie van dit kostbaar dier, in Australie of andere landen bekend zyn, ons begunstigen konden of eene mededeeling over de kwantiteit van Wol jaarlyks gewonnen, de onkosten van kammen of collecteren derzelve, de waarde van de raauwe stof, waaronder ik versta, de Wol gereinigd en gesorteerd in een geschikte staat om bewerkt te worden, en laatstelyk, welke waarschynlykheid er is, voor eene toekomstige en toenemende aanvraag.

Ik heb thans kortelyks de drie voorgestelde punten behandeld; men zal ontwaard hebben, dat de goede uitslag van de proefneming om dit ras in te voeren, ver af van zeker is, en ofschoon de kansen tegen ons te zyn schynen, zoo kunnen wy nogtans niet beweren, tot dat de ondervinding van eenige jaren ons geleerd zal hebben, of dit dier op de "auwen van Caschemir moet weiden" dan wel, of wy met voordeel "hem op de onvruchtbare gebergten kunnen doen honger lyden."

Landbouwers in alle gewesten, worden over het algemeen gelaakt, als vyanden van nieuwe onderneming, maar er bestaat eene gegronde en eenvoudige rede, voor dezen schynbaren tegenzin tegen nieuwigheden, de Manufacturist ziet een nieuw stuk Machinerie heden voor hem geplaatst; hy heeft de gelegenheid reeds morgen deszelfs grootere waarde te beproeven, en kan den volgenden dag beginnen voordeel daarvan te trekken, of in geval de Machine nutteloos bevonden is, werpt hy dezelve ter zyde, en heeft slechts een weinig geld, maar geen tyd verlooren; maar de Landbouwer moet vele jaren wachten, voor dat de geschiktheid van planten en dieren, voor byzondere luchtstreken en aardryken, kan worden uitgevonden.

De Kolonie is dus onder groote verpligting aan den Hr. KORSTEN, en anderen, die het eerste eene proefneming gewaagd hebben, onder de besteeding van een aanzienlyk Kapitaal, die wanneer zy eenen gewenschten uitslag heeft zal ten hoogste nuttig voor allen worden.

F. W. R.

* De Hr. D. G. VAN REENEN invoerde eenige jaren geleden, Syriesche langoorgeiten, om ons Kaapsch ras, in het melkgeven te verbeteren. maar deze zyn sedert verontachtzaamd en verbasterd.

By Capt. PATTERSON of the Comet, from Delegoa Bay, we are informed that the unfortunate schooner James, from Table Bay, to the above place, had not arrived at her destination in August last, being then upwards of 13 months from the day of her departure from this Port. This coincides with the report of Capt. POPHAM, of H. M. Ship Pelican, who had not heard of her when on that coast.

There is little doubt she foundered in the tremendous N. W. Gale that took place in August last year shortly after she had been spoken to by the Agatha Jessie, on the 17th of said month, which latter vessel had experienced very severe weather, and had to beat up for 23 days from off Natal to Table Bay.

Gouvernements Gazette en Handelslyst.

Circulatie:—800 Exemplaren.

Gelezen door alle Klassen, doch voornamelyk door Handteering en Handeldryvenden.

DE zeer lage prys (Rds. 9 per jaar) heeft aanleiding gegeven, dat deszelfs circulatie meer dan VERDUBBELD is in omtrent zeven maanden. Inteekenaren nemen wekelyks toe.

Buiten deszelfs nut als een Authentieke Aanteekening van de WETTEN DER KOLONIE, heeft het onder deszelfs tegenwoordig bestuur, de additionele byvoeging van eene "HANDELSLYST" welke wekelyks eene menigte algemeene Advertentien bevat.

 De Gazette en Handels Lyst wordt genomen aan de "Jerusalem," "Loyds" en N. en Z Amerikaansche Koffyhuizen, door het Genootschap van Kaapschen Handel, en door vele private Personen, in verband staande met de Kolonie, te London, op St. Helena, Mauritius, Nieuw Zuid Wales, Van Diemen's Land, te Calcutta, enz., enz.

KAAPSCHE WOL.

Wy verzoeken de grootste oplettendheid onzer Schapenboeren op de volgende opgaaf, eener verkooping van KAAPSCHE WOL, die in London op den 7den September ll., gehouden is. Deszelfs buitengemeene goede kwaliteit bestond in de lengte der Wol, derzelver gelyke hoedanigheid, vryheid van zand en onzuiverheid (het laatste een algemeen gebrek in Kaapsche Wol) en daarin, dat ze wel gewasschen was. Deze kwantiteit Wol was van de plaats van den Heer C. GRIFFITHS, van Albanie, en was van het Huis van de Heeren THOMSON, WATSON, & Co. geconsigneerd.

Verscheidene balen Kaapsche Wol, hebben onlangs even hooge pryzen behaald, en door laken Fabrikanten verklaard, in allen opzigte even goed te zyn, als de beste Duitsche Wol; en door oplettendheid op het wasschen en assorteren, houden wy ons overtuigd, zal de Wol dezer Kolonie, spoedig denzelfden rang bekleeden met de Wol van Duitschland en van Nieuw Zuid Wales. Wy verzoeken onze Kaapsche Landlieden, hunne buuren het voorgaande te verhalen.

CAPE WOOLS.

We invite the earnest attention of our Sheep Farmers to the following statement of a Sale of CAPE WOOL, which was held in London on the 7th Sept. last. Its superior qualities consisted in—the length of Staple;—evenness of quality;—freeness from sand and filth (a general fault with Cape Wools), and its being well washed. These parcels were from the farm of C. GRIFFITHS, esq. of Albany, and were sent to the house of Messrs. THOMSON, WATSON, & Co.

Several parcels of our Wools have lately brought as high prices as, and have been pronounced by the Clothiers to be in all respects equal to, the best German Fleeces; and, by attention to Washing and Assorting, we feel assured that the Fleece of this Colony will soon rank side by side with the Wools of Germany and of New South Wales. We request our Cape Farmers to make this known to their neighbours.—"Zegt het voort."

COMMERCIAL RETROSPECT.—SEPT. 12.

The public sales of Colonial Wool commenced on Wednesday, but did not go off with the briskness anticipated; which is attributed to the Wool not being so well washed, and being brought forward before all the principal buyers had arrived from the manufacturing districts; those offered since have, however, gone off with increased spirit and at better prices.—All kinds of Silk continue to be taken off readily at improving rates. Almost all descriptions of common Fish Oils have again advanced, particularly Cod and Pale Seal, and very considerable business has been done by the home dealers.

The Money Market has been on the whole barren as to business last week, although more has been done in Foreign Securities than during the week before. There has been no intelligence of any particular kind to affect quotations, but the great scarcity of Money hampers all kinds of monetary or mercantile operations. As much as 6 per cent. discount has been paid on American Bills, and the complaint under the pressure of the scarcity of Money has been universal. Consols have been 90¾ 91 generally, and with very little fluctuation; to-day they have been 91.—Exchequer Bills have been down to 2 prem. Spanish Bonds have been better this week, the highest quotation has been 32; on Friday they were 31¼ ½, and to-day they have been 29¾ 30.

Trinadad papers to the 23d July state that the revenue of the colony for last year was £42,400 10s. 1½d, and the expenditure had left a balance in the treasury of £10,046 1s. 0¾d.

Rio Janeiro papers to the 12th of July state that the exchange on England was 84¼.

New York advices to the 16th ultimo, communicate nothing of commercial importance. The exchange on England was 7½ prem.

Jamaica papers to a late date were received in London to-day. Their commercial information states that the Coffee market had been very brisk, and that prices exhibited an improved tendency. Considerable business doing in Rum, and the stock was small. Sugar was in brisk demand, and there was considerable competition among the buyers.

SEPT. 13.—To-day there has been considerable agitation on the Stock Exchange, and from the opening prices the quotations have receded; Consols from 90⅞ ⅛ money declined to 90⅛ ⅜, and from 90⅞ 91 account to 90⅜ ⅝. Exchequer Bills 1 to 2 prem. Spanish Bonds from 29½ declined to 28¼; and Portuguese 5 per cent. Regency Bonds from 67¼ went down to 65½ 66.

SEPT. 13.—SUGAR.—There was a slight improvement in the demand for B. P. Raw Sugar to-day, and rather more business was done than on any one day for the last fortnight; both the grocery descriptions as well as those for the pan were taken with better spirit on about the same terms as the cheap parcels on Friday, and in some instances lower rates were accepted. The estimated purchases this day are 600 hhds. and tres., including 50 hhds. Barbadoes at public sale, which went heavily about 1s. per cwt. cheaper than the last public sale, but equal to the market prices, middling to good grocery 70s. to 72s. 6d.

The stock of B. P. is 36,358 hhds. and tierces, against 32,458 at the corresponding period of 1835, thus showing an increase of 3900 hhds. and tierces; the weekly deliveries are 2345 hhds. and tierces, against 2895 at the same time last year, thus showing a decrease of 550.

MAURITIUS.—The prices of this description continue on the decline; two public sales were brought forward this afternoon containing together 2838 bags which went off without spirit again at a reduction of 6 per cwt. and in some cases even a greater decline was submitted to; middling and good Sugars for the scale sold at 66s. to 68s. 6d. good browns at 65s. to 65s. 6d., low browns at 56s. to 57s., some washed brown sold at 53s. 6d. to 54s. 6d per cwt.

The stock of Mauritius is 44,199 bags, against 71,920 at the same time last year, thus showing a decrease of 27,421 bags; the weekly deliveries are 2,805 bags, against 3,295 last year.—These returns include the East India Dock Company.

COFFEE.—Notwithstanding the supplies this year up to the end of last month, exceeds those of 1835, the total stock is about 230 tons less than on the 1st Sept. last year. In the East India descriptions there is still nothing doing by the shippers, and the demand for home consumption being very trifling, the market was dull all the week, yet the holders have been very firm in demanding previous rates; parcels of good ordinary Ceylon, subject to the 6d. duty, have been sold privately to the grocers at 88s. per cwt., and at public sale 1060 bags subject to the 9d. duty, were principally taken in; good fair bright greenish pale at 60s; a small quantity of good even yellowish sold at 61s. 6d., and about 220 bags of good fair even greenish were sold at 61s. per cwt., 76 bales of Mocha have been offered at auction, all of which was taken in at 77s. 6d. for good middling yellowish clean garbled. 42 bags ordinary country damaged Samarang were also brought forward and sold at 45s. 6d. being its full value. The total stock of East India Coffee as compared with that of 1835 at this time, shows a deficiency of about 1200 tons. The Foreign market continues quiet, but last week's prices have been maintained; about 800 bags of Brazil of ordinary to colory good ordinary quality have been sold at 51s. 6d. to 53s. per cwt., and some parcels of good ordinary colory St. Domingo, at 53s. The total stock at the close of August, compared with that at the same time last year, is about 2200 tons less.

COFFEE is sold in bond; the business is done in the public market, either by public sale or private contract. The terms are—E. I. and W. I. British Plantation, 1 month, 1 per cent. discount, allowing 4 per cent. for cash; East India at a prompt of three months from the day of sale without discount; Foreign 1 month, 2½ per cent. discount, and 4 per cent. for cash. The tares are the same as allowed by the Revenue. The draft on B. P. namely, casks of 5 cwt. and upwards, 5 lbs.; under 5 cwt. 4 lbs.; barrels and bags 2 lbs.; Foreign and East India 1 lb.

RICE.—Carolina is sold duty paid, but the consumption is small on account of the heavy duty. East India is sold in bond.

The business done privately in East India Rice during the week amounts to 3000 to 4000 bags at 14s. 6d. to 15s. 6d. for ordinary to good white Bengal.

Tea may be imported into the United Kingdom, from the Cape of Good Hope, and from places eastward of the same to the Straits of Magellan, but not from any other place.

SILK.—There continues a steady demand for all kinds of Italian Silk, as well as East India, and the late prices are firmly maintained. The arrivals this week of China Silk, amount to nearly 300 bales Taysam and Tsatlee, they are now landing.

WOOL.—The large public auctions of colonial Wool, commenced amidst a numerous assemblage of the trade and manufacturers on Wednesday with the sale of 720 bales by Messrs. Marsh and Edinborough, and went off at very fair prices, about 1d. per lb. under the former sales, which may be attributed to the Wools not being so clean washed as former parcels, and which was owing to the shortness of water in Australia, where many flocks could not be washed on that account, and will consequently give the appearance of a depreciation in prices. Australian, first quality, in fair condition, sold 2s. 4d. to 2s. 9d. per lb., second quality ditto at 2s. to 2s. 7d., and third quality, half washed at 1s. 6d. to 2s. per lb. Cape, first quality sold at 2s. 5d. to 2s. 7½d., second quality at 1s. 10d. to 2s. 3½d., and third quality 1s. 1½d. to 2s. 3½d. inferior went at 4d. to 11d. per lb.

Since the commencement of the large public sales of Colonial Wool, there has been a better attendance of buyers from the manufacturing districts, and, although the Wools are all selling, still there is not so much spirit shown as at the last public sales about six weeks ago; the prices, however, are much the same as those then obtained, taking into consideration the quality and condition of the flocks generally, the better qualities of Australian are fetching from 2s. 4d. to 2s. 10d., and the inferior and in the grease 1s. to 2s. 2d. per lb. The Van Diemen's Land according to quality is going from 1s. 2d. to 2s. 2d. per lb. Some parcels of German, of fair quality, have brought 2s. 1d. to 2s. 8½d. per lb.

Up to this afternoon the quantity passed the hammer was about 6000 bales.

Tobacco sold in bond, may be imported and manufactured for 5 years, at an expense of only 4s. per hhd., and re-shipped without paying any duty, subject to an allowance of shrinkage from the seller to the buyer of 30 lb. per hhd., on Virginia and Kentucky, and 15 lb. per hhd. on Maryland, on the landing weights; the draft of the former 8lb., and the latter 4lb., with a trett on all sorts of 4 lb. per 104 lb. When taken out for Home Consumption pays a duty of 3s. per lb. (2s. 9d. B. P.) with the same allowances of draft and trett as for exportation, but the duty is charged on the nett weight. Manufactured Tobacco or Segars pays a duty of 9s. per lb.

TURPENTINE.—The import in the past 8 months were 73,300 barrels, against 36,400 in 1835, 52,902 in 1834, to the same period. There have again been heavy arrivals, the imports in August being 16,700 barrels, but the demand having improved and the distillers having a good sale for Spirits, an advance of 1s. 6d. to 2s. per cwt. has recently been established, and the market remains steady at this improvement.

State of Trade in the Manufacturing Districts.

YORKSHIRE.—The supply of goods in the Cloth-halls last week was scanty, and the business done inconsiderable, but in the warehouses it continued brisk. No alteration at Bradford. Prices remain firm, with the prospect of a still further advance: but it is said the merchants will resist it. The yarn and wool markets continue to be in a healthy and improving condition. At Halifax, a good deal of business has been done in the wool market. Middle wethers remain at £17 10s. per pack. The wool markets at Wakefield and York continue steady, with no advance of prices.

At Newtown Flannel Mart, on Thursday last an attempt on the part of buyers to hold out at lower prices, caused flatness in the early part of the morning, but they were not submitted to, and the whole was cleared off by noon. Since nett measures was established at this mart, the number of buyers have considerably increased, measures of pieces being no longer mystified, the sworn measurer serving all alike.—Sept. 13.

COLONIAL OFFICE,

Cape Town, 24th Nov. 1836.

THE following Notice is published for general information, at the request of the Right Honorable the Governor of Bengal:—

LIGHT AT FALSE POINT—BAY OF BENGAL.

NOTICE.

REFERING to the Notice published from this Office under date 21st January last, communicating the abandonment of the Light at Point Palmyras—Notice is hereby given, that on the 1st day of March 1837, a Light will be exhibited at False Point on a building to be there erected.

The Light House will stand in Latitude 20° 19 25 N., and Longitude 86° 48 8 E. During the S. W. Monsoon of the year 1837, the Light will be exhibited from an elevation of about 65 feet above high water mark, and be visible in clear weather at a distance of about 13 miles from an elevation of 15 feet above the surface of the sea.

The Light will be continued at this height until the end of November, after which it will be discontinued, in order to the removal of the Lantern to the top of the building. It will subsequently, viz. on and after the 1st March 1838, be again exhibited at an elevation of 120 feet above high water mark, and be then visible from 18 to 20 miles in clear weather from the height of 15 feet from the surface of the sea.

The Pilot's Station will be continued as heretofore off Point Palmyras during the S. W. Monsoon, that is, from the 15th of March to the 15th September, during which period the Pilot Vessels cruize during the day off the Point, anchoring during the night in a Line East and West in Latitude 20° 42 to 20° 48 N. with the Point bearing W. to W. by S., the Vessel, on board of which the next turn Pilot may be, will burn a Blue Light and fire a Maroon alternately every half-hour, commencing with the former at eight o'clock and continuing till daylight.

Commanders on making the Light on False Point are recommended after bringing it to bear West in from 13 to 14 fathoms to steer to the N. E., keeping in from 13 to 18 fathoms as the wind may hang to the Westward or Eastward—on no account coming under the former depth. In this tract the Blue Light and Maroon above-mentioned will be seen long before the Light on False Point is lost sight of. If, however, about the beginning of September the wind comes from the Eastward or the weather assumes a threatening appearance, the Pilot Vessels necessarily haul off to the Eastward, and will then be found in a Line between Point Palmyras and the Floating Light at the entrance of the Eastern Channel. Vessels therefore about that period if the wind hangs to the Eastward, or has a threatening appearance, are recommended, after leaving False Point, on no account to approach Point Palmyras, but rather to endeavour to make for the Floating Light at the entrance of the Eastern Channel; and it is further notified, that from the 15th September no Pilot Vessel will be found to the Westward of the Western Sea Reef.

From the 15th September to the 15th March, the Pilot Vessels cruize during the day between Saugor Sand and the Western Sea Reef, anchoring in the night East and West of each other in Latitude 21° to 21° 10 North.

Vessels approaching either Station during the day are requested to make for that Vessel on board of which they will see a large Red Flag flying at the main whenever they can do so without great inconvenience or delay. In the night during the N. E. Monsoon, that is, from 15th Sept. to 15th March, at the Floating Light Station at the entrance of the Eastern Channel, the Vessel having the next turn Pilot on board will burn a Maroon every hour, and in thick weather every half hour, and as before stated at the Point Palmyras Station during the S. W. Monsoon, or between 15th March and 15th September, such Vessel will alternately burn a Blue Light and Maroon every half hour. Commanders are in like manner requested during the night to seek their Pilot from such Vessel, it being however understood that any Pilot Vessel which may be first seen is bound immediately to use every exertion to put a Pilot on board night or day without reference to turn or rotation, and that this latter is only allowed when no delay is occasioned thereby.

Public attention is drawn to the following Official Notice from the General Post Office in London, respecting the receipt and transmission of Newspapers, to and from the Colonies and the United Kingdom severally. The "Gazette and Trade List" is of course, included in this regulation; and as its Shipping and Commercial Information is relied upon in England, by persons connected with the Cape and Indian Trade,—the low charge of ONE PENNY for its conveyance to any part of Great Britain by Post will enable our Mercantile Subscribers to send it to their Correspondents regularly:—

NOTICE.

NEWSPAPERS.—UNITED KINGDOM.

PRINTED Newspapers liable to the Stamp Duty, and duly stamped, which have passed, or which are to pass, by the General Post within the United Kingdom, will be delivered free of all charge, being no longer subject to penny or two penny post rates as heretofore.

Newspapers not having passed, or to pass, through the General Post, but which are put into, and delivered through, the penny or twopenny post of any city, town, or place, will be charged one penny each on delivery.

British Colonies and Possessions.—Printed newspapers, duly stamped, addressed, to any of His Majesty's colonies and possessions beyond sea, sent by His Majesty's packets, will be forwarded free of charge: if to be sent by private ships, a postage of one penny each must be paid on putting the mimo a post-office.

Newspapers sent to India, the Cape of Good Hope, New South Wales, &c., will no longer be charged by weight, but one penny each.

Newspapers printed in the British colonies and possessions, brought to the United Kingdom by His Majesty's packets, will be delivered free of charge: if brought by private ships, they will be charged one penny each on delivery.

Newspapers may be sent from one British Colony to another, via the United Kingdom, by His Majesty's packets, free of postage.

Foreign Parts.—Printed newspapers, duly stamped, addressed to the undermentioned countries and places, may be forwarded by His Majesty's packets free of charges, viz:—France, Hamburgh, Bremen, Denmark, Greece, Corfu and Ionian Islands, Buenos Ayres, Columbia, Caracces, Carthagena, Begota, Hayti or St. Domingo: if sent by private ships, one penny each must be paid on putting them into a post-office.

Newspapers published in any of the aforenamed countries and places, and brought by His Majesty's packets, will be delivered free of charge, except those of France, which are liable to one halfpenny each on delivery: if brought by private ships, they will be charged one penny each.

Printed newspapers, duly stamped, and sent by His Majesty's packets, or by private ships, to other foreign countries and places not enumerated in the preceding list, must be charged two pence each when put into the post. Newspapers from such countries, brought into the United Kingdom by His Majesty's packets, or by private ships, will be charged twopence each upon delivery

Newspapers intended to be sent either to the British colonies and possessions, or to foreign parts, must be put into the post within seven days after the day on which they were published; and foreign newspapers must be printed in the language of the country from which they have been forwarded. On failure of either of these provisions they will be charged as letters.

If the person to whom a newspaper from the British Colonies or from foreign parts is directed shall have removed from the place to which the newspaper shall be addressed prior to the delivery thereof at the place of its address, it may (provided it has not been opened or used, but not otherwise) be re-directed and forwarded to such person at any other place within the United Kingdom free of any additional charge; but if it shall have been opened or used it will, on re-direction, be charged with the rate of a single letter from the place at which it shall have been re-directed or re-posted to the place where delivered.

General Regulations.—All newspapers forwarded by post must be sent without covers, or in covers open at the sides; they are otherwise chargeable with postage as letters.

Newspapers, British or foreign, containing any letter, paper, or thing enclosed, or with any writing or marks of reference or information whatever upon them, or upon the covers, other than the address, will be charged with treble the duty of letter postage.

Postmasters are authorised and required to examine and search all newspapers, to protect the revenue from fraud; and the Postmaster-General is empowered by the act of Parliament to proceed against parties attempting any frauds upon the revenue through the medium of newspapers.

By command.

NOTICE TO CAPTAINS OF SHIPS.

THE Undersigned offers to supply Captains of Ships anchoring in TABLE BAY, with fat Beef and Mutton, at One Skilling or 2½*d. per 2 lbs.*; also, good Salt Beef, and Live Sheep, on the most reasonable terms, Sheep at 4 Rds. each; provided payment of the Bills, on the departure of the Vessels, be made direct to him; which Captains will find greatly to their advantage, as the enormous percentage demanded by some Agents, Agents' Clerks, and Shippers, occasions the price to be much higher, without any advantage to either the Seller or Purchaser.

I also wish that the Captains would attend themselves at either of the Shambles, from Nos. 1 to 12, where they would find, by dealing personally, an advantage of more than 100 per cent.; likewise of being served with Meat of the best quality.

COLONIAL OFFICE,

Cape Town, 24th Nov. 1836.

THE following Notice is published for general information, at the request of the Right Honorable the Governor of Bengal :—

LIGHT AT FALSE POINT—BAY OF BENGAL.
NOTICE.

REFERING to the Notice published from this Office under date 21st January last, communicating the abandonment of the Light at Point Palmyras—Notice is hereby given, that on the 1st day of March 1837, a Light will be exhibited at False Point on a building to be there erected.

The Light House will stand in Latitude 20° 19 25 N., and Longitude 86° 48 8 E. During the S. W. Monsoon of the year 1837, the Light will be exhibited from an elevation of about 65 feet above high water mark, and be visible in clear weather at a distance of about 13 miles from an elevation of 15 feet above the surface of the sea.

The Light will be continued at this height until the end of November, after which it will be discontinued, in order to the removal of the Lantern to the top of the building. It will subsequently, viz. on and after the 1st March 1838, be again exhibited at an elevation of 120 feet above high water mark, and be then visible from 18 to 20 miles in clear weather from the height of 15 feet from the surface of the sea.

The Pilot's Station will be continued as heretofore off Point Palmyras during the S. W. Monsoon, that is, from the 15th of March to the 15th September, during which period the Pilot Vessels cruize during the day off the Point, anchoring during the night in a Line East and West in Latitude 20° 42 to 20° 48 N. with the Point bearing W. to W. by S., the Vessel, on board of which the next turn Pilot may be, will burn a Blue Light and fire a Maroon alternately every half-hour, commencing with the former at eight o'clock and continuing till daylight.

Commanders on making the Light on False Point are recommended after bringing it to bear West in from 13 to 14 fathoms to steer to the N. E., keeping in from 13 to 18 fathoms as the wind may hang to the Westward or Eastward—on no account coming under the former depth. In this tract the Blue Light and Maroon above-mentioned will be seen long before the Light on False Point is lost sight of. If, however, about the beginning of September the wind comes from the Eastward or the weather assumes a threatening appearance, the Pilot Vessels necessarily haul off to the Eastward, and will then be found in a Line between Point Palmyras and the Floating Light at the entrance of the Eastern Channel. Vessels therefore about that period if the wind hangs to the Eastward, or has a threatening appearance, are recommended, after leaving False Point, on no account to approach Point Palmyras, but rather to endeavour to make for the Floating Light at the entrance of the Eastern Channel; and it is further notified, that from the 15th September no Pilot Vessel will be found to the Westward of the Western Sea Reef.

From the 15th September to the 15th March, the Pilot Vessels cruize during the day between Saugor Sand and the Western Sea Reef, anchoring in the night East and West of each other in Latitude 21° to 21° 10 North.

Vessels approaching either Station during the day are requested to make for that Vessel on board of which they will see a large Red Flag flying at the main whenever they can do so without great inconvenience or delay. In the night during the N. E. Monsoon, that is, from 15th Sept. to 15th March, at the Floating Light Station at the entrance of the Eastern Channel, the Vessel having the next turn Pilot on board will burn a Maroon every hour, and in thick weather every half hour, and as before stated at the Point Palmyras Station during the S. W. Monsoon, or between 15th March and 15th September, such Vessel will alternately burn a Blue Light and Maroon every half hour. Commanders are in like manner requested during the night to seek their Pilot from such Vessel, it being however understood that any Pilot Vessel which may be first seen is bound immediately to use every exertion to put a Pilot on board night or day without reference to turn or rotation, and that this latter is only allowed when no delay is occasioned thereby.

By Order of the Marine Board,
G. B. GREENLAW, Secretary.

Saxon method of Soaking and Washing Sheep.

(From the "Hobart Town Courier.")

"When the sheep are to be washed, two long poles, supported by stakes driven into the ground, and to which the poles are strongly tied with ropes, are placed quite across the river about 4 feet apart from each other, so as to admit of not more than one sheep to pass at a time; to the stakes which support the lower pole against the current of the river, are fixed ladders which reach the whole way across; the ladders are supported on their lower sides by other stakes, to which they are firmly tied, so as to remain flat on the surface of the water, boards are placed on the ladders for men to stand upon—at the side of the river where the sheep are to be thrown in, a yard is made with strong hurdles 15 feet long, wide at the top, and gradually narrowing till it reaches the poles in the river, where it is not wider than the space between the poles, namely 4 feet—at this end a wooden platform projecting 2 or 3 feet over the bank of the river, enclosed on each side by part of the hurdles composing the yard is fixed, from which the sheep are thrown into the water.

All being now ready, the evening before the sheep are to be washed, they are driven into the above mentioned yard for the purpose of being soaked, which is done as follows—7 or 8 men with long forked poles in their hands, take their places at equal distances on the boards placed upon the ladders the whole way across the river—at the end where the sheep come out, one man stands in the water—a portion of the sheep are now driven, or rather follow the shepherd towards the platform, and a hurdle is placed behind them from side to side to separate them from the rest of the sheep—the shepherd standing on the platform catches a sheep and throws it into the water, which the nearest man on the ladder putting the fork of the pole across its neck shoves under the water and forwards to the next who does the same, and so on until it reaches the last man, then the man standing in the river washes it with his hands and conducts it out—as soon as the first sheep thrown in passes the first man, another is thrown in, and so on till the whole is done. This operation is again repeated, so that every sheep is made to swim across the river twice; after which they are taken to the sheep house and shut up for the night.

The next morning the washing takes place, which is done precisely in the same way with the exception that there are four men in the water instead of one, each of whom washes every sheep after it has passed the last man standing on the ladder before it is let out of the water—this is also repeated twice, with an interval of half an hour or more between each washing, during which time the men eat their dinner.

After the second washing is over, which may be about one o'clock, the sheep are taken to their pasture by the shepherd who brings them home in the evening before the dew falls, and shuts them up in their house well littered with clean straw. If the weather is fine, only one day besides that on which they are washed is allowed them for to dry, but as they are never allowed to go out of the house in wet weather, and being shut up every night before the dew falls, and not let out till it is off the ground in the morning, it is sufficient, added to which the great heat caused by so many being crowded together creates a perspiration which contributes much to the drying, and also causes the yolk or grease to rise.

The shearing is all performed by women, who shear from 15 to 20 sheep a day—they sit on the grass in the open air, and the sheep are carried to them. Before they commence the shearing, they tie the two fore legs together, and then the two hind ones to prevent their kicking. As the sheep are shorn, each fleece is carefully taken up and placed on cloths spread on the grass, from whence they are carried to large tables where there are three men who pick off the breech and coarse locks; the fleeces are then spread out on the table, the outside uppermost, and from 7 to 9 are placed on one another according to their size; the sides of the fleeces are turned over till they meet, and then the fleeces are rolled up from one end to the other—the bundle thus formed is tied as tight as they can on the four sides with strong cord such as is used for window sashes, and is fit for market. The fleeces seldom average more than two pounds each.

N.B.—The whole flock is sheared in one day."

Tullochgorum, Fingall, 19th March 1836.

You will remark how well the comfort of both men and sheep is provided by the German plan of washing, &c., and I have this season found it successful to my utmost expectation.—I received the paper in time only for a part of my flocks, the wool from that part has been shipped in as clean, and white a state, outside as well as inside of the fleece, as the paper I am now writing on, while the yolk was produced by the sweating dry process, in abundance to dry the wool, I consider, for any length of time, subject to all the vicissitudes of a long voyage to Europe. Not having had time to make the full preparations this season, I adopted the plan with this exception—the sheep were only once in the water, but then made perfectly clean—the same evening I housed them, sent them to feed the whole of the following day, and next morning commenced to shear. The only obstacle to the perfect adoption of the plan here, I conceive, will be with several the want of sheep shearers in number sufficient to dispatch the work, the sheep ought not to go out till shorn, after commencing the flock, but let all wool growers encourage every man (and they are in general most willing to work) to learn to shear, and he will in a manner be soon independent of hired shearers, who are some times saucy enough in all countries. For the want of a proper sheep house this season, I was compelled to house the animals partly in the end of the wool house, and barn, and I am not aware of the loss of one head out of about 2000 at different periods while undergoing the drying process, although of course the sheep must be crowded a good deal to superinduce the sweating, and create the animal secretion called yolk.

I am now about to build a sheep house of about 200 feet long by 15 wide, which will accommodate a considerable flock at any time, and the space can always be constructed so as to crowd to any degree consistent with prudence. I consider the expense of this building will be defrayed by the enhanced price of the wool in the course of two seasons, and I advise every flock master to do the same in proportions suited to the extent of his flocks. If I were to offer any suggestion of my own, in addition, or as a substitute for part of the German plan of washing, &c., it would be this. In most situations adopted for sheep washing there will be found at hand clay soil, in this open a large hole sufficient for a good sized pond, it will be sure to fill with water during the winter, and the clay bottom will prevent filtration, at least till the washing season—the pond may be made in the manner of a canal, about 12 or 15 feet wide, and as long as one pleases. Enclose it with hurdles, or a fixed fence, on the morning of washing drench the sheep into it at one end, and let them swim to the other to get out;—if the running stream, which I think absolutely necessary to clean wool properly, is not far distant from the clay pit, hurdles may be placed to make an avenue for the sheep to walk on, to the bank of the stream, where they are to be thrown in carefully into a small yard made in the water, and there swim about for five minutes, or from that to 10, when they will become by rubbing against each other as white as snow. I conceive the clayed water will have the same scouring effect in the fleece as fullers earth on new woven cloth, and the clear running stream will carry all filth away cleverly. By these means there will be only one day, a part of a day occupied in washing, and if this is got through early, the remainder of the day, if fine, and dry, with the sweating process at night will be sufficient to prepare the fleece for the shears.—I may add that I consider the sweating of advantage to the health of the sheep, it will operate as a bath of warm water, or vapour, and so open the pores which must be frequently obstructed by the cold water, and thus prevent the animals from many diseases, including blindness, which cold frequently causes almost instantly.

LONDON COMMERCIAL RETROSPECT.—Oct. 3.

In the Colonial Markets throughout the past week much inactivity has again prevailed; all articles, with the exception of Raw Sugar for home consumption, have been extremely languid, particularly Coffee, and prices of almost all kinds of produce have a tendency to decline. The number of vessels which have entered this port since our last has been considerable, and many of them are from our West India possessions with Sugar, and a large quantity of Coffee. The export trade, however, has been exceedingly dull, and less produce has been shipped from this port than for some time past.

The prices of West India Raw Sugar advanced last week, and more business was done than in previous weeks, the sales being about 2,800 hhds. and tierces. Mauritius has also gone off with better spirit and at fully former quotations. Bengal at public sale has gone above the previous market currency; whilst for Foreign descriptions there has been scarcely any demand, and the sales made are at reduced prices.—Refined Goods are scarce, and held for former rates, and the grocers and shippers are buyers only of small parcels.—No disposition whatever has been manifested either by the home trade or exporters, to buy British Plantation or East India Coffee at present rates, consequently the transactions have been very inconsiderable. Foreign has sold only in small parcels at former quotations. Cocoa is dull, but not lower.—Rice, both of East India and Foreign growth, has secured a good business at an improvement in value. Rum has gone off with briskness, particularly the Leeward Island descriptions, at advanced prices.—Saltpetre has supported the currency of last week, and a steady business has been done. Spices generally are quiet, but no reduction has in price taken place.—East India Indigo is very flat, and purchases have been made at a discount.—Lac Dye and Cochineal support late quotations, and a fair demand exists.—East India Cotton at the public sales has brought full prices for the better descriptions, whilst the ordinary qualities have gone off with heaviness at a reduction.—Russia tallow is dull and lower.

The Stock Exchange has been in a much better condition last week than before, and much better at the latter end of the week than it was in the beginning; and the prices of Securities, both English and Foreign, show a considerable advance over the prices of former week's. On Monday all the Funds were much depressed, owing to a fear of the movement of Don Carlos on Madrid; and although Mendizabel was at the head of the Finance Department, still the hearts of the bondholders failed them, and the bonds were as low as 20, and it is said they were done at 19. On Tuesday they recovered to 21⅛; on Wednesday they were 21⅛ ⅜, and on Thursday they reached 22⅛ ⅜, on which day the intelligence of the defeat of Gomez, the Carlist general, reached the City. On Friday this news was confirmed, and along with the confirmation, there was the confident impression that the dividends due on Spanish Bonds in November, amounting to £700,000, would be paid. Together, these raised the price of Spanish to 27⅜ ½ and put the whole of the holders of the bonds into great spirits. Those who had held when they were at 20, congratulated themselves on the advance, and the whole face of the Stock Exchange altered. It was also settling day on Friday; the balances were heavy, the Account was a Bear, but all was satisfactorily adjusted. Great purchases of Spanish were made at the lowest prices, by those who thought that things could not possibly be worse, but that they very probably would soon be better. The defeat of Gomez and its confirmation dispersed for the present all fears of Don Carlos. Portuguese Bonds have fluctuated with Spanish, but in them there has not been so much business, nor have they excited the interest which Spanish have.

Money has been more plentiful, and discounts have been easier. Bankers' Bills 4½ to 5 per cent. Merchants' Bills 5 per cent. and 1 commission.

New York papers to the 8th ult have been received. The Cholera was in the States. One of the greatest Railroads that have yet been projected in the world is now in contemplation there. The road is a stretch from Brunswick Harbour, on the coast of Georgia, to Apalacicola River or Bay in Florida. When complete it will supersede the necessity of twelve to fourteen hundred miles of dangerous navigation round Florida Cape, and lessen the distance of travelling with regard to time and extent one half; and will when brought into operation, produce a revolution in the internal trade and communication of the whole of the States.

Accounts from Jamaica state that there would be a great falling off in the produce of the Island; this, however, remains to be seen.

The crops of Paddy, both at Penang and Province Wellesley, are said to be almost total failures Opium in the Penang market was quoted at 616 to 620 dollars cash.

RICE.—At a public sale of 680 bags of Bengal this afternoon, there was a good demand, and all was readily taken at 17s 6d to 18s per cwt, for good bold white, damaged 14s 6d to 15s 6d per cwt. which is fully up to the previous market rates.

TALLOW.—This afternoon the prices of Petersburg Yellow Candle, for home consumption, were again rather easier, 42s 9d having been accepted for best quality

SUGAR.—Notwithstanding the number of vessels that have arrived since our last from the West Indies, with nearly 7,000 hds. &c., consisting chiefly of Jamaica, the market for British Plantation Raw Sugar has presented a more animated appearance than for some week's past; the refining as well as those descriptions suitable for the scale have been in good demand, and the transactions that have taken place are at an advance of 6d per cwt, and in some instances the importers have succeeded in obtaining even a futher advanced:— very good grocery Antiguas have been sold at 70s and 71s, and middling to good ditto at 67s to 69s, middling grocery St. Vincents at 68s; colory greyish Demerara brown Demerara and Jamaica at 66s and 66s 6d. and for a parcel of darkish grey Trinidad, 66s 6d have been refused. The last average price, as contained in the Gazette, was 43s 7½d per cwt. exclusive of duty, and at the corresponding period of 1835, it was computed at 37s 2d per cwt.

The transactions during last week are estimated at 2800 hhds and tierces, low middling brightish Trinidad, for the scale, selling at 67s, very good Antiguas at 71s, and middling bright grocery Tobagos at 68s. per cwt.

LONDON COMMERCIAL RETROSPECT.—OCT. 3.

COFFEE.—The importations of British Plantation last week were considerable, amounting to 1818 casks and 134 tierces: again the importers have not offered a cask at public sale, and by private contract there has not been the least enquiry, the home-trade not being inclined to make purchases anything near the present quotations, in anticipation that from the large quantity we have had, a considerable reduction in prices must take place ere long, consequently the market continues in a very depressed state. East India descriptions are also extremely heavy, and the few transactions that have taken place are confined to small parcels of Ceylon subject to the 9d duty at 54s for fine ordinary, and 86s for similar quality at the 6d duty, but at the latter price it would be difficult to make further purchases.

TEA.—The demand for fine Congous for home consumption continues, and those of the East India Company's last sale command ¼d to 1d per lb. prem. In other kinds of Tea there is no alteration.

RUM.—The demand continues good to-day, and sales were again made at full prices, Jamaicas 31 to 36 per cent over proof at 4s 6d to 4s 8d.

INDIGO.—The market is quiet, the quarterly sales commence to-morrow morning.

TURPENTINE. Rough continues in good demand, and for a cargo of 1000 barrels, just arrived, the trade have paid in advance of 1s per cwt, the prices realized being 18s. The demand for Spirits is still brisk, owing to be continued scarcity, and all that is offered is freely taken at our quoted prices.

OILS.—The Market for the common descriptions of Fish Oils has become quiet, the purchases for home consumption have been exceedingly limited, the prices at present being too high; Pale Seal has sold rather below its previous value in small parcels to the home trade. Southern has given away 15*s* to 20*s* per tun at the public sales, which have offered 220 tuns, nearly all of which was sold; good yellow to pale quality brought 38*l* to 39*l* 10*s*, good light brown 37*l* to 37*l* 10*s* very ordinary to dark brown 30*l* to 36*l* per tun; about one-fourth was taken for exportation only, at 32*l* to 35*l* 4*s* per tun. The holders of Sperm are very firm and have obtained a slight advance, 75 tuns brought to auction were readily taken at 79*l* 15*s* to 81*l* 5*s* for good and fine quality, and 72*l* to 79*l* for inferior to middling quality. Head Matter sold at 83*l* to 83*l* 15*s* per tun. Seed Oils are still dull of sale, and Linseed has sold 6*d* to 1*s* per cwt lower, 38*s* 6*d* to 39*s* having been accepted. Rape has been in but little request, in some instances small parcels of Refined have sold at 50*s* 6*d*, and brown has been sold at a decline of 6*d* to 1*s* per cwt.

CURE FOR SCAB IN FINE WOOLED SHEEP.

To the Editor of the Government Gazette,

SIR,—The extensive circulation which your paper commands as an official organ, and the interest you have taken in disseminating information connected with the management and improvement of Wool Cultivation, induces me to send for insertion the following Recipe and Directions for the treatment of that destructive Disease the SCAB, so common to our flocks of fine Wooled Sheep. They are drawn up, at my request, for my own use and that of the public, by a gentleman who has had long practical experience both in England and New South Wales, and to whom the Colony is deeply indebted for his valuable importations of Australian Saxon Merinos and Cachemere Angora Goats. I need hardly say that I allude to W. H. WARLAND, Esq.

Sir, yours, &c.
JOHN CENTLIVRES CHASE.

Cape Town, 29th December 1836.

Recipe and Directions.

Take of Corrosive Sublimate, - 12 ounces,
And Sal Ammoniæ, - - 6 do.
Pound and dissolve these in scalding water, then add of Turpentine, - - 2 quarts,
And strong Tobacco Water, - 15 to 20 gallons, and mix the ingredients well together.—This quantity is sufficient for dressing one hundred Sheep.

The best vehicle to retain the mixture in, is an iron pot, as it will not be corroded by it.

Stretch out upon a frame of thong (reims) at about two feet from the ground, a Hide, in which the animal is to undergo the operation, it will also prevent the liquid from running off to waste.

The mixture must be kept constantly stirred.

Having first closely shorn such a number as can conveniently be dressed in the day, the mixture is to be applied by the hand with a coarse cloth, rubbed in all over (except the eyes) as hard as possible, taking particular care to miss no part whatever. The animal can be laid down on each side alternately in the stretched Hide described above, while Lambs may be dipped at once in a tub of the liquor of about half the strength of that employed for the grown Sheep.

Should the Scab be very bad, after shearing it must be removed by a curry-comb.

The operation having been completed on the animals now dressed, they must be removed to a clean place, and on no account to come in contact with the other undressed Sheep, or to occupy any old kraal in which diseased Sheep may have been kept. After twelve or fourteen days, the dressed Sheep should be most carefully examined all over, and if any symptoms of the distemper still linger, the parts so affected must be washed with the mixture, a portion of which can be retained for the purpose in bottles. They will require examination every fortnight, for eight or ten weeks, when, by that time, with proper attention, a complete cure will have been effected. The whole flock on a farm should be dressed in one year, or a complete separation made by removal.

The weather in which the dressing is to take place ought to be fine, but in case of rain occurring during the process, the animals ought to be kept under shelter for two days.

If the infection be particularly virulent, it is recommended, directly after the shearing and previous to dressing, that they should be drenched with a mixture, for Rams or large Wethers, per hundred, of

Sulphur, - - 1 lb.
Milk, - - 3 gallons,

and for Ewes, per hundred,

Sulphur, - - 1 lb.
Milk, - - 3 gallons,

This is to be administered in the evening, when they are to be penned up close to induce perspiration; they may be let out to pasture the next morning for an hour or two, but immediately after penned up again until the following day, when the dressing process is to be undergone.

The importance attached to the cleanliness of Sheep, the dread of the extension of this disease and the precautions taken by our fellow Colonists in New South Wales, to provide for its extinction, will appear by the following heads of an Act of the Legislative Council, of that thriving Settlement, passed on the 31st August 1832, for two years, and made perpetual in 1834, Entituled 'An Act for preventing the Extension of the infectious Disease commonly called the Scab in Sheep or Lambs, in the Colony of New South Wales,' and which has been further explained and amended by a subsequent Act of the 9th October 1835, viz:

If any Person shall turn out upon any land, unless belonging to or rented by him, or drive upon any road, any Sheep infected with the Scab, he shall forfeit not more than £10, on conviction before one or more Justices, for each Sheep so turned out or driven.

Sheep, however, may be driven on a public road during the month of February.

Whenever Sheep infected with Scab shall be kept on any land crossed by a public way, notice of such infection to be affixed at each end of the way.

Any Person wilfully setting at large, or abandoning infected Sheep, liable to a penalty of £20.

Persons having charge of infected Sheep, by whose misconduct such infection shall be communicated to the Sheep of any other person, liable to reimburse such other person.

Butchers having infected Sheep or Lambs in their possession for the purpose of slaughtering or exposing the carcase for sale, liable to penalties—and the flesh of all such to be destroyed.

The Preamble to the Act to amend the Provisions of the Act just quoted, says, that having been found highly beneficial in preventing the spread of the Disease in that part of the Colony, to which its operation had been limited, its provision shall extend to all parts of the Territory, and places power in the hands of the Justices to grant warrants for examination of Sheep declared to be diseased upon the oath of a complainant, and even to remove them from their pastures when found to be infected.
